The plant, which is being installed under his supervision, will be ready for operation about July 1st.

ROADSTERS BEATEN IN EXCITING GAME ONE MORE RUN IN NINTH WOULD HAVE TIED SPOKANE'S SCORE.

PORTLAND, June 13.—(Special).—Spokane again beat the Roadsters today, the score being four to three. Lamline was hammered hard, the visitors making ten hits, while Holm was steady at all times and only allowed five safeties. The scoring did not begin until the fifth when Spokane got one across the rubber. Portland duplicated in the sixth. In the ninth Spokane made three and it looked as if the home team did not have a chance. Portland, however, garnered two and badly righted the visitors. The Beavers did not arrive in time for a game at Vernou.

Following were the results Tuesday: Pacific Coast League—No game at Los Angeles, Portland team not arriving in time; San Francisco 6, Sacramento 2; Oakland 2, Los Angeles 1. Northwestern League—Spokane 4, Portland 3; Tacoma 9, Seattle 3; Vancouver 6, Victoria 2. National League—Chicago 5, Boston 4; St. Louis 10, Philadelphia 8; New York 5, Cincinnati 2; Pittsburgh 4, Brooklyn 3. American League—New York 5, Cleveland 1; Philadelphia 6, St. Louis 0; Chicago-Washington and Detroit-Boston games postponed because of rain.

Labor Asks Initiative. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8.—Governor Dineen has been petitioned by union labor to include the initiative and referendum in his call for a special session of the Legislature, soon to be issued, as matter to come before that body.

IT TURNED OUT ALL WRONG. By ELLEN BANKHURST

Effie—Effie is my niece—is a good girl, but impractical. She is an orphan and was left to my care and guardianship by my sister, who was five years older than I. I promised to bring Effie up properly, do the best I could with her property and see that she married well. She is now eighteen, and I'm very much afraid she is leaning toward that beggar Lawrence Beckwith. Therefore I am going to attempt to throw her in the way of Martin Saylor. Mr. Saylor is thirty-six, well off and has an excellent social position. I don't believe in girls marrying men of their own age. A girl needs a man older than herself to keep her in training.

Summer has come, and I have a house party at my cottage at Lake G. I left Beckwith out of my invitations and included Saylor. Saylor is getting bald, and there are a few grey hairs about his temples, but I don't care for that. Of course I haven't said a word to Effie about what I intend for her—that would spoil it all. But I've told Saylor. Of course he couldn't say anything definite. He only remarked that to win my niece should make any man very happy and very proud. I am well satisfied with the way the affair is progressing.

Effie proposed that we go up to the end of the lake on a picnic. We went in boats, pulling up in the morning, having our lunch in the woods, and back in the evening. As our party consisted of eleven we required six boats, for we proposed to have only two in each boat. When we went down to get into the boats, Effie said that she would pull the boat with only one in it herself. What did she do but get into it and pull away, leaving Mr. Saylor standing with me. He very politely handed me into a boat and got in himself. The others paired off as they liked.

We hadn't gone a mile before I saw Effie ahead, making a landing at the point where the railroad station is located. Before we reached her, a man got into the boat with her, and she pulled up to the lake. I wondered who he was and what it meant. I couldn't understand Saylor's action at all. He didn't seem a bit buff when Effie pulled away alone or when she took in a companion. He made himself as agreeable to me as if I had been Effie. But men have a way of concealing their feelings. I wish we women could do that.

When we reached the end of the lake who should help me out of the boat but Lawrence Beckwith. I was never so astonished in my life. "Why," I exclaimed, "what brought you here?" "The purest luck. It's mighty strange how things happen sometimes. I was on a train that stopped at a station. At that moment your niece rowed up to a landing. I waved my handkerchief to her and called to her. She asked me if I wouldn't like to go on a picnic. I said I would, and here I am."

"That's a very strange coincidence," I said coldly. "I wonder how it could have happened."

"Strangest thing in the world!" he replied. Mr. Saylor turned and looked out on the lake. Eff went off with Lawrence, and Saylor couldn't very well do anything else than attend upon me. You see, all the others were mere boys and girls, and Saylor and I were the only elderly persons in the party. I was very much mortified at Eff's action. It put me in an unpleasant attitude towards the man. I had told I wished him for her husband. However, he didn't seem to feel so awfully disappointed. At any rate, he made the best of it, not showing any displeasure. All the boy and girl couples of the party went off in different directions, leaving Saylor and me alone to get what supplies we needed for lunch. He took the ice out of our boat and put the champagne and butter on it, and together we unrolled the bundles containing the luncheon. I was leaning over a case of sardines when I felt an arm around my waist and, turning my face, looked right into Saylor's.

"What do you mean?" I asked. "I brought you out here to make love to Effie."

McLOUGHLIN PUPILS PLEASE BIG AUDIENCE

INSTITUTE CHILDREN DO REMARKABLY WELL AT COMMENCEMENT.

McLoughlin Hall was crowded Tuesday evening, the occasion being the commencement exercises of the McLoughlin Institute. The program was interesting throughout, all of the children acquitting themselves unusually well. Archbishop Christie, who made the principal address, said that an education that teaches a man or a woman to put away his wife or her husband is not a Christian education, but a tendency toward a reversion to paganism. He contended that there was no good system of education without the training of the heart and soul as well as the body. All the drills were magnificently executed and the club swinging delighted the audience. "Tommy Tompkins" was one of the features and "My First Lesson," by little Mary Campbell, revealed remarkable talent for such a small child. "The Troopers" was also fine, Joseph Gadke and Andrew Naterline, especially distinguishing themselves. But it is not fair to give special mention to any of those taking part, for every one of the children did unusually well, and the Archbishop, Father Hillbrand and the sisters are proud of their work. The program was as follows:

- Festival March... F. Bebr; Rose Justin '11, Opal Bains '13. Joseph Gadke, Satic Klancy '11. Anna McMillan, Mary Nutall '12. Salutatory... Peter Rotter '11. From Foreign Lands... M. ATELL NEAR RETIREMENT.

Injury to Fighter's Shoulder Will Prevent His Staying in Ring. Rumors are current in boxing circles that Abe Atell, the American feather-weight champion, may be compelled to retire from the ring. Atell's physician says the champion cannot box again for a year because of the broken shoulder bone. Atell is more than twenty-eight years old and is said to be rather dubious as to the future, for he fears a return of the injury when he attempts to resume operations. If Atell decides to retire there will be a scramble for his title. Jim Driscoll, the English champion, may well lay claim to it, but Driscoll announced recently he was through with the ring forever.

Young Ingerton Looks Good. Ingerton of the Boston Nationals is the most promising third base prospect that has broken into fast company since the discovery of Baker. He is a natural fielder, fine thrower and heavy hitter—at least he is hitting just now.

Lasker to Visit America. Dr. Emanuel Lasker, the chess champion, will visit this country in October and introduce Mrs. Lasker to his American friends. Recently the champion joined the ranks of the benedicts.

Sheppard Plans Trip Abroad. Melvin Sheppard is planning a British invasion the coming season, and it looks as if Texas Ramsdell of the University of Pennsylvania and Harry Glesing would accompany him.

A large number of Macksburg people attended the Rose Festival. A. A. Baldwin was a Portland visitor last week. Charlie Krapberger was one of the Rose Show visitors. Charlie Mitchell has sold his place of thirty acres to Nicy Walsh. Miss Margaret Zinger, who has been working in Portland, is at home again. Fred Lamons and Theodore Schier, who have been in Canada for several months, have returned home. Miss May A. Smith, visiting at the home of Charles Naber. The Basket Social at the Eby school on Saturday night was a decided success. The children gave an interesting literary and artistic program, after which the baskets were sold, J. W. Eby acting as auctioneer. About $30 was taken in, which will be used to purchase a flag and library books. J. W. Eby, Jr., is putting up a fine house on his place. S. N. Strubbae has rented his feed barn in Canby to Gaston Brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, of Mulino, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Katy Seward in Macksburg on Sunday.

Mrs. J. J. Gibson is enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Therese Klar. The Liberal ball-tossers crossed bats with the Macksburg Juniors at Smith Park on Sunday morning and the locals won, after an exciting game, by a score of 7 to 5. Liberal started strong and the score at the end of the first inning was 4 to 1 in favor of Fred Burns' Colts. Another run was added for Liberal in the fourth and things looked bad for Macksburg. In the lucky seventh, however, Macksburg had a terrific batting rally and made six runs. Liberal threatened to tie the score in the last inning, with two men on bases and none out. Marshall Scramlin, who is a pitcher for Macksburg, and Roy Pifer for Liberal. Features of the game were Scramlin's swift handling of bunts and a beautiful one-hand catch by Left Fielder Vick, of Liberal. Walter Merz played a great game at first for Macksburg. In Pifer Liberal has one of the most promising pitchers seen here for a long time. The Deutsch Verein held their annual picnic at Smith Park, Macksburg, June 22nd. An impression has been getting abroad that this picnic was only for members of the order. Such is not the case. Everybody is cordially invited. The usual amusements will be offered, and in addition the music will be especially attractive.

It Wouldn't Pay to Advertise A Poor Article

Not a proposition of doubtful merit or honesty—for ad-readers, nowadays, are DISCRIMINATING. They know values—they know GENUINE things, genuine opportunities. Any article which can be sold by advertising is, by that test, a GOOD article. YOU are safe in buying a thing which has "stood the fire of publicity." The maker of a widely advertised article, a commodity, is always on trial for his business life. He cannot shrink, nor cheapen his product—and this is the best possible protection for the consumer. You are SAFE in buying advertised things—it's the logic of nowadays business conditions.
