GEORGE REVIEWS MIGHTIEST FLEET

AMERICAN SAILORS CHEER KING AS HE PASSES ON ROYAL YACHT VICTORIA.

DELAWARE IS BIGGEST WARSHIP

Guns Thunder and Bands on Craft Play National Airs—Eighteen Nations Represented in Pageant.

PORTSMOUTH, June 24.—The warships of the world boomed a royal salute today in honor of England's sailor king. Bright sunshine came at last to lend its brilliancy to one of the most impressive scenes of all the gorgeous pageantry attending the coronation of George V.

In a double line six miles in length floated the mightiest of British warships. The lines were joined at either end by a two-mile stretch of smaller craft while off the Isle of Wight 13 foreign vessels lay dressed in glittering colors. Among them was the American dreadnought Delaware, greatest and most powerful of all the huge fighting ships in the vast armada assembled there.

Fleet Ready For Service.
The narrow waters of the Solent never held so large a fleet. It was the most effective ever brought together. Every class was represented and every one of the 185 ships anchored was ready for active service.

This mighty fleet presented an appearance at once magnificent and awe-inspiring. The men and women were whipped by the breeze aloft, while myriads of tiny streamers stretched across every ship from stem to stern. The mosquito fleet had a position along the shore, and behind the little craft. In the mouth of the bay, innumerable yachts were drawn up. Surrounding the fleet were scores of liners, including the Atlantic liners La Savoie and George Washington, on which were hundreds of American visitors.

King Is Cheered.

As the royal yacht Victoria and Albert entered the line, the men manning the ships, the guns thundered, and the bands played the national anthem. On the bridge the King stood in an admiral's uniform, acknowledging the cheers of the sailors and visitors. Captain Gove and the men of the Delaware and the guests aboard gave the King a cheer which was truly American, to which His Majesty replied with a salute.

The Delaware, from the tops of her fighting masts, flew immense American and British flags, which topped all the rest.

ALBERT CARTER IS BADLY BEATEN AT BRICKYARD DANCE.

Albert Carter, foreman for a contracting firm in Oregon City, was seriously beaten in an altercation at the Brickyard dance on the morning of Saturday last night. He told Police-men Cook and Frost that his assailants attacked him with rocks. He says he knows them and will swear out warrants for their arrest today. Carter's face is badly bruised and cut.

NOMAD OF 3 TAKES CAR RIDE ALL BY SELF

LITTLE ELMER SAHR SPENDS CANDY MONEY TO SEE SIGHTS OF PORTLAND.

Elmer Sahr, three years old, has shown tendencies to wander ever since he could walk, but his expedition of Saturday stamps him as being a nomad of no mean qualifications. The little fellow, who is a son of Edward Sahr, left his home in the hill section early in the morning, and while his father, mother, Deputy Frost and the entire police force of Oregon City were looking for him, he was enjoying a trolley ride to Portland. Elmer got on the car as several women boarded it, and the conductor thought he was a member of the party. The women, however, got off just before the car reached Portland and then the conductor questioned the boy.

"My name is Elmer Sahr," said the child, "and I live in Oregon City. My papa gave me a nickel to buy some candy and I thought I would take a trolley to Portland. I wanted to see the big city all by myself."

"SCOTTY" ARRESTED LAUGHS AT CAPTORS

RENO, Nev., June 24.—(Special).—Death Valley Scotty, of national fame, was arrested today near Winnemucca in company with several mining men, on suspicion of having high-grade ore from the national mines in his possession. A search warrant also figured in the proceedings, but no high-grade ore could be found, and the party was released from custody.

Scotty, in company with J. L. Reynolds, a prominent mining man of Pasadena, D. W. Kennedy, of Reno, and Charles Haefner, were returning from National in an automobile. Advice had previously been received in Winnemucca that the party were returning from a mission to get high-grade ore. Clarence Sage, chief detective of the Goldfield Consolidated, and Deputy Sheriffs Moore and Nofsinger set out to apprehend the party, and halted them several miles from Winnemucca. The officers were armed to the teeth, for a fierce resistance was expected. However, Scotty and his assistant good-naturedly submitted to arrest, and the search revealed 1 percent of high grade. No attempt was made to keep the members of the party under arrest, and they proceeded to Winnemucca, where Scotty soon told of his experience, and of having given the officers the "horse laugh."

Mothers' Congress Head To Speak At Chautauqua

Mrs. R. H. Tate, president of the Oregon State Congress of Mothers, will speak at the Willamette Valley Chautauqua, at 11 o'clock on the morning of July 14. Mrs. Tate is one of the most interesting speakers in the state and the organization of which she is the head has done much useful work.

Mrs. Clara H. Waldo, regent of the O. A. C., will also speak on July 14. Mrs. Waldo has just returned from an extended trip through Europe where she has studied the great questions pertaining to the home and the school. The Oregon Congress of Mothers was organized in 1905. There are in Portland twenty Parent-Teachers Circles as well as a great many more throughout the state.

The work of civic in its broadest and highest sense, and its aim is to give to every child the opportunity to develop his highest possibilities, physically, mentally, and morally—to bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may co-operate intelligently in the training of the child.

GRANGE SELECTS FAIR SPACE.

A committee representing Harding Grange, of Logan, composed of O. D. Robbins and Mrs. W. P. Kirchem called upon Marshall Lazelle, secretary of the Clackamas County Fair Association, Saturday, and selected space for the grange exhibit at the coming fair. The committee reported that the crops near Logan are looking fine. The grange will have a fine display at the fair.

Merchant Sells Out.
A. L. Shore, who recently opened a store on Main street, almost opposite the postoffice, has sold his stock and transferred his lease to I. L. Schilt. Mr. Schilt will take charge Monday. The stock consists of shoes, clothing, haberdashery, etc.

EXHIBIT OF CLUB ATTRACTS CROWDS

SAMPLES OF CLACKAMAS COUNTY PRODUCTS MAKE FINE DISPLAY.

GOLD AND SILVER ORE INTERESTS

Section of Knotted Bird's-Eye Maple, Big Egg, Berries, Cherries and Vegetables Are Among Features.

The exhibit in the new Promotion building of the Commercial Club, are attracting much attention. At least fifty persons from out of town call at the building daily to see the Clackamas county products. Secretary Lazelle said Saturday that all the exhibits expected have not been received, but the collection is already large and gives an insight into the resources of the county.

The display of the Ogle Mountain Mining Company, which consists of ore containing gold, silver and other metals probably attracts the most attention. The samples show conclusively that there is plenty of gold and silver in the mountains, and when it is fully developed it will be one of the best producers in this part of the county.

Bird's-Eye Maple Attracts.
A section of the trunk of a bird's-eye maple, cut from the farm of C. C. Sannes, of Canby, is one of the features of the collection. The wood is beautifully gnarled and knotted, and of that delicate color which makes the Oregon maple so highly prized.

A. H. Finnegan has a fine exhibit of seedling strawberries propagated by himself. The berries are large and of splendid flavor. He has named the variety "The Mount Hood."

A lemon on a tree presented by Mrs. K. L. Newton, measures twelve inches in diameter. This is said to be the largest lemon ever grown in Oregon. J. M. Spagel, of Lawton Heights, has given the club what he says is the largest hen's egg ever laid in this state. The egg is seven and one-half inches in circumference.

Chinese Gives Head of Cabbage.
Mr. Wing, the Chinese gardener, has presented the club a head of cabbage which weighs eight pounds. A head of lettuce, grown by O. E. Freitag, at Gladstone, is one foot in diameter. George DeBok, of Willamette, has a display of turnips, some of which are eight inches in diameter.

One of the most interesting exhibits is a limb containing a cluster of cherries, which was cut from a tree which produces a ton of cherries a year. The tree is owned by J. S. Smith, of Kansas City.

BLAST VICTIM RISKED LIFE TO SAVE GIRL

L. P. DAVIS, ROADWORKER, DIES SOON AFTER BEING INJURED.

L. P. Davis, the roadworker, who died in St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, as a result of injuries received while blasting a stump near Eagle Creek, it was learned Saturday, probably risked his life to save a little girl. Davis, who was working with A. D. Bennett, the road supervisor, had placed the charge of powder and lighted the fuse.

It was the custom for one of the men to run in one direction on the road and the other to run in the opposite direction in order to warn persons, who might be approaching, of danger. In this instance, however, Davis became confused and started in the same direction that Burnett had taken. Burnett called his attention to the mistake, and although Davis had gone more than 100 yards, he turned around, and it is thought, saw the little girl approaching from the direction he should have taken. Without hesitation, he retraced his steps, and passed the stump. He had got about seventy yards from the blast when it exploded and he was knocked down by a part of the stump. The little girl was not far away. Davis' left leg was broken and his side was badly torn.

Dr. Adix, of Estacada, was summoned, and after an examination, he ordered the man taken to the hospital in Portland as soon as possible. Dr. Sommer, with an ambulance, met the party with the injured man at the station and he was hurried to the hospital, where he died soon afterward.

Mr. Bennett warned Davis of his danger, and several persons who witnessed the accident declare that the supervisor did all that was possible to save his fellow worker.

County Charge Dies.
Martha Hunsion, eighty-four years of age, who had been a county charge for several years, died Saturday at the home of Mrs. Gunnip. The county paid $25 monthly for the aged woman's support.

Saw off the handle of an old broom and use it to brush your horse with after you have been over him with a comb and brush of the regular kind. Be careful how you handle this in the stall the first time, however, lest the horse may be scared by it.

It does take some time to spray cows, but it is time well expended. Saying nothing about the comfort of the cows, there will be a real money return for the work you lay out.

Postal Savings Bank Opens Here Tomorrow

Patrons of the Oregon City post-office may become depositors in the new postal savings bank, beginning tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock when the teller's window opens for the first day's business. Mrs. P. L. Nash, who has been at the money order department window, will be the teller.

Postmaster Randall has not been allowed additional help, although if the banking business comes up to expectations, he will need at least one more clerk. No more than $100 at a time will be accepted from one depositor and $500 is the limit for individual deposits. The holder of certificates to the amount of $500 may purchase a postal savings bond and again become a depositor. Interest on deposits starts at the beginning of the first month after deposits are made, and interest will not be paid unless the money is kept in the bank one year.

The only persons eligible to become depositors in the postal savings banks are the patrons of the postoffice where the bank is located. It has been decided, however, that a man who was not a patron of an office where there is a postal bank might become a depositor by purchasing a money order for a small amount, which the office would cash immediately. The object of the provision is to prevent one bank from accepting money from patrons of another office who should be supporting their own bank.

Of the postal bank at Olympia, Postmaster Cavanaugh, of that office, says that the deposits in that bank were large the first month, but since then the average daily number of depositors has been small. He expects, however, that business will improve as people become more familiar with the department.

Who the first depositor in the local bank will be is causing much speculation.

BROOK TROUT DISTRIBUTED.
Fourteen Thousand Fish Obtained For Creeks By O. D. Eby.

Eleven thousand Eastern brook trout were sent to Molalla Saturday and will be distributed in the waters of Rock Creek, Teasel Creek and Russell Creek. Three thousand trout will be planted in Clear Creek next week. These fish were obtained from the Clackamas Station of the United States Bureau of Fisheries upon request of Attorney O. D. Eby, of this city.

BIDS FOR COURTHOUSE WORK ARE REJECTED

The County Court Commissioners at a meeting Saturday rejected all bids for remodeling the courthouse. The bidders were Clarence Simmons, of this city, William LaSalle & Son, of Gladstone, and P. Chapelle Brown, of Portland. The commissioners, de-cided after an architect, that they were not satisfied with the specifications of Mr. Simmons, and that they were not satisfied with the bids of the other bidders. He failed, however, to provide for quite enough vault room.

JUDGE BEATIE TO HAVE FORCE EXCAVATE FOR ROCK FOUNDATION.

County Judge Beatie said that he would start a force of men excavating Monday in the rear of the courthouse, where it is proposed to build an addition, for a solid foundation. An iron rod driven several feet in the ground did not strike rock, and it is feared that the cost of making the foundation will be much more than was figured on at first. The commissioners spent two days examining the bids and specifications.

Day by day, as the weather grows warmer, take a bit more pains in having everything about the dairy in the very pink of cleanliness.

PAINTER SURVIVES SHOCK AND FALL

BRIDGEWORKER SUSPENDED ON WIRE CHARGED WITH 3,000 VOLTS.

MILL-HANDS LOOK ON AS MAN DROPS

Hold of Fellow Workers Broken, Victim Strikes Floor—Injuries Consist of Contusions and Burns.

With scores of horrified millworkers, many of them women, on their way to their homes in West Oregon City, looking at him, Harry Henderson, a painter, dangled for more than a minute from an electric wire on the suspension bridge late Saturday afternoon, and then dropped into the arms of fellow workmen twenty feet below.

The force of the fall was broken, but Henderson sustained serious injuries in addition to the burns he had received from coming in contact with the wire, which was charged with more than 3,000 volts. That he escaped instant death is amazing, and what is still more remarkable he will recover.

Man Lives in Portland.
Henderson, who lives in Portland, and is employed by a contractor of that city, had been working all day on the bridge, and just a little before quitting time the other workers on the structure were attracted by a cry as if uttered by someone in pain. Looking up they saw Henderson swinging from the wire, which was under one arm. They hastened to a spot directly under him. A few more writhings released him from the wire, and he fell into the arms of the men below. They did not seize him securely, however, and he slipped through the floor of the bridge. The man was conscious when he was picked up and hurried to the office of Dr. Meisner. It was found that he was severely burned on both hands, and on the right side, and he was suffering from contusions on the head, back, shoulders and, in fact, all over his body.

Man Is Stoical.
Although in great pain Henderson insisted that he was not seriously hurt, and would be all right in a few days. After his injuries were dressed he was taken to Willwood Hospital, where another examination was made.

It is thought that the painter first caught hold of the wire with his right hand, this one being more severely burned than the left. But for the other workers breaking his fall it is believed that he would have been killed instantly for he struck on his head. The bridge was recently reconstructed, and the painting which completes the work, will be finished in a few days.

FORECLOSURE ASKED ON 55-ACRE TRACT

A. E. LATOURETTE SUES FOR BALANCE OF $3,044.40 AND INTEREST.

A. E. Latourette, trustee, has filed suit against W. D. Hayes and wife, H. E. Switzer, G. L. Masten and David Fancher to foreclose a mortgage on about 55 acres of land in the Milton Brown donation land claim. It is charged that on October 13, 1902, Fancher obtained a loan of $2,350 from Latourette, giving him a mortgage on lots 5 and 6, block 158, Oregon City, and on 40 acres in the Milton Brown claim. The mortgage on the two lots and on 464 acres of the acreage was released. On December 29, 1903, Fancher obtained $900 more and gave a second mortgage on the 60 acres and later obtained a release on 4.64 acres. This mortgage has been assigned to Latourette who asks for a balance of $2,144.40 on the original note and interest and $900, the face of the notes, for which the second mortgage was given. It is said that the other defendants claim some interest in the property held under the mortgage.

JOHN COLEMAN IS DEAD.

Willamette Man Is Survived by Wife and Daughter.

John Coleman, who had lived in Willamette several years, died at home early Saturday morning. Coleman is survived by his wife and one daughter. He had been for some time and his death was unexpected. The funeral will be at 2 o'clock today.
