CANDIDATES WORK HARD FOR GEMS

TEST FOR DIAMOND RINGS
MOST EXCITING OF BIG PRIZE COMPETITION.

OFFER FOR RESERVE VOTES

Opportunity Given For Many New Entrants, Who Are Expected to Set Pace in Merry Race For Prizes.

There was no end of suspense and excitement among the candidates in the prize grand voting contest until today's announcement of the extraordinary offer of two genuine diamond rings to be awarded the candidate in each district doing the work between now and 6 p. m. at 11. Now we anticipate the great battle for votes since the test was inaugurated, as every candidate, whether first on the list or not, has an equal chance to be voted, and besides it will be the test of your piling up a reserve toward winning one of those valuable $100 Kimball pianos and other valuable prizes to be awarded on the night of September 2.
Now, you who entered the contest
for any other reason have now been able to become actively engaged in a canvass for subscriptions, and to work NOW. Your chances in one of these valuable rings
just as good, if not a little better, than those of a candidate who has only covered the territory.

Candidates Doing Best Work.
Reports indicate that candidates working harder since this extra offer was announced than during the previous offer, and why didn't they, when for a little more of a week's earnest work they have a chance not only to win a beautiful diamond ring but at the same time to pile up votes for the same time and keep after votes. This special offer is going to cause
a standing of candidates from until August 15. Some of those are at the bottom of the list who place with some of those at top, so it behooves you who are to lead to do your level best to win. You surely will not if you don't attend strictly to business and keep after votes. This special offer is going to cause
of the tardy ones to wake up they will be tramping on your before the close of the offer at on August 14. The Contest Editor tells you this is going to be the liveliest period of the contest.

Contest Becomes Keen.
The fact that a candidate entering the contest now has an equal chance with all others to win one of these valuable rings will bring forth more enthusiasm and competition will be fiercer than ever.

You wish to enter this merry contest send in your name at once on the nomination blank printed on next page or if you know of some body you would like to enter, send the nomination blank with the name of your choice and bring or mail
it to the Contest Department of the Enterprise.

Member candidates, for each subscription to the Daily Enterprise you receive 2000 votes and each yearly subscription to the Daily Enterprise you receive 1000 votes under this special offer. It makes no difference whether subscription is new or old. This is the very chance you will have to accumulate a good vote reserve and good test work will place your name
at the list of winners the closing of the contest, September 2.

GLADSTONE TO HAVE FIRE DEPARTMENT

A meeting will be held at the City Hall at Gladstone this evening to make arrangements for the organization of a fire company. The meeting was called by Emery Noble, of Gladstone, and a large attendance of prospective firemen is expected. The grass is unusually dry now, and as there is virtually no fire protection in this thriving little city a fire company is badly needed. The election of officers will take place soon after the full complement of men is obtained.

MISS KARR IS MARRIED.
Former Oregon City Teacher is Bride of Seattle Man.
The marriage of Miss Edith C. Karr and Gregory E. Karr was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage on Friday evening at 5 o'clock, the Rev. S. E. Davis officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Karr left for their future home at Seattle, Wash.
The bride is well known in this city. She was formerly teacher in the Oregon City schools, and taught afterward in Portland. She has lived for some time in Millwaukie.

DISTRICTS FOR SCHOOL SUPERVISORS NAMED

The County Educational Board and Superintendent of County Schools Gary virtually have decided upon the districts to which the supervisors will be assigned. The designations are as follows: C. F. Anderson, to all territory east of Damascus and north of Clackamas, and territory south of range 2, between Clackamas and Molalla rivers, excepting districts 10 and 25; J. E. Calavan, districts 10 and 25, and all territory south and west of the Willamette river; Mrs. Emilie C. Shaw, territory north of range 4 between Clackamas, Molalla and Willamette rivers between Damascus and Willamette. Superintendent Gary will visit the schools at Boring, Sandy, Estacada, Springwater, Upper Logau, Molalla, Needy, Macksburg, Canby, Wilsonville, Willamette, West Side, Oswego, Millwaukie, Oak Grove, Gladstone, Parkplace and Clackamas. The supervisors have started to work, but their salaries do not start until September 1.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN AT BOLLINGER CAMP

One of the most enjoyable entertainments of the week was the party given at the camp of the Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Bollinger, on the banks of the Clackamas river Thursday evening. The ladies with well filled lunch baskets, went to "Camp Bollinger," where they prepared a spread, which will not soon be forgotten by those partaking of it. Everything the market could afford was found on the menu. The men arrived in the evening and brought with them large appetites. After supper was served came vocal music and story telling. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Charles D. Latourette and Mrs. R. D. Wilson. The Rev. Bollinger was pastor of the Congregational church in this city five years ago, and he and his wife have a host of friends here. Among those attending were Mrs. Julia Haskell, Mrs. Lena Charman, Mrs. Mary Charman, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Charman, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Zumwalt, son and daughter, Miss Clarice, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noble, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cadell, Mr. and Mrs. James Willard, Mr. and Mrs. Reams, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. Sophia Charman, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Biezer, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Keaton, Mrs. W. S. Wolfenbarger, Mrs. C. D. Latourette, Mrs. R. D. Wilson, Mrs. H. C. Ferguson, Mrs. D. Shank, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Tota, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. John Lavery, Mrs. A. D. Burren, Mrs. H. P. Brighthill, Mr. and Mrs. John McFarlane, Mrs. and Mrs. J. Bollinger, Charles, Miss Helen and Miss Alice Bollinger.

Wives Counsel Get Licenses.
The following wives secured marriage licenses by County Clerk Mark W. Seldens: Mary Francis and J. E. Seldens; Harriet Polheim and J. E. Mumfower; Edith C. Karr and Gregory E. Carr, of Seattle, Wash.

WISNER SNUBBED, THEN DISMISSED

DEPOSED SUPERINTENDENT OF
HATCHERIES TELLS AMAZING
STORY.

EVILS FAR FROM BEING CORRECTED
Statement Strikes at Root of Trouble
in Department Which West Said
Had Been Taken Out
of Politics.

J. N. Wisner, of Oregon City, recently dismissed from the position of State Superintendent of Hatcheries by the State Fish and Game Commission on Friday issued a remarkable statement in which he details the inside history that led to abolishing the office which was created for him. He served less than two months. Mr. Wisner has had wide experience in fish culture and his dismissal has caused much unfavorable comment directed at the state administration. His statement strikes at the root of the evils that are said to still exist in the State Fish and Game Commission, notwithstanding the promise of Governor West that the commission had been taken out of politics.
The statement in part follows:
Having been dismissed from the service of the State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners without any exoneration or any statement to the public, I feel called upon to sketch for my friends some of the conditions incident to my appointment, service and expulsion.
The present governor's proposal of the commission plan, which I believed to be giving fine results elsewhere, gave me confidence in his desire to try to get results. I forwarded my application to him and later went to see him. About all I got out of him was that he knew "all about this fish business and game business, too." My ten years' of studying "this fish business" made me think him a remarkable man and I accepted the invitation to be present that night when the proposed Commission law was gone over. I left the meeting with the impression that he did not know "all" about fish-culture but with the belief that he was sincerely interested. Waiting until the legislature had adjourned I went to see him again with the view of telling him of some policies which I believed the work needed and hoping he would suggest to me to the Commission. The impression I gained was that he felt he had no further responsibility in the work.
Clanton is Elected.
After the Commission had organized it elected R. E. Clanton to the position in question. Immediately upon hearing of his election I wrote him a letter of congratulation.
On the evening of May 24 I was notified to meet a committee of one appointed by the Commission and upon doing so was informed they had provided the position of "State Superintendent of Hatcheries" and offered it to me. After talking over the matter I stated that I could not accept the position unless I could meet the Commission and have the opportunities for misunderstandings cleared up. This was agreed to and I went to Portland the next morning, finding the Commission in deep trouble.
It appeared they had made the position and offered to me without the knowledge or consent of Clanton. Upon learning conditions he hastened to them and entered a very spirited protest, threatening his resignation. Although I had reported to the hotel at 9 a. m., he kept them until 11:30, and they were a sorry looking outfit when I met them.
Ignoring the fact that I had made it plain I would not accept without explanation, they said they thought the best we should talk things over. It was brought out that they had made two departments, placing Finley at the head of one and Clanton at the head of the other. They wanted a superintendent of hatcheries to act in conjunction with these two men. My questions elicited that the heads of the departments were, respectively, to be held responsible in all matters—adoption of methods, employment of labor, purchase of supplies, etc. I asked if I was wanted purely in an advisory capacity to which they assented. I then stated that I would not handicap the work and could not accept without first talking with Clanton to ascertain his attitude towards me. This was finally agreed to.
Goes to Astoria.
The Sunday evening following my appointment I went with Clanton to Astoria. In the meantime I talked with him several times. He told me he could see that I could be of great service to both Finley and himself. On the trip to Astoria he explained a good many things of interest to me. In telling me of his appointment he dwelt on the strong support given him by West—even to the extent of building up assurances for him in the papers. I told him I was surprised he had secured Cranston's support. He explained that he had done something for Cranston's section of the state and that he was absolutely sure of him. I had heard rumors that the Pendleton branch of the Insane Asylum had influenced Cranston, also that the requirement that two Eastern Oregon men should be appointed on the Commission might have pleased him. I had not, however, thought much about anything of the kind until then when I remembered how West and Clanton had both, presumably, fought this, and Clanton's vivid portrayal of how Eastern and Southern Oregon men always stand as a unit against the rest of the state made me a bit suspicious.
Ignored by Clanton.
After the Astoria trip Clanton told me Finley wanted me to help him

12 ENROLLED IN NAVAL DIVISION

MAJORITY OF SIGNERS OF AP-PLICATIONS VANISH DUR-ING EXAMINATION.

RECRUITS GOING ON BIG SEA TRIP
Officers Are Not Discouraged And Will Try to Get Full Complement of Men on Return From Cruise.

Recruiting officer, Lieutenant W. E. Bouscher, of the Oregon Naval Militia, assisted by L. J. Wolff, Lieutenant Commander; B. L. Norden, Lieutenant, and Chief Yeoman J. A. Beckwith Friday night examined and accepted twelve of the forty-five who signed for the Oregon City division. When the officers called for the others they had disappeared and not a trace of them could be found.
The examining board was assisted by Dr. Meissner, of Oregon City, and Lieutenant W. R. Logus. The twelve who were examined and sworn in will report to the deck officer on board the Cruiser Boston Tuesday evening before 8 o'clock for duty and will participate in the cruise. After the cruise arrangements will be made for drill at Oregon City, the first enrollment being the nucleus of a future division.
Those enrolled Friday night are as follows: Harry Y. Miller, Joe Allen, Gilbert P. Morris, Clayton Freytag, Leslie D. Henry, Earl W. Burke, Charles F. Beattie, Carl Larsen, George H. Johns, Lyle Kellogg and William Grossenbacher.
The boys who enlisted are wondering what happened to the thirty or more who disappeared. The result is not as encouraging as the number of signatures to the original application would warrant, but the officers are hopeful that the full complement will be enrolled soon.
The physical examinations in the naval branch of the militia are more strict than in the Guard, but both are thorough. A healthier lot than those enlisted would be hard to find, all having good records. It is thought that the examinations frightened several of the young men who disappeared.

SCHWAB DEFENDS STEEL COMBINE

FORMER PRESIDENT DECLARES
OBJECT WAS TO DEVELOP
BIG INDUSTRY.

WITNESS MAKES PLEA FOR TARIFF
Man Who Organized Trust Says Germany Can Sell on Pacific Coast For Less Than
Home Factories.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Charles M. Schwab, now a competitor of the United States Steel Corporation, today revealed that corporation before the House committee of inquiry as the child of his own brain, reared by J. P. Morgan, with the acquiescence, since regretted, of Andrew Carnegie.
Mr. Schwab pictured the Steel Corporation as a legal organization, not formed to curtail output, restrict competition or maintain prices, but to develop the steel industry of America.
Aside from reciting the inside history of the origin of the Steel Corporation, he gave the committee much information relating to traffic matters, ore properties and steel manufacturers.
The witness denied that the recent Brussels conference of steel manufacturers of the world had anything to do with fixing prices.
Representative Sterling, of Illinois, led Mr. Schwab into a general discussion of the tariff on steel, particularly as to the relations of the business in this country and Germany.
"The real purpose of the tariff on steel," Mr. Sterling suggested, "is to protect you from the home market. You say you can manufacture rails as cheaply as Germany, and you still have the advantage in that they must transport to our market."
"Yes, but Germany can now transport to our Pacific Coast for less than that we can ship from Pittsburgh to the Coast," said Mr. Schwab.

WOMAN INJURED BY BLAST ASKS $1,000

Mrs. Nancy Anderson, of Barton, through her attorneys, C. D. and D. C. Latourette, filed with the County Court a claim Friday for $1,000 for personal damages. Mrs. Anderson alleges that she was seriously injured by a blast caused by a blast several months ago. The charge is said to have been placed by road supervisors in a gravel pit near the home of Mrs. Anderson. She alleges that missiles were hurled through the window of her house and several of them struck her on the side, injuring her severely. The court will make an investigation.

WORKMEN FLEE STONE HURLED BY BLAST

Several men employed by the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company narrowly escaped injury Friday when shattered stone was hurled into the enclosure where they were working by a blast set by employees of a telephone company. The men were blasting holes for telephone poles. When the shower of rock began falling they made a dash for a building and not a one was injured. Chief of Police Shaw was summoned and cautioned the workmen for the telephone company regarding blasting within the city limits. It was alleged that the blast that endangered the mill employees was not properly set.

MOLALLA GRANGE TO HAVE ITS FINEST FAIR

W. W. Everhart, of Molalla, was in this city on business Friday in connection with the Molalla Grange Fair, which will be held on September 23. The fair last year was a great credit to the Molalla country. More than 1,000 persons attended and the exhibition was the finest ever held in that part of the county, and those having charge of this year's fair promise even a better display. The Molalla band has been engaged to furnish the music and all kinds of sports, including races, tug-of-war, and cressid pig will be on the program.
The following committees have been appointed: Arrangements—J. W. Thomas, O. N. Daugherty and W. W. Everhart; stock, G. V. Adams; sports, J. H. Cole; agricultural and horticultural department, O. R. Daugherty; refreshments, H. N. Everhart; fancy work, Miss Kate Adams, juvenile, Mrs. R. P. Mackrell.

QUESTION NO. 6 Does The Moving Picture Depict Crime?

The moving picture does not depict crime. A complete and true portrayal of life without showing its errors, follies and weaknesses is impossible, but the moving picture only takes notice of the darker side of life. It is an incident and devotes for space to it than the daily press, the Bible or Shakespeare.
