CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER.

NEWSPAPER DECENCY.

It is not all probable that a newspaper of the character of the Portland Daily News will be conscientious, stricken over the tragic death of Chief David Campbell, of the fire department.

For weeks that publication has made vicious attacks on Campbell, without foundation, purely to stir up public sentiment to a point where an indignant people would take his dismissal quietly, after Mayor Rushlight steps in.

Last Saturday the News contained a particularly vituperous slander of Chief Campbell, charging him with incompetence and going back six years for an illustration for its rotten story.

Monday morning, within an hour of the Chief's death, the News came out on the street with an extra, and proved to the public that it had lost what little sense of decency it ever had, by permitting the Saturday story of the fireman hero to appear in the extra edition, along with the tale of the death of the head of Portland's fire department.

Dave Campbell was a fearless life fighter. He died at his post of duty. His was a terrible end. He had no defense against a slanderous journal.

His passing is awful testimony of the falsity of the stories that were circulated for the express purpose of destroying his usefulness in public life. But Providence intervened.

Oregon City is one of the few towns in Oregon that has a postal-savings bank. With no little foreign population, it is to be expected that thousands of dollars is hid away in stockings and that much of this money will find its way into the government depository. There is absolutely no reason why anyone should distrust the banks of Oregon City. There is no city in the state with sounder financial institutions. But there are always some timid people, who will trust their money to no one unless it be the Government and the deposits will show just what the true condition is.

Last Sunday was the anniversary of the death of Grover Cleveland, who passed in 1908. Eight-years as President, Cleveland represented the highest type of American statesmanship. There was a man with back-bone, who had the courage of his convictions. He served his country well. He refused to compromise upon questions of national honor, even at the sacrifice of harmony in his party and time has vindicated his position.

William Kraxberger, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, of this city. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tanner. Miss Annie Raz was the bridesmaid and Tilly Allenbach was the bridegroom.

Kerrick Pleads Today.

Photos by American Press Association.

STUDENTS and graduates of the Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, N. J., recently celebrated the gift of Castle Stevens to the institution to be used as a dormitory and study hall. The building had long belonged to the Stevens family, and the keys were turned over to the president of the college by the grandson of the founder. One of the features of the celebration was a parade in which representatives of every class graduated since the institution was founded forty years ago participated. The former students wore various costumes reminiscent of the days of Colonel John Stevens, the father of the founder of the institute, and of the founder, both of whom were great inventors and did much to make steamboats and steam railroads successful. The class of '97 appeared as a gigantic T rail, that form of railroad track having been invented by a member of the Stevens family. Models of locomotives and steamboats invented and built by the Stevenses were also carried on floats, and a huge wheel, known as the circular track and invented by the class of '90, was also a striking feature of the parade. Graduates of the school who hold important engineering positions all over the world returned to Hoboken to take part in the celebration.

Jack Johnson Goes to England With Diamonds and White Wife

Photos by American Press Association.

JACK JOHNSON, champion heavyweight pugilist, has gone to England with his diamonds and his white wife. After witnessing the coronation festivities he will appear in a London music hall and will then make a tour of Europe by auto. He took two American cars with him and a negro chauffeur to run the one belonging to his wife. Johnson will run his own car, the high powered racer that caused his arrest several times in this country. As France has practically no speed regulations for autos, he expects to "burn up" the roads of that country. Johnson and his wife traveled from New York as first class passengers. The steward of the steamboat arranged a separate table for him and his wife, and the other passengers did not have to associate with them unless they wished to do so. Before the ship sailed Johnson and his wife posed for numerous photographers, and Johnson gravely explained that he did not expect to see King George. One of the reporters who witnessed the departure of the champion said that he was wearing only his "morning jewels, a small memorial window in his shirt front and several chunks of cut glass on his fingers." The pictures above show Johnson and his wife and a separate view of the pugilist and his famous golden smile.

NOTED WRESTLERS TO GRAPPLE HERE

BERG, CHAMPION MIDDLEWEIGHT, MEETS STRANGLER SMITH TOMORROW NIGHT. MATCH TO BE CATCH AS CATCH CAN

Portland Man Expected to Make Great Showing With Strangle Hold

Preliminaries Are Arranged.

John Berg, world's champion middleweight wrestler, will make his initial appearance in Oregon City on Wednesday evening at the Armory in a catch-as-catch-can match with Strangler Smith, of Portland. The meet will be for the best two falls out of three, no holds barred, thus enabling Smith to use his famous strangle hold. While Berg will outweigh Smith several pounds the use of the strangle will equalize the difference between the men.

This will be Berg's first appearance in a match in the Northwest for more than two years and several parties of Portland enthusiasts plan to be at the ringside on the night of the match, as it will be the only opportunity they will have to see Berg in action. The great grappler will not participate in other matches prior to his leaving for El Paso, Texas, next week, where he goes into training to meet the winner of the Hackenschmidt-Gotch match in Chicago on Labor Day. Berg is confident that he will be able to hold his own against the winner of this international meet and is keen to start training.

When here before Berg invested in total realty and it was for the purpose of caring for this that he came West.

Following his match here he will return to Portland for a few days before leaving for El Paso.

Several excellent preliminaries will be carded for the match and the event will be the banner athletic attraction seen in Oregon City this season.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

THE COUNTRY GIRL IN TOWN.

She is going stone to the city.

In the country nothing happens. Life there is a monotone. And the girl does not know that the greatest boon is to be content and that the quiet places are the best.

She is discontented.

Does she not see the same faces every Sunday at the church and at the picnics? She knows one as "Bill," another as "Sarah," and the familiarity has become trite. And over all the countryside is the never changing look of things. Yonder is the city! Every thing there is different—plenty of new faces and sensations. The scenes change like a kaleidoscope. The city air is tonic. Surely life is fuller there.

She is young and innocent.

She dreams fanciful dreams. She is impatient of restraint. She is lured by the glamour of the town. She does not know how safe is the sheltered life of the quiet neighborhood and how dangerous the city. She does not know the human limits of her virtues under strong temptation. She does not know that her gentleness of nature prevents her using upon the deceitful tempter the force of scorn which the sophisticated can summon to their aid. She does not know her own weakness.

Poor lassie!

Her loving disposition scarcely knows how to deny. Her sweet selfishness scarcely is able to refuse. Every best quality of her girlish self may lead to her undoing. There the defenseless chicken struts. Over that place hovers the cruel hawk and swoops upon its prey.

Innocent girl!

If she should chance to fall into the wrong set of associates and there should be no one near and intimate enough to warn and guide—why, God help the child!

If, however, the girl is strong of character, well instructed by a careful mother, capable of restraint, self-reliant, she will take good care of herself, render a good account and rise above the dangerous undercurrents of temptation.

But if not—

If not she will be swallowed up by the insatiable maw of the city to be defiled and spewed out, bereft of all that makes her a sweet and innocent girl.

Annexation Talk Is Nothing but Foolishness. By Sir WILFRID LAURIER, Premier of Canada. MUCH as I love the American people, I love Great Britain more, and this alone should be enough to ALLAY the fears of many on both sides of the border who are seriously thinking that the reciprocity pact will lead to the ANNEXATION of Canada to the United States.

In England also many prominent men are in doubt as to the DESIGNS of the United States regarding Canada. THEIR DOUBTS ARE GROUNDLESS, SEEING THAT THE ONLY REASON FOR RECIPROCITY IS TO BETTER TRADE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES. As peace loving nations the United States and Canada have set an example to the REST OF THE WORLD. Though having the LONGEST boundary, extending from ocean to ocean, both countries are living in peace and mutual respect WITHOUT a fortress, a soldier or a gun on either side of that boundary.
