DID YOU HELP PAY THIS?

The Portland Railway Light & Power Co. obtained a net income of $95,207.50 from its Oregon City line during the past year. The gross earnings amounted to $194,087.07 and the operating expenses $98,880.47. In 1909 the gross earnings totaled $164,545.51, and the operating expenses were $82,359.76, the net earnings being $82,185.75. The net earnings in 1908 were $63,556.01.

Still this great corporation objects to giving Oregon City a reduction in fares and wants to retain a net of income of more than 50 per cent on the gross earnings. In addition to these figures this company had $28,408.18 net earnings on its freight business in 1910, netting nearly 50 per cent on the gross earnings. This gives the concern a grand net total of $123,615.68 for the year on the Oregon City division alone. The operating expenses in the passenger and freight departments totaled $121,083.78, which is less than the net income. The fight that Oregon City people are putting up to secure a reduction in fare will probably be successful. The company's own figures are a confession of swollen earnings.

On the Cazadero line the net earnings in both departments on the Cazaderos in both departments totaled $337,904.33, the operating expenses amounted to $218,863.75, leaving a net income of $119,040.58.

The average public service corporation will yield only under tremendous pressure, and it is now up to the State Railroad Commission to give the people of Clackamas county relief from exorbitant charges.

Senator Polindexter, of Washington, and Senator Works, of California, voted for the Canadian reciprocity measure. So did Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon. But Senator Bourne voted against it, presumably to please his friend La Follette. While Polindexter and Works are insurgent leaders and are Republicans, Chamberlain showed more Republicanism in his vote than did Bourne, who voted against reciprocity because La Follette, insurgent, did, and voted for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill because Aldrich, standpat, did. One can never put his finger on Jonathan. He is the real elusive Solon.

ABOUT ADJOURNMENT.

That the Senate is willing to adjourn on August 7, or soon thereafter, does not by any means give assurance that the House will consent to do so. In fact the House has promised to keep on sending in tariff bills for the Senate to consider for some time yet, so it is more than likely that Congress will still be with us in September, and possibly in October. Speaker Clark is playing a very conservative game, and he has no reason to fear a continuation of the session because of its possible effect on his political chances—if one may judge by his record thus far. The country seems to consider him a strong candidate, and he has a great many friends outside of the Democratic party as well as in it. If Mr. Clark, Mr. Underwood, and other leaders in the House, are not afraid of a long session, it is unlikely that there will be an adjournment just to suit the Senate.

A TRIFLE GOSSIPY

"Fred," the horse belonging to Horton & Cox, although he has only one eye, "gets there just the same" when it comes to running away. Several years ago the horse lost the sight of his eye, but this does not interfere with its appearance, as the animal is sleek and clean and a fine specimen of horse flesh. "Fred" has an idea he must run away just so often, but always stops when some one calls "whoa!" no matter who it is. If the horse is running at full speed, and if this command is given him he will stop instantly. A few days ago "Fred" ran away on Center street, throwing Earl Horton out of the wagon, and on Wednesday took another run with the wagon filled with ice. No one wished to be the ice man then, although the day was extremely warm. Earl is looking for another driver, as this is the third runaway he has been in during the past month. On Wednesday the horse became frightened while L. P. Williams and Earl Horton were delivering ice in the Seventh Street Hotel, someone turning a horse on to it. The horse was stopped by George Ely.

Old Baseball Star Dies.

OCEAN CITY, N. J., July 27.—John Radcliffe, famous as a baseball player in the '60s and early '70s, died suddenly at the Ocean City Yacht Club. He was 63 years of age. Radcliffe was a member of the celebrated Athletics, of Philadelphia, as pitcher and shortstop. He was regarded as one of the great bare-handed catchers of his time. Radcliffe lived in Camden, N. J., and after retiring from baseball became a poultryman.

COMMISSION INSPECTS
ROADS TOMORROW

Members of the State Road Commission on Saturday will go from Salem to Portland on the east side of the river and from Portland to Salem on the west side of the river in automobiles to determine which is the most feasible route for the Capital Highway between the capital and Portland. Judge Dimick received notice of the proposed trip Thursday, but because of other business, will be unable to accompany the party. The commission also will inspect the grades and examine the roads thoroughly in order to get acquainted with them.

STAMP-SELLING BOX

Huntley Bros. Company, for the accommodation of their customers on Thursday installed a stamp vending machine in their store. It is the first one ever put into operation in Oregon City and it gives quicker and better service than the most expert clerk. The machine takes only nickels and dimes. The coins are dropped into it the same as any other slot machine and the stamps are delivered in envelopes. No profit is made upon the stamps, and it is not required that persons obtaining stamps from the machine shall be customers of other departments of the store.

DIGGING WILL NOT BECOME GENERAL UNTIL AFTER RAINS BEGIN.

EAGLE CREEK GETS NEW RURAL ROUTE

A rural delivery route, twenty-six and three-fourths miles long, has been established at Eagle Creek. It will be known as Route One. About eighty families will be benefited by the service. The residents have urged the establishment of the route for some time, and many applications were made before it was obtained. The rural delivery service in the county is being improved as rapidly as possible, and the indications are that it will soon have as good service as any county in the state.

BEAVERS WIN CLOSE GAME FROM ANGELS

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—(Special.)—The Beavers played fine ball against the Angels today and took one of the best games seen at a Washington street park this season by a score of 2 to 1.

There was something doing every minute, particularly in the fielding line. Sensational catches were the order of the day. Seaton and Delhi, pitted against each other, put up good exhibitions, allowing only scattered hits that figured little in the scoring. Krueger obtained a freak hit in the fourth that brought a laugh from the fans. He threw his bat at one of Delhi's wide ones, knocking the ball down the first base line and then beating it to the bag.

The results Thursday were as follows:

Pacific Coast League—Portland 2, Los Angeles 1; San Francisco 1, Oakland 0; Sacramento 2, Vernon 1. Northwestern League—Vancouver 3, Portland 1; Seattle 11, Victoria 4; Tacoma 4, Spokane 3. American League—Cleveland 4, Philadelphia 3; New York 5, St. Louis 4; Detroit 7, Washington 1; Boston 9, Chicago 4.
