CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER.

June 18 in American History.

- 1812—Congress declared war against Great Britain. 1829—Henry Jarvis Raymond, journalist, congressman, friend and biographer of Abraham Lincoln, died; born 1820. 1894—William Hart, N. A., a well known painter, died; born 1822. 1908—Judge William Howard Taft nominated for president at Chicago by the Republican national convention. 1910—Theodore Roosevelt welcomed in New York city on return from hunting trip in Africa.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.) Sun sets 7:50, rises 4:24; moon rises 12:57 a. m.

Every resident of the city should attend the McLoughlin memorial exercises this afternoon. "It is never too late to mend."

The "Wild Man" has been found. He isn't wild at all, unless chasing the slimsy dollar is a sign of wildness. He says he slept in the woods for economical reasons.

The Clackamas county men who started on the Herculean task of building a railroad sometime ago are making the dirt fly. The way stock subscriptions are pouring in now reminds one of the line, "but those who come to scoff remained to pray."

All property values depend upon the prosperity of the community. If our manufacturers are prospering, and the merchant likewise, the farmer will prosper, too. The persistent demand for goods "Made in Oregon" will help bring greater prosperity to the people of Oregon.

TWO UNHAPPY WIVES SUE FOR DIVORCE

MABEL HELLMAN SAYS HUSBAND MADE HER WORK WHEN SHE WAS ILL.

Mabel Hellman has filed a suit for divorce against John Hellman. They were married at Stratford, Texas, on December 18, 1907. Soon after their marriage, she says, her husband treated her cruelly, and while she was ill he was compelled to work and earn her own living, although he was strong enough to support them both.

Eva Linn has filed a suit for divorce against Charles A. Linn to whom she was married on October 2, 1901. There were no children. Mrs. Linn says that her husband deserted her. She is represented by J. G. Richardson.

Health and How to Acquire It

By E. R. PRITCHARD, Secretary of Chicago's Health Department

To those who are ambitious enough to be rich in health I would say make use of this prescription: Take a HOPEFUL, CHEERFUL view of things. The bigger the dose the BETTER. Don't WORRY over anything, whether you can help it or not. If you can help it do it, but don't worry.

EAT GOOD FOOD AND PLENTY OF IT, INCLUDING MILK, CREAM AND EGGS.

Sleep at least TEN HOURS out of the twenty-four in a room with the windows open. Take EXERCISE every day out of doors, but not enough to make you tired.

City air is at all times filled with all sorts of IMPURITIES. I would suggest that city people take a trip into the country

At the Portland Theaters

LAST CAR LEAVES FOR OREGON CITY AT MIDNIGHT

MAY ROBSON AT HEILIG THEATRE.

Charming and famous actress, will present her brilliant comedy success, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," at The Heilig Theatre, Seventh and Taylor streets, for four nights, beginning Thursday, June 22. Special price matinee Saturday.

JOHN DREW IN "SMITH."

Famous Actor Opens Short Engagement at Heilig Tomorrow.

While John Drew has the principal character in "Smith" which comes to the Heilig Theatre for three nights, commencing Monday, June 19, he does not play the role which gives the comedy its name. That falls to Mary Boland, who played the principal female role with Mr. Drew in "Inconstant George" last season. The character is that of a pretty and wholesome young country girl, a parlor maid in a house where Thomas Freeman (Mr. Drew's character) is making a six weeks' visit. Freeman is so utterly disgusted with the fashionable, shallow, bridge-playing men and women who surround him that he is gradually drawn towards Smith as the one natural and fresh-minded person in the group.

MAY ROBSON IS COMING.

"The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" Coming to Portland Thursday.

The funniest of all comedies, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," which comes to the Heilig Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, June 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th, with special priced matinee Saturday, has been successfully presented by May Robson in every large city in the United States, and duplicating the success at Terry's Theatre, London, England, where Miss Robson extended the time of her engagement from three weeks to nearly three months. Her immediate recognition by a critical audience of London, was one of the best compliments to her talents and capability as an actress. The press was unanimous in praise of "Aunt Mary," the unsophisticated spinster, and her blending the humorous and pathetic, without apparent effort, was commented upon in flattering terms. The shrill untrained voice and the awkward gesture of the provincial becomes softened and musical when she speaks of her tenderness for her nephew, Jack.

The very naturalness of her acting carries conviction that Miss Robson is an exceptionally clever woman, and the only one on the stage today presenting the somewhat difficult role of an eccentric old maid. You laugh with her when her experience in New York develops her humor, and you cry with her in her moments of pathetic sadness. "Aunt Mary" is not an imaginary type of the tender, big hearted country woman. They exist everywhere, and are easily recognized, and at the end of the play you have a sort of feeling that you would like to have just such an Aunt Mary. Seats go on sale Tuesday, June 20th.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

HER ROMANCE.

All her life since she was fifteen Rose Robinson of St. Louis has been a "factory girl." When work is steady, she told a reporter, she makes $6.50 a week. She pays $1 a week for a room and but little more than that for food. Out of her savings she had accumulated about ten years ago $1,000, which seems marvellous.

Then she put her money in a building and loan association. It failed, and she lost the entire amount.

Despite the loss of her hard earned savings, Rose Robinson began again to put money in the savings bank. She now has something more than $900.

Long continued toil at menial wages and pinching economy are nothing new in the annals of labor operatives, and in this respect Rose Robinson is not different from others. She has saved more money than most of such workers, and—But listen.

"It was my wish as a young woman," she says, "to have a little girl of my own. But it was not meant that my wish should be gratified, for no man has asked me to marry him."

Though disappointed and childless, this hardworking woman decided to save her money for "some baby" to be selected after her death by the Christian Missionary society. Listen again.

"Whenever I put a dollar away I would say to myself, 'There is a pair of shoes for Rosy' or 'There's a book for her.' That made it easy, and I was surprised to find how much I could save."

That is Rose Robinson's romance. Denied what women most desire, her life has flowered into a sweet devotion to some future "Rosy" whom she will never see.

Her friends say she is the happiest woman they know. They say she has a sweet face. No doubt of it. In the face of such a woman there must be winsomeness and the softening lines that come from submission to Providence and devotion to a high purpose. Giving makes her happy. She has given even more than the widow who, as the Master stood over against the treasury, cast in her mite. She has given infinitely more than the rich givers of our modern day. She has given—herself!

PROVISION MARKETS TO CHANGE MONDAY

SLIGHT ADVANCE IN HAMS AND BACON EXPECTED—POTATOES ADVANCE.

An advance of one-half cent in hams and 1 cent in bacon is expected on Monday morning, while fresh beef will be, it is thought, one-half cent lower. A similar decline will be made in fresh pork, while mutton and lamb will be down about 1 cent a pound. Lard will be unchanged at the low level.

The price of potatoes struck the highest mark on record in Portland for this period when old stock advanced to $3 per cental and the price of best new quality was moved to $5.

The extreme hot weather that recently struck Texas and Oklahoma, ruined a large per cent of the early potato crop of those states. The result is that while Texas has been a free shipper of new potatoes to Oregon, Washington and in fact to California and other nearby states, the Lone Star state is now a buyer and new potatoes are being shipped there from California.

People who "invest" in enterprises promising abnormally large returns are usually disappointed. They fail to get the interest they expected and the control of their money passes to others. The money saver should take no chances with the promoter. When you deposit your money on a Time Certificate or in the Savings Department of this bank, it remains under your control, and earns a sure and steady rate of interest. There is no depreciation in this kind of an investment. The sooner you begin, the sooner will you be in possession of a growing balance.
