OREGON TIMBER DEAL INVOLVES $2,000,000

One of the largest timber deals ever closed in Oregon was consummated when S. Benson transferred his holdings in Columbia County to the Benson Timber Company for a consideration of $2,100,000.
The principal owner of the company is Frank Lynch, who with O. J. Evenson and E. E. Coover, organized the new corporation to retain the name and good will of Mr. Benson. It is capitalized at $3,000,000.
There are 15,000 acres of land in the tract, containing 800,000,000 feet of high-grade yellow fir. With the transfer of the holdings are included a sawmill plant of 500,000 feet daily capacity and a logging railroad, fully equipped, 12 miles long.

LIVE STOCK MARKET

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows:
Receipts for the week have been as follows: Cattle 593, calves 80, hogs 1733, sheep 6790, horses and mules 24.
Owing to the scarcity of supplies in the cattle division, prices stiffened up somewhat the last of the week. One prime load of good steers brought $6.40, while several loads brought $6.25. While these prices are not as high as those obtained before the slump, shippers realize that it is now time for grass cattle and correspondingly lower prices. The cow market remains steady to strong with best qualities at $5.50, medium $5 to $5.25. There is a good market for light, well finished veal, one lot bringing $7.75 and another of sixty head $7.50.
The price of best light hogs continues to advance about a nickel a week, top now quoted at $6.90 with steady demand. A good many stockers were on the market, prices ranging from $7.00 to $7.25, owing to quality. Heavy hogs are selling from $5 to $6 with marked tendency on the part of the buyers to discriminate against this class of swine.
Mutton appears to be greatly in demand, buyers easily keep pace with the heavy receipts. Lambs showed a slight fluctuation this week, one lot bringing $5.50, several lots bringing $5 to $6.25, though the majority of sales were at previous quotation of $4.50. Best wethers are in demand at $4.25, ewes $3.25 to $3.50, mixed lots $3.00 to $4.00.

ERNEST LE MAY WEDS MISS BERTHA RUNYAN

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY PERFORMED AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH, SALEM.

A very pretty marriage ceremony was performed Thursday, June 8, at the St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Salem, when Miss Bertha Runyan, and Ernest LeMay were married. The ceremony, which was very impressive, was performed by Father Moore, in the presence of many friends of the contracting parties. The Sacred Heart Academy orchestra played the wedding march, which was beautifully rendered, and the choir sang impressively. The Salem requiem high mass was said at 9 o'clock.
The decorations of the church were elaborate, and during the marriage ceremony the bride and Mr. LeMay and their attendants, Miss Mary LeMay, sister of the bridegroom, of Willamette, and Frank Busch, of this city, stood beneath an archway formed of white roses and asparagus ferns. Lilies were also used among the other decorations of the church. Two little children, one acting as flower girl and the other as ring-bearer, the latter carrying the ring on a silver plate, stood at the side of the couple.
The bride was prettily gowned in white silk, and her long veil was held in place with lilies of the valley. She carried white carnations.
Mr. and Mrs. LeMay have returned to this city to make their home at a beautiful new bungalow. They have many friends at Willamette as well as in this city.

Evil Threatens the Pastime

Club Officials Ought to See That Practice is Smothered at Once to Insure Safety of Game—Plenty of Betting in Detroit and Chicago.
By TOMMY CLARK.
At last steps have been taken to combat the gambling menace to baseball, and heroic efforts to stamp out betting within and outside the parks of the American league will be made at once by the organization in a body.
Ban Johnson recently sent out a bulletin to every American league magnate calling attention to the prevalence of betting and asking each club owner to enforce to the letter the section in the constitution prohibiting betting. Not only that, but he has informed the police departments of the different cities of gambling on the grounds.
President Johnson figures that in order to discourage the gamblers it may be necessary to place under arrest every person caught making bets at a ball park.
Now that the American league executive has come out strongly against gambling at baseball games at ball parks and on the outside it is up to President Tom Lynch of the National league to issue an edict against gambling, and the national commission ought to get together and put it up to the club owners to stamp out gambling or take the consequences.
Ban Johnson's crusade grows out of a report that much gambling is being indulged in at Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and Boston. It has been said that there is a lot of betting in New York, but the betting done in New York is nothing compared to what is done at Pittsburgh.
In New-York your neighbor may say, "I'll bet you $2 that the New Yorks get off in front and stay there," or if there is a man near you who is a roofer for the visiting team you will get sore because he is rooting against you and bet him $5 that he is rooting for a "dead one," or vice versa.
Now; this is not the betting evil that Ban Johnson refers to. He, talking straight from the shoulder—and when he gives vent to these utterances he knows what he is talking about—is hitting at a bookmaking element. He has learned that "bookies" are being done on the games in Chicago and in Detroit. He also knows that Pittsburgh has an element that "books" on every game. What he fears is that if measures are not taken at once to stamp out this evil the bookmakers will invade the baseball parks, and if this comes to pass it won't be long before the game will be in bad repute.
Last spring the gamblers attempted to make a book on the two pennant races. Odds were published on the different teams, but the government soon put them out of business. Acting on a request from Ban Johnson recently, the Detroit police began a campaign against gambling on ball games. On the first day they found a dozen or more places where boards giving odds were shown and books made on various games.
Many years ago betting came near killing baseball; for it became known that some of the ball players were in league with the gamblers, throwing the games or trying to win them, as the betting demanded. The managers, ferreting out the guilty ones, black-listed them and then framed rules to safeguard the game against a repetition of the scandal. How well they succeeded is best told by the great popularity of the game today, for baseball has grown and developed until it is indeed the great national pastime, equaled by no other game that was ever invented.
Ban Johnson has sounded the key note, and it is up to heads of the various leagues and club owners to join the movement. If this is not done, then baseball will lose its popularity. Honest competition always will receive the patronage of the better class of citizens. That is why at a baseball game you always find our best and best citizens.

Combs and Hairpins

Wear as few hairpins and combs as possible, as these draw the hair and stop it from growing, and absorb all if you want thick, healthy hair be careful of your brushes and combs. Have them washed at least once a week, and never make use of public dressing room brushes and combs which in all probability have not a large acquaintance with soap and water and may have been last used by—who knows?

Hand Soap

A homemade soap to whiten the hands and face may be made as follows: Lemon juice, one wineglassful; eau de cologne, one wineglassful; a good brown soap, two cakes. Scrub the soap to a fine powder, mix with the other ingredients and use instead of ordinary soap when washing the hands.

Furniture Polish

One ounce of shredded candle end, an ounce of beeswax, one ounce of shredded castile soap, a quarter of a pint of turpentine and three-quarters of a pint of boiling water make an excellent furniture polish.
Cover the shredded soap and two kinds of wax with the turpentine and leave for twenty-four hours. Beat up well and add the boiling water, gradually heating between each addition until there are no lumps and the mixture is of the consistency of cream.
