will be taking The Enterprise five and ten years from now.

They will undoubtedly say that they will. Many of them have been talking it for years.

Suggest Advance Subscriptions. Then they might as well give you an advance subscription to begin with the present subscription expires.

Undoubtedly they will do so if you suggest it to them.

It won't cost them a cent more. They won't lose anything and the votes will be a big help to you.

The money they will spend in future years for The Enterprise will simply bring them the paper. If they will spend that money now they will not have to subscribe again for a long time.

They will avoid the possibility of missing the paper between the expiration of one subscription and the renewal of another.

And now that summer is here, remember that the address of The Enterprise subscribers can be changed to wherever they go and then changed back to their city or country home when they return from their vacations.

Another good point to remember is that many people in Oregon have friends in the East and in other parts of the world.

Many of them are probably old Oregonians, or interested in Oregon.

These distant friends would be glad to get The Enterprise and keep in touch with their friends and the growth of the state through its columns.

So now that the contest has just started enter your name at once if it does not appear in the above list and win one of the valuable prizes to be awarded on the night of September 2.

SHOWMAN BUYS AUTOMOBILE. J. M. Busby Leaves More Money in City Than He Takes Away.

Unlike most showmen, J. M. Busby, owner of the minstrel troupe, which gave an exhibition Monday night, probably left more money here than he took out of the city. This does not mean that his show was not well patronized, for the large tent was crowded, but Mr. Busby had a chance to buy an automobile at a low figure, and he took advantage of the opportunity. It is his intention to motor to Los Angeles.

MINSTRELS PLEASE. To have one's expectations realized is very gratifying and pleasing, and it is safe to say that the large and enthusiastic audience which filled the tent of Busby's Minstrels last night had their hopes and anticipations more than gratified.

From the rise of the curtain, to its fall in the last act, there was not a dull or tedious moment, while the repeated encores and laughter that followed every song and joke, reflected the audience's sincere approval and appreciation.

The street and stage wardrobe was the most gorgeous, elaborate and expensive ever worn by any organization of a like nature that has exhibited here. And the band, it must not be forgotten, for its noon concert was fine.

THE CAUSE OF CONSTIPATION. Constipation is, in some cases, the direct result from a torpid or slow acting Liver, brought about by the withholding of the flow of bile. This condition is commonly allied with more or less indigestion and dyspepsia, partly due to the constipation itself.

Many persons have found it comparatively easy to overcome such conditions with a treatment of Rexall Liver Salts.

In our judgment, we feel that this preparation is remarkably well fitted to overcome these conditions, and recommend them to you with the understanding that any money you may have spent with us for the preparation will be refunded in case there are no beneficial results.
