FITCHER PERDUE TELLS OF STINGIEST BALL TOSSER.

"Hub" Perdue of the Boston Nationals tells of a tall player who achieved considerable popularity with fans in the south, but who was not popular with his waiter for the simple reason that his tips were forthcoming during five long seasons.

THE DIFFERENCE IN COLLEGE AND BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL

What makes the great difference in pitching college or minor league ball and facing major league batsmen is the fact that in this company the batters insist on getting the ball over the plate. They do not bite at anything that is dished up, soon have a pitcher in the hole, and when he is forced to aim it over of course no difficulty is experienced in hitting him.

Schulte, Cubs' star home run hitter, hits scored, but it is a safe wager that Schulte, with his penchant for hitting with men on, sent many more over than did his rival for honors.

This season with a lively ball Schulte is out to break his home run record, and if he keeps up the percentage for games played he will have about double the number of homers he registered last year.

They Never Come Back, Says McGraw. "No ball player," says John McGraw decisively, "who has been out of the game for two or three years ever comes back."

Pitcher Jack Powell's Long Career. This is Pitcher Jack Powell's fifteenth year in the big leagues. Up to 1911 he pitched in 450 games, winning 229 and losing 221.

Betty may not be very worldly wise, but she is practical. She knows enough to take a common sense view of things sentimental as well as material.

And if I accept you," she asked, "does the same thing hold good?" Philadelphia Times.

A Tree That Grows Dishes. There is a tree in the West Indies that the natives say "grows dishes." It looks like an apple tree. They call it the calabash. It bears very queer leaves and large white blossoms that grow right from the trunk and larger branches.

Lightning's Affinity For Oak. Electricity in the clouds, like its companion lower down, loves to seek the earth, the great reservoir of all electricity, and it finds the most available way to do so, choosing always the best conductor, conspicuous among which are the high trees or the elevated steeples.

A Help to Patience. A man who had to leave his office and who was expecting a caller to pay him some money left this notice on his door: "I have gone out for half an hour. Will be back soon. Have been gone twenty minutes already."—Boston Transcript.

IT is always the most expensive tea than are the best to brew or drink.

The Most important point to consider about tea is its suitability for brewing in the water of a particular district. Tea that would be good here, and brew into a splendid fragrant beverage, might be a rank failure somewhere else.
