

HEAT PROSTRATES SCORES; 11 DEAD

THOUSANDS OF CHICAGO WORKERS SEEK RELIEF IN PARKS.

CITY'S STREETS LIKE HUGE OVENS

Excursion Steamers Do Big Business Taking Sufferers to Many Out-of-Town Resorts.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Scores have been prostrated and eleven are dead as a result of a heat wave. Among those prostrated were Mrs. Mary A. Casey, who settled in Chicago when the Indians were here. She was 80 years old and was a sister of General Robert W. Healy, U. S. A., and James T. Healy, former United States ambassador here.

After a night that gave little relief, with the mercury standing at 83 degrees at midnight, Chicago was like an oven early today.

Thousands of downtown workers, released by Saturday holiday precedent, flocked through the torrid cautions between the loop office buildings at noon and hurried to the parks, the excursion steamers and places where are dispensed temporarily cooling drinks.

The dead in today's heat wave are: Margaret Galfriend, died suddenly at home; William Seyo, 62 years old, died after falling over a railing at his home while dizzy as the result of heat; Mrs. Mary A. Casey, 80 years old, died at her home from the heat; Mrs. A. Klingbell, 76 years old, fell downstairs while faint from heat and was instantly killed; Mrs. L. Kibba, 60 years old, fell downstairs after being overcome by heat and died soon afterward; Julia Laughlin, died suddenly after complaining of the heat; Mrs. Catherine Quarry, 70 years old, died at home; Eva Chise, died after being overcome by heat; Mrs. Cella Kriete, 53 years old, prostrated at Wilson and Evanston avenues, died at Ravenswood Hospital, Mrs. Susan Miller, 35 years old; Frank E. Morris, 46 years old, desk sergeant at Deering Street Police Station.

2 ARRESTED IN BIG CRIME

SUSPECT HELD HERE IS SILENT DURING MOST TRYING ORDEAL.

POSSIBLE THAT HE IS SHAMMING

Prisoner At Hillsboro Declares That He Is Portland Business Man—Women Annoyed By Him.

With two suspects under arrest, but with virtually no incriminating evidence against them, the police authorities of Clackamas and Multnomah counties are still without a tangible clue as to the identity of the slayer of William Hill, his wife, and the latter's two little children by a former husband at their home near Ardenwald station. Every sheriff, deputy sheriff and police officer throughout the state has been searching for the fugitive, but without avail. That a man could commit such a shocking crime, and escape without leaving the slightest clue is amazing to even the police authorities, and although the slayer has had plenty time in which to get far away from the scene of the crime with the passing of each hour, a more determined effort is made to capture him.

Little Evidence Against Men.

The suspects under arrest are Eugene Kichtlinger, of Portland, at Hillsboro, Washington County, and a man in Oregon City, who has from the time of his capture refused to answer any questions. Whether he can speak and will not, or is a mute, the police are undecided. That he can hear is evidenced by the fact that he does whatever he is told to do. The authorities say the evidence against Kichtlinger is more damaging than against the man here, and Sheriff Mass will probably go to Hillsboro today to question the prisoner. Miles arrested the prisoner, in jail here, Saturday afternoon on the tracks of the Southern Pacific near Milwaukie. When approached by the deputy sheriff the man at first refused to talk. Finally he stopped, but when asked by the deputy sheriff where he was going and his name he made no reply. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Kelso, who also was unable to obtain anything from him. Miles then brought his prisoner to Oregon City, and for five hours the local authorities tried to make him talk, but without success.

Man Refuses to Talk.

Sheriff Stevens and Deputy Sheriff Leonard, of Multnomah County, who have been working with the Clackamas County authorities on the mystery, came to Oregon City last night, and after the prisoner through the "third degree," but this did not cause him to break his long silence. About every three minutes he would walk to the wash-basin in the sheriff's office and take a drink of water, and when told to stand up or sit down he would do so. When shown the six with which the Hill family was slain and the bodies he did not change expression in the least. The prisoner was thoroughly examined and the only spots found on his clothing were on the front of his coat. These could have been made by blood, it is thought, but they look more like ordinary grease spots. The spots, however, will be given a more careful examination.

Prisoner May Be Shamming.

Sheriff Stevens, upon his departure for Portland, said that the man was a strange character, and advised that he be held for further developments. He thought the prisoner was either suffering from a temporary mental derangement or was shamming. If the latter is the case, he, in all probability knows something about the quadruple crime that has shocked the state. Sheriff Stevens admitted that the suspect was one of the most stubborn men he had ever encountered in his work of ferreting out criminals.

Suspect Poorly Dressed.

The suspect is poorly dressed, about five feet eight inches tall, and weighs about 135 pounds. When captured he wore two pairs of trousers, two shirts, and in his hip pockets he carried an extra pair of shoes which are too small for him. The authorities, however, could not connect them in any way with any member of the Hill family. The man had ninety-five cents, a small coil of wire, a blue handkerchief, and several small sea shells were found in one of his pockets. His hair is sandy and his stubby beard and mustache are badly in need of attention.

Sheriff Mass in his conversation last night with Sheriff Hancock, of Hillsboro, was informed as to the actions of Kichtlinger. The man had been acting strangely in the outskirts of the town and several women complained that he annoyed them. He was trying to make his escape when Sheriff Hancock in his automobile overhauled him. A notebook containing the names and addresses of sev-

Kodak, for Instance.

The policy of any store is a matter of importance to every customer of that store. Some retailers buy always in the cheapest market. Our policy is to buy rather in the dependable market, to stock goods that we can hand with confidence to our customers. For instance: In the photographic line we cleave to the Kodak goods, because we are sure they are right.

Take the Folding Pocket Kodak

They are now and for years have been the leaders in the hand camera field. Kodak simplified photography and the folding Pockets simplified the Kodak. They stand for all that is best and simplest in picture making $10 to $20.

NAVAL RESERVE IS PLANNED FOR CITY

MEETING CALLED FOR JUNE 20 TO ORGANIZE LOCAL DIVISION.

CRUISE ON BOSTON PROBABILITY

Reserve Band Promised Often on Drill Nights—E. C. Dye is Placed in Charge of Arrangements.

A cruise to Coos Bay and Puget Sound aboard the United States cruiser Boston with the Portland, Oregon, Divisions of the Naval Reserve is what is held out to the young men of Oregon City who feel the thrills of patriotism tingling through their veins. A meeting has been called for June 20 at 8 p. m., to be held in the Armory here for the purpose of discussing the situation of the Naval Reserve here.

If there are forty men who will enlist a division will be formed here and supplies will be placed in the Armory for the use of the division. E. C. Dye, of Oregon City, who is an Assistant Quartermaster in the Portland Divisions, has been appointed to look up the situation here unofficially and see what can be done in the way of recruiting members for the division.

Division To Be Equipped.

Should the company be organized, the necessary equipment of rifles, field pieces, sabres, boats, etc., will be forthcoming. A launch from the Boston will be stationed at Oregon City, and all drills will be held in the Oregon National Guard Armory. It is planned to drill once a month with the Portland Divisions and the Oregon City Division would have the same privileges of an annual cruise and practical ship service as the Portland Divisions.

In the Portland Divisions are many men from the best walks of life. Mechanics of every kind and all others find it to their advantage to be in the service and it is to the men of Oregon City. The Boston will be the headquarters of all the Oregon Divisions when in Portland and men will find the cruiser a congenial place to make their Portland rendezvous. Club life aboard the cruiser is one of the most interesting features of the organization. The fact is the social opportunities of the Reserve are exceedingly popular and justly so.

Reserve Band To Play.

The reserve band will play for the Oregon City Division on drill night when it can be so arranged. One of the features of this summer's outing aboard the Boston will be a visit to the Astoria Centennial in Portland, Astoria and Coos Bay. Oregon City will come in for the cruise if the division is organized in time. The Boston is the famous flagship of Admiral Dewey.

The call for volunteers in Oregon City asks that those interested send in their names to the Superintendent

NAVY BERRY GROWER IN CITY.

R. S. Coe Says Warm Weather is Ripening Fruit Fast.

R. S. Coe, of Canby, was in this city on Saturday, having come to attend the Rose show. He is a member of the Rose Society. Mr. Coe is one of the prominent strawberry growers of this county, having three acres in strawberry plants, including six varieties, which are Clark's Seedling, Mason's, Gauda, Lovett, Senator Dunlap, Iron and Glad. Mr. Coe will have over two tons of berries this year, and the present weather is ripening them very fast. He will ship berries to this city for the local markets on Monday morning. He made his first shipment last Thursday.

FESTIVAL OVERFLOW FINDS LODGING HERE

VISITORS TO PORTLAND COME TO OREGON CITY TO SLEEP.

That it was with difficulty all visitors to the Portland Rose Festival found accommodations is evidenced by the large number of persons who came to Oregon City each night to get a place to sleep. The local hotels and several boarding houses were filled to their capacity each night with persons who declared that owing to the immense crowds in the metropolis they were unable to obtain accommodations.

The overflow began coming this way Tuesday night, and every night thereafter the last trolley cars and even the Southern Pacific passenger train, which arrives here early in the morning, brought a number of persons. Not one of them complained, however, and all declared that they were lucky in finding accommodations so near to the festival center.

REV. C. W. ROBINSON TO LAY CORNERSTONE

PERCIVAL MEMORIAL LIBRARY EXERCISES NEXT SATURDAY.

The Rev. C. W. Robinson, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will deliver the address at the laying of the cornerstone of the Henry R. Percival Memorial Diocesan Library at 4 o'clock next Saturday evening at the corner of Ninth and Spring streets, Portland. The library is the gift of Miss Catherine Percival, who is spending the summer at the home of Mr. Robinson, in memory of her brother. Mr. Robinson was asked by the Bishop of Oregon to make the address at the laying of the cornerstone.

Among the various things of interest that will be deposited in the cornerstone will be papers relating to the diocese of the present time, and a sketch of Dr. Percival, written by Mr. Robinson.

CHILDREN'S PARADE WINS PRAISE

Hundreds Cheer as Unique Pageant Passes Through Street—Many Win Handsome Prizes

The Rose Society of Oregon City Saturday held the most successful rose show in the history of Clackamas County. The city was crowded with visitors, and the streets from early in the morning until late at night presented an animated appearance. One of the features of the festival was the Children's parade which started at 1 o'clock. There were thirty-two little floats, consisting of decorated dogcarts, wheelbarrows, doll buggies, bicycles, tricycles and wagons. Little boys and girls garlanded with roses drew the little vehicles through the streets.

The Oak Grove Girls' Band furnished the music. This band also furnished the music at the Rose Show in the afternoon and Patterson Bros. Band, of Gladstone, furnished the music in the evening.

ASSESSOR NOT TO BLAME.

Books Show That P. R. L. & P. Company Was Duly Assessed.

It developed Saturday that the County Assessor's office was in no way to blame for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company not getting in proper time the tax bill for the canal and locks at the falls of the Willamette. The property was assessed at the usual time and the books in Assessor Jack's office show that the greatest care was taken. The assessor has nothing to do with the collection of the taxes, and it was after the matter passed out of the assessor's hands that the oversight was made. The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company pleaded its failure to get the tax bill on the usual time as a reason why interest and penalties for delay should not be charged. Judge Beattie, however, decided against the company.

Husband Seeks Divorce.

Joseph Peshall has filed a suit for divorce against Annie Peshall to whom he was married at Tracer, Iowa, August 8, 1884. The plaintiff alleges that his wife deserted him without cause. He is represented by Gordon E. Hayes.

POSTMASTER FRIEL FINED FOR ASSULT

JURY FINDS CHERRYVILLE MAN IS GUILTY OF STRIKING WESLEY STRUCKEN.

John T. Friel, postmaster at Cherryville, was found guilty of assault by a jury in Justice of the Peace Samson's court Saturday, and fined $35. The charge was preferred by Wesley Strucken, a well-known farmer, who lives near Cherryville. He charged that while he was walking along the road near his home, Friel passed in a wagon and struck him in the face with a horsewhip. The men have been enemies for several years, and have had several quarrels.

The trial of the case consumed the entire day, and about a dozen witnesses were examined. The jury was composed of W. W. Bradley, S. Kuppenbender, Ed. Fortune, F. D. Cox, J. C. Bradley and Charles E. Burns.
