-The picturesque shower of roses was the dominant feature of the Fesscale than has been done in former years, and by actual count more than 1000,000 freshly-cut roses from the News, Peninsula garden were thrown away in carpeting the streets along the route of the shower.

Estimated at only 10 cents apiece, these beautiful blooms would have cost $10,000, yet this riotous extravagance with Portland's floral queen was grasped by the throng further than to gasp in astonishment that any city in the world dared profane the fragrant rose by scattering to the four winds in such multitude.

The children, rarest rosebuds in a city of perfect bloom, caused Grand avenue to blossom out with their fragrant innocence and beauty this afternoon. The greatest crowd of the Rose Festival witnessed the pageant. Costumed in the bright and glowing colors of the flowers they imitate, the children from all but two East Side schools marched over gorgeous Grand avenue, 4500 strong.

In the Human Rosebud parade was given all the beauty the flowers possess, and this additional animated life. Fireworks were given at the Oaks

"After a day's hard work we have nothing tangible to work upon That the crime was premeditated there is no doubt. But the man who committed it was careful to leave no trace behind. We found a napkin and a cloth, which were bloodstained, but there were no finger prints upon them. There were no finger prints on any of the furniture, the windows, doors or any part of the house. There were no stains upon the handle of the ax with which the crime was committed." Sellwood Man Sought.

The Hills lived in Sellwood before moving to the home where the tragedy was enacted, and Sheriff Mass is inclined to the opinion that the crime was committed by someone, who had known or had seen them there. As a matter of fact the only thing that in any way resembles a clue is connected with a young man of that place. But if he is the slayer he stands out as the boidest in the annals of criminology. While Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Sheriff Leonard, of Multnomah County, and Detectives Price and Carpenter, of Portland, were awaiting the arrival of the authorities of Clackamas county, their attention was ed and surveyed the premises. directed to a man who was question-PORTLAND, Or., June 9.- (Special.) know if there was any clue to the identity of the slayer and dotted down notes as he questioned various persons. Man Finally Disappears.

A reporter for the Daily News was present, and upon being told this, the man became confused and said that he was "merely gathering the news, but refused to give his object. He disappeared shortly afterward, and the police have since tried to find without success.

Corner Fox held an inquest last night, the jury returning a verdict that the family was slain "with a blunt instrument by a person or persons unknown to them." Dr. Mount held an autopsy, and the remains were then removed to an undertaking establishment in Portland.

Little is known of Hill. He was a plumber and met Mrs. Rintoul while she was living at Marysville, where she was in the millinery business. Hill is said to have been married before, but whether his former wife is living is not known.

Sheriff Mass telegraphed Governor West last night asking him to offer a reward for the capture of the slayer. Clackamas County is expected to offer a reward today.

OMAHA TO HOLD BIG TENNIS EVENT

National Clay Court Championships to Be Held Aug. 5 to 12.

RECORD ENTRY LIST EXPECTED

Over One Hundred and Seventy Experts From Different Sections of the Country Have Announced Their Intention of Competing In the Event.

Judging by present indications the national clay court tennis champlouships to be held in Omaha Aug. 5 to 12 will be the greatest ever held. Already over 175 racket experts from different sections of the country have announced their intention of competing in the different events.

With an entry list of 103 players, the first clay court national event last year made its mark as the greatest of the kind ever held. The comparison between that record and what is promised for the coming tourney shows that the approaching event will be at the limit of resente possibilities.

It is reported that the Pacific Coast Tennis, association will send a classy delegation to Omaha. The delegation is to travel eastward first and engage in contests beyond the Mississippi river. It will be composed of Bundy, McLaughlin, Summer, Hardy and Miss Hotchkiss The men, it is almost assured, will swing back to Omaha from Chicago after the event in the last named city, which occurs the week before the Omaha tourney.

Melville Long of San Francisco. present holder of the clay court champlonship, will of course be on hand at the meet to defend his title against all comers. There is a mighty fine chance of the redoubtable Long relinquishing the coveted prize, too, according to a great many enthusiasts who are in on the "know," their beliefs being applied to three or four speedy racket men from the east and south. It is expected that Champion William A. Larned, Beals Wright, William J. Clothler and several other big eastern men will be on hand.

One of the fortunate features of the approaching national tourney is the fact that it occurs at a time when there is no other meeting of tennis men to conflict.
