ROOSEVELT WILL AID TAFT IN RACE

PRESIDENT TOLD THAT HIS CANDIDACY RECEIVES COLONEL'S INDORSEMENT.

WHEN MEET AT CARDINAL'S JUBILEE

Report Conveyed to White House is Confirmed—Roosevelt Will Positively Not Be Candidate.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Taft in his candidacy for the Presidential nomination in 1912, will receive the unqualified indorsement of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, which will be uttered just as cordially as it was prior to the campaign of 1908.

This is the best political news Mr. Taft has received in many months and it comes to him in a manner that leaves no doubt as to its authenticity. The information that Colonel Roosevelt under no circumstances will allow his name to be presented to the Republican National convention was conveyed to the White House several days ago, but it did not become known until tonight. That Colonel Roosevelt feels the Taft Administration should be continued was brought out partly as the result of the cordial greeting between the two men at Cardinal Gibbons' jubilee in Baltimore.

Whether the Roosevelt approval of Mr. Taft's candidacy will go far enough to take the ex-President into the campaign as an active stump speaker is problematical, but that the force of his personality will be with the President is assured.

AFFINITY IS REFERRED TO IN SUIT

Divorce Asked By Mrs. McCarty, Who Asserts Husband Knocked Her Down—Threats Also Charged.

Nora Adolphine Davis has filed a suit against James W. Davis for a divorce. They were married July 24, 1892, at Corvallis, Or., and have one son, Tracy Ernest Davis. It is charged by Mrs. Davis that her husband harassed her by talking about women he had met and referred to some woman, unknown to Mrs. Davis, as his next wife.

In the presence of his two married daughters, by a former wife, he is said to have referred to the same woman as his third wife, and told Mrs. Davis that he did not love her and had not cared for her for the past 18 years. By reason of this treatment she says she became nervous and ill and was compelled to leave him. Little Lillie McCarty has filed suit for divorce against William H. McCarty, to whom she was married at Oregon City, March 3, 1909. She says he threatened her with bodily harm and having struck her on October 10 last and on December 2 following he knocked her down, is charged, whereupon she let him and they have lived apart since. The two husbands made a voluntary appearance in both of these cases.

SWEETHEARTS' NIGHT ENDS BANQUET SEASON

The last monthly banquet of the season of the Congregational Brotherhood of this city given Tuesday night was by far the most successful and enjoyable of all the dinners given at the church. And there was a good reason—it was "Sweethearts' Night." The married men were accompanied by their wives and those not married were accompanied by their sweethearts. Ninety partook of the feast furnished by the Ladies Aid Society, and everybody had a good time. The program, as arranged, was not long, but by the time everybody who was called upon, got through speaking it was almost 10 o'clock.

The banquet on "Sweethearts' Night" is the only one which is attended by the ladies, although the Ladies Aid Society always prepares the dinner. E. T. Avison, president, presided, and addresses were made by the following: Rev. Nodell, Portland; Rev. E. S. Bollinger, of Highland Church, Portland; Mrs. Mary Charman, president Ladies Aid Society; Miss Ivy Roake, president Saturday Club; Mrs. E. S. Bollinger, who founded the Saturday Club; Trullinger, secretary of the Brotherhood; Captain C. S. Noble, Mrs. C. H. Dye, C. H. Dye and President Avison. Mrs. Dye invited the members to hold a picnic at the Chautauque club, which begins on July 4.

SUIT CAUSED BY BIG SLUMPI IN HOPS LOST

The suit of W. G. Hall, of Maple Lane, against Mrs. Mary Edgecomb to recover $90, said to be due for merchandise purchased by Mrs. Edgecomb, was decided by a jury in Judge Campbell's Court Tuesday, the case going against Hall. Mrs. Edgecomb owned a lot of hops that she assigned to C. D. Latourette, and Hall accepted an order on Latourette, which released Mrs. Edgecomb from further liability. O. D. Eby appeared for Hall, and Attorney George C. Brownell and William M. Stone represented Mrs. Edgecomb. The following jurors tried the case: Chris Kocher, E. F. Guther, John F. Jennings, L. J. Palmateer, Charles Hattan, S. B. Berg, R. A. Wright, A. P. Todd, J. H. Gerbrich, Adolph Aschoff, W. Kroll and W. H. Kandle.

DEFENDANT WINS IN CASE OF W. G. HALL AGAINST MARY EDGECOMB.

Hall is said to have figured on the price of hops advancing when he accepted the order. The price declined, however, and there was not sufficient money to pay him.

PORTLAND, Or., June 6.—(Special.)

The largest crowd ever gathered in Portland witnessed the magnificent electric parade tonight. It was by far the most dazzling spectacle ever witnessed in the metropolis. There were sixteen floats in line, lighted with 10,000 incandescents.

"Oregon, the Land of a Thousand Wonders," was the pageant's title. The city's most beautiful girls in costumes rode upon the cars, which were a distance of a block apart, with a gorgeously costumed band falling in behind each. They were in the following order:

- Car 1—Rex Oregonus, his scepter extended in benediction over his crowded subjects.
- Car 2—Beacon Before the Dawn, Oregon before the coming of the white man.
- Car 3—Coming of the white man. The Indians stand fearing and wondering, not knowing that it meant their eviction.
- Car 4—The City of Astor and Its Building. The polar bear and Indian pony types of the unconquered country.
- Car 5—Oregon in Morning Glory, Land of a Thousand Wonders.
- Car 6—Reclaiming the Land. Magic returns from irrigation.
- Car 7—Shells of the Ocean, Beauty of Oregon Beaches.
- Car 8—Crater Lake; the wonder of this one is that Oregon's wonderful lake could be so realistically portrayed in a festival float.
- Car 9—Oregon the Paradise of all People.
- Car 10—Pearls of the Pacific, Queen of the Ocean.
- Car 11—Chantecler Crows for Oregon.
- Car 12—Jewel Caves of Oregon, wonders unrealized.
- Car 13—The Lillies of the Field, the Butterflies of Pleasure.
- Car 14—Wealth of Oregon, Untouched Resources, the Golden Egg, rippling streams, crowning breezes, soothing waves of ocean.
- Car 15—Kingdom of Flowers, Queen Rose, Human Rosebuds.
- The electric parade with variations will be repeated Saturday night, in the flashing farewell to Rex Oregonus, king of happiness.
- The most magnificent roses that can be shown anywhere in the world are on exhibit at the Armory. The choicest blooms of Portland's beautiful rose gardens have been gathered to demonstrate to visitors Portland's world leadership in rose culture.
- Thousands of blossoms embowered in green have converted the great Armory drill hall into a brilliant yet restful retreat.
- Competing for the prizes that number every 100 are regal, perfect roses of every shade from deep crimson to pearl white.

The Knights and Ladies of Security met on Monday evening, and it was decided to go to Portland on Thursday evening to participate in the grand parade. The team number 26 will also accompany the order. There was a large attendance at the meeting and four were initiated. A floral offering was sent to the home of the late R. J. Goodfellow, and many members attended the funeral. Mr. Goodfellow was a social member of the order.

TREMBATH INDICTED IN SHOOTING CASE

DEPUTY WATER BAILIFF FACES TRIAL FOR WOUNDING DOUGHTIT.

The grand jury Tuesday returned an indictment against Harry W. Trembath, deputy water bailiff, on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Trembath shot and seriously wounded Alex Doughtit, a fisherman, at the falls of the Willamette early Saturday morning. The testimony of the witnesses and principles in the case is conflicting. Trembath says he did not shoot until he had demanded that Doughtit surrender, alleging that the latter had violated the fish laws in fishing at the ladder.

Doughtit denies that he violated the laws, and declares that Trembath shot without giving warning. The deputy bailiff declares that he did not intend to shoot Doughtit, but fired at the skiff to mark it in order to identify the occupants. Shortly after the shooting John Doughtit, a brother of the wounded man, attacked Trembath in a barber shop, beating him severely.

A. A. BALDWIN PRINCIPAL.

Succeeds C. F. Anderson in West Oregon City School.

He will this summer take a course of lectures for supervisors at the University of Oregon.

Justice of Peace Surprised By One of His Schoolmates.
Oliver and Lake Wolford, of Colfax, Wash., were in Oregon City Tuesday visiting Justice of the Peace Samson. The Messrs. Wolford and Mr. Samson were school mates at Silverton thirty-five years ago, and until the former surprised him in his office Mr. Samson had not seen Oliver Wolford since they left school. While visiting in Portland Mr. Wolford heard that Mr. Samson was living in Oregon City, and he lost no time in hunting up his old playmate.

Attends First Employer's Funeral.

Justice of the Peace Samson went to Rock Creek today to attend the funeral of his first employer, Charles Winston Noblitt, the pioneer, who died Monday. Mr. Samson when only nine years old, drove an ox team for Mr. Noblitt on the latter's farm.

OREGON CITY CHANGES TO "SPOTLESS TOWN"

COMBINATION OF ORDERS WORKS WONDERS HERE IN FEW DAYS.

Oregon City is the "spotless town" all right for the present. The city was never cleaner, and bids fair to remain that way for sometime. It was done at a minimum of expense, although some housekeepers and store-owners, to say nothing of two husky members of the genus homo, who became entangled in the meshes of the law, will declare it was through a maximum of effort.

FIRE STARTS PANIC AS PARADE PASSES

PORTLAND, Or., June 6.—(Special.)—Fire which started in the Hanover apartment house, 165 King street, while the electric parade was traversing the principal business streets to-night, and spread to adjoining apartment buildings, caused damage estimated at $100,000. The fire caused a panic among the crowds watching the parade.

J. E. Montague, the man who discovered the fire, rescued Mrs. Blyke, aged 86, who was living on the fifth floor, and who was the only occupant of the building at the time, besides himself. Mr. Montague smelled smoke while sitting on the fourth floor balcony. Going inside he noticed flames and smoke shooting up the elevator shaft. Remembering the aged woman on the top floor, he rushed up a flight of stairs, gathered her in his arms and hurried down.
