STAFFORD.

The surrounding country has had some rain we hear which has cooled off Stafford delightfully.

The harvesters are being secured and the thrasher will soon be heard as some few have attacked grain when not efficiently cured and are afraid of it heating and injuring the grain.

Mr. Aerni and wife and little daughter started Sunday morning early to drive to Bethany to see the wife's mother, driving one of their farm horses. When near the corner by Mr. Davis at Tualatin she ran away, got one foot in a barb wire fence, tore the shoe off, overturned the buggy, throwing all three out, broke the buggy to pieces, got loose and when they picked themselves up she was out of sight. Fortunately they found with the exception of various bruises, they were unhurt and Mr. Aerni started after the horse, but took the wrong road and hunted for miles then turned toward home, live on an old farm owned by the Aernis.

Two or three families had a pleasant picnic dinner in Nussbaum's woods last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Schatz attended church at Frog Pond last Sunday and heard the new minister and liked his sermon very much.

The trustees laid out the ground for the new church on last Saturday upon the land donated by Mrs. Brink for that purpose, and expect to build in the near future.

Mr. Gage's granddaughter, Miss Alice Sweek, of Eastern Oregon, who has been attending the summer normal at Corvallis, is now visiting relatives at Stafford and Tualatin.

Miss Harriet Hayes, daughter of Judge Hayes, of Oregon City, is still with her aunt, Mrs. Millem on the old Hayes ranch where her father played when a boy. Miss Harriet is a very pleasant young lady.

Mr. Millem's son, with his wife and baby, are also staying till the harvest is over.

Some one tried to play a practical joke or else got the mistaken notion that our esteemed fellow-townman, Fred Moser, might be an easy mark, so stuck a typewritten letter into his barn door where he found it last Tuesday morning, threatening dire disaster if he didn't put $1500 in the corner of the grave yard at 11 o'clock Friday night, and to say nothing to nobody. The letter is a wonderfully expressed composition, showing deep thought as to the best and most forcible way to impress the fact upon his mind that the authors must have the money, but beyond frightening an invalid wife almost into nervous prostration it had but little effect. Fred says it can be seen at the Sheriff's office if any one wishes to read it, but whether it was done for a joke or otherwise is the question. It is not a safe game to play and all hope the authors will be found out.

Hope are looking pretty good and according to the papers prices are soaring high.

Mrs. Zack Elleksen, who went to Long Beach on the first for her health, is improving and enjoying her sojourn there very much.

WILSONVILLE.

Mrs. Marion Young and party returned from their camping trip Monday, having had a very enjoyable time. Mrs. Wm. Brobst entertained a few friends on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Wharton.

Miss Hayman, of Clackamas, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Norris Young for the past week.

A good many people have been driving out to Aubrey Wood's farm lately to see the oil derrick and make sure that people are really drilling for oil here.

Mr. Bethune returned to his home at Lents Saturday.

Boats are loaded with freight lately, passing our village, as people are anxious to make the best use of river landings before the boats stop running.

Mrs. Halley has been elected teacher of the White Gate school near Butteville.

The entertainment given by Ocean Jolly and Helen Campbell Jensen last Friday evening at the A. O. W. W. hall was a great treat to all who attended.

Mrs. Hillman, formerly a resident near Wilsonville, but later of Sherwood, died at her home in Sherwood Friday, and was buried in Pleasant Hill cemetery on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Alison Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Porter and other old neighbors from here attended the funeral.

The halting machines of Peter & Aden, and Norris Young and others are all going at full blast, as nearly all the farmers have lots of hay this year.

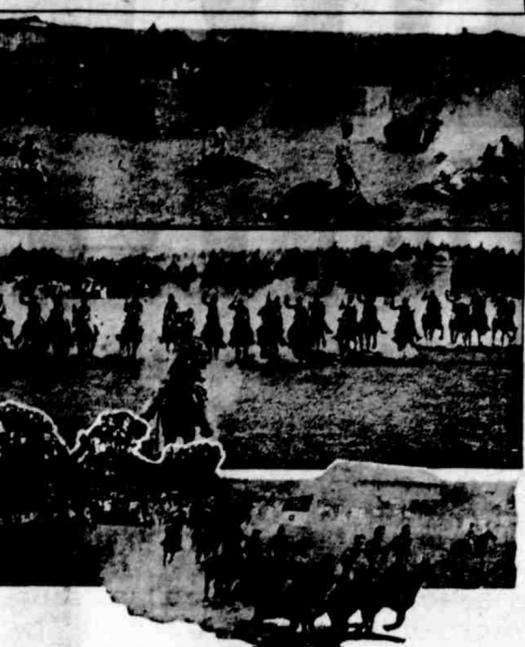

Mrs. Halley and her mother went to Lagrange on Saturday evening, being called there to attend the funeral of Mrs. Grandy, who died suddenly of pneumonia. Mrs. Grandy was an aunt of Mrs. Halley's, who spent the summer visiting her at their home near Wilsonville.

Three of the Seely children were operated upon for adenoids by Dr. Mount, of Oregon City, and are getting along splendidly.

Mrs. Cora Hasselbrink's many friends are glad to learn that she is growing stronger after undergoing an operation for appendicitis in a Portland hospital.

Miss Wharton, who has been visiting at the home of her cousin, Marlon Young, returned on Saturday evening after spending her vacation here. She was the honored guest at several functions while in Wilsonville.

Horses Show Their Intelligence And Enjoyment In Cavalry Drill

WHEN the veterans who took part in the battle of Bull Run recently assembled on the historic battlefield to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of that conflict there were many soldiers present who might have been the grandchildren or even the great-grandchildren of the men who met to fight again the battle that really opened the civil war.

Two troops of cavalry from Fort Myer went to the battlefield to serve as an escort for President Taft, who made the trip by automobile. These cavalrymen gave several exhibitions that interested and amused the veterans. They made their horses lie down and remain as if dead, they formed in order and made a dash-charge against an imaginary enemy, and later they did "rough riding" tricks that elicited wild applause. These exploits are shown in the picture.

Most of the lots on the camp ground have been disposed of.

Much interest is shown here of the east side auto road leading from Portland to Salem and P. D. Newell, J. Roberts and Ed. Webb were a committee from the Jennings Lodge Community Club to attend the meeting in Oregon City on Tuesday.

A committee of three from this Community Club will be appointed to assist the Capital Highway Commission.

Mrs. Carl Wintler, who has visited here many times, is quite ill at her home in Vancouver, Wash.

Lloyd Rice, of Portland, was a Lodge visitor last week.

Sergeant Langdon H. Spooner left Saturday morning for Fort Perry, O., being one of the Oregon team of sharpshooters who will attend the annual rifle tournament of the National Guardsmen and regular army.

The shoot to take place on Aug. 21. Mr. Spooner, in company with the other members, left over the O. R. & N. in a special car and they expect to be absent a month.

David Clark invited the residents and campers along the river to a melon party at his camp on Cedar Island Saturday evening. Seventy-five responded to the invitations, going over in launches and by boat. The evening was spent with songs and games. Huge bonfires and sticks were provided for the toasting of the marshmallows. Mr. Clark proved a genial host.

Some of the younger set of the Y. M. C. A., of Portland, are enjoying an outing on Cedar Island.

"The Umbra" is the name of the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Umbdenstock and family who built this spring on the Willamette at this place. Mr. Umbdenstock arrived in Portland last year from Chicago and is interested in real estate in Portland, being one of the promoters of Jonesmore. On account of the natural scenery and cool breezes from the Willamette many summer homes are being built along the river bank.

Judge and Mrs. Bronaugh have decided to call their country place "Homewood."

Sergeant Lloyd Spooner left for Camp Sumner at Columbia Beach with Co. B to spend a week.

A card from Miss Bronie Jennings told of a most delightful time in Paris. Miss Jennings has visited in London and on her return to New York the latter part of the month will visit in New Jersey and British Columbia, and also in Tacoma before returning home.

Mrs. Vivian Tibbetts and little daughter, Wills Marie and Miss Fern Hart will leave this week for Seaside.

Mrs. Will Finley and children are enjoying an outing at Seaside.

Miss Margaret Reaney, of Seattle, will spend the month of August with her aunt, Mrs. Horace Cushing.

Mr. Hendricks, of Oregon City, and Charles Mayne, of Portland, and George Sewall, of Lebanon, were dinner guests at the Emmons home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have taken up a homestead near Blaine, Ore., and will leave soon for the above place.

Miss Dorothy Woodhams of Arleta, visited Mrs. Steinhilber last week.

Mrs. Hammond, of Tacoma, and Mrs. Westerfield, of Jones Mill, autotod to the Lodge on Tuesday and spent the day with friends.

DAREDEVIL BIRDMEN SCORED BY WRIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Wilbur Wright, on his latest tour of Europe, has increased his disgust at the daredevil tactics of the European aviators. "The sensational flights" are hurting the science, he declared, on his arrival here. "They do not work toward maintaining a healthy interest in aeronautics, or help in practical development of the machines," he continued. "Take the recent international Circuit Aviation Race, for example. That was, in no sense, a test of what the machines or the pilots could do. It was merely a reckless sporting event, in which the men bet their lives against a certain amount of money. It was a gamble with death. Beaumont, the winner, narrowly escaped being killed. His motor stopped at one time when he was in a position where he could not get sure death. By some freak his motor started when he was within a few feet of the ground and saved him from being dashed to death. He might have had a funeral instead of the $50,000 prize. "This is the sort of thing to be discouraged. Such sensational events are exploited to the detriment of science. "What the average man—not the daredevil or the simpleton—can do with an aeroplane is the problem we are concerned with."
