DOUBLE VOTES TO REMAIN
IN EFFECT UNTIL AUGUST
24, AT 6 P. M.

The battle is really on in earnest; candidates are taking advantage of the extended "double vote" offer and it is safe to say that this is going to be the liveliest period of the campaign up to date. Their friends are taking a more active interest. Numerous inquiries are received at the office every day from all over the county as to who is in the lead, and how Miss or Mrs. So and So stand. Those interested haven't time to wait until their paper is delivered. This is the best indication possible that you are not the only one interested in your success. All of you have more friends who will stand by you to the finish than you yourself imagine. Subscribers are received daily with requests that the votes be credited to Miss or Mrs. So and So. Now this is surely an indication that some of you have not covered the territory thoroughly or did not prevail upon your prospective subscribers sufficiently when you called on them. Every one of your friends will help you by giving their subscription if you show them that their assistance will mean victory for you. By keeping your name well up on the list it will be much easier to convince your friends that their votes are not going to be lost and they will much more readily subscribe and vote in your favor than they would if you were at the bottom of the list, which naturally causes them to believe your chances at the best are doubtful and they would be throwing their votes away. You cannot blame them if they turn to some other candidate—a mutual friend who lends the list and to whom they believe their votes would really be of some assistance.

WORK HARD AND VOTE OFTEN
An order that all will know you have chance. Subscriptions, which mean votes, will come much easier when you are considered a contestant for whatever prize you are endeavoring to win. "All the world loves a lover," but no more so than "all the world loves a winner," and mutual friends of yours and another contestant will come to your aid when you are able to show them your name included with the leaders. That will inspire confidence in you and the natural consequence is that those who may have been supporting another candidate—a mutual friend—will come to your assistance "eye-tooth and toe-nail" and do all in their power to place you upon the throne. Victory lies easily within the reach of any of you if you do your best from now until the closing night of the contest. Convince your friends that you are in earnest by keeping as near the top of the list as possible, and their assistance means so much to you, and you will be surprised at the hearty response and willingness

TACOMA JAILBREAKER IS ARRESTED HERE

Edward Bentz, charged with jail breaking and burglary by Chief of Police Fraser, of Tacoma, was arrested here Thursday by Chief of Police Shaw. The chief says that Bentz told him he was guilty and would return to Tacoma without requisition. Bentz was working in a mill when he was captured.

Chief Fraser telegraphed to Chief Shaw several days ago, giving the information that Bentz was thought to be hiding in this city. The man was traced to the mill through his brother who came to this city the first of the week. The brother had applied for work at the mill.

BOY ON WHEEL HURT IN COLLISION WITH AUTO

George R. Mielke, while returning on his bicycle from the slaughter house of his brother-in-law, H. W. Strebig, had a narrow escape from being killed on Main street near the Larsen grocery store. A dog was running after the boy, and in trying to keep from running over it, Mielke turned his wheel to the opposite side of the street, not noticing an automobile was bearing down on him until it was too late. The boy was hurled over the front wheel of his bicycle which was demolished. The man in charge of the automobile, who was from Portland, stopped and picked up the boy, but did not offer to pay for the damaged wheel. Mielke received slight injuries to his neck. When the car struck him he had in his pocket a six-inch skinning knife, that had just been sharpened. After the accident the knife was found on the sidewalk, it having been thrown out of his pocket when he was struck by the automobile.

ASKS DIVORCE BECAUSE WIFE STAYS IN EAST

Charles W. Carr has filed a suit for divorce against Cecelia E. Carr. They were married on December 26, 1898, and lived at Kewanna, Ill. He moved to Seattle in 1905 and soon after went to Portland. Mrs. Carr has refused to come West to make her home, although her husband has requested her to do so, he alleges and as he has decided to remain in the West, he asks for a divorce through his attorney, E. E. Miller.

M'LOUGHLIN RELIC TO BE PLACED IN HOME

Carl Mohawk, a carpenter, is in possession of a relic of value. While moving the old McLaughlin home in this city to the bluff some time ago he found a hatchet under the brick foundation of the fireplace. The handle was decayed, and the steel blade was thick with rust. Mr. Mohawk removed the hatchet, and inserted a new handle, and is using the tool. The blade of the hatchet is of the heaviest steel, and has an imprint of the English trade-mark. It is the intention of Mr. Mohawk to place the hatchet with the other relics in the museum at the McLaughlin home when a cabinet is placed in the historic home. Other relics that are to be donated by a number of Oregon City residents and other persons will be placed in the cabinet.

LODERS BACK FROM LONG VISIT IN EAST

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Loder, of this city, and their young son Jack, who have been visiting in the East, have returned to their home in this city. Mrs. Loder and son preceded Mr. Loder three weeks, and visited the McIntyre family at Peoria, Ill., who formerly lived in this city. They met Mr. Loder at Winnipeg, and from there they went to Fort William, which is on the north coast of Lake Superior, through the Sioux Canal, and landed at Owen's Sound. From that place they went to Niagara Falls, and from there to Buffalo, where they remained for two days, and then went to Rochester, Albany, New York City, and other prominent cities in New York state. They also went to Boston, Concord, Plymouth and Lexington, and visited the grounds of the Harvard University.

WOODMEN ARRANGE TO RECEIVE HEAD COUNCIL

The special committee on reception, consisting of G. L. Snidow, M. E. Dunn, D. E. Frost, D. C. Ely and L. Adams, of the Woodmen of the World, met Thursday evening in the office of E. H. Cooper, and completed the details of the reception to be accorded by the local lodge to I. I. Boak, Head Council, September 5. Elaborate arrangements were made for the reception of the distinguished visitor, who is expected to deliver an address of unusual importance on the work of the order. There will be musical and literary programs and other features. All members of the lodge are urged to attend and bring with them their men friends.

BOARDER FINDS TWO EGGS IN SAME SHELL

J. B. Carter, of this city, who is very fond of eggs, ordered eggs for his breakfast at the Moreland boarding house Thursday morning. Mrs. Moreland, when purchasing eggs for her boarding house, buys the best and the largest. The egg given Mr. Carter was of good size, and after he had partaken of the egg he was astonished to find in the bottom of the egg cup an egg the size of pigeon's eggs. The small egg evidently had been in the larger one. It was placed on exhibition in the Promotion Building of the Commercial Club.

TAYLOR DIVORCE SUIT IS REOPENED

MILLIONAIRE'S EX-WIFE WINS POINT IN FIGHT FOR MAINTENANCE.

CHARGES IN COMPLAINT ARE DENIED

Lawyers For Plaintiff Announce That Case Will Be Appealed— Answer of Defendant Is Filed.

Circuit Judge Eakin Thursday reopened the suit for an annulment of the marriage of Charles P. Taylor, the millionaire miner, formerly of Goldfield, and Minnie N. Taylor, who is seeking $2,500 monthly maintenance. Attorneys Brownell and Stone, for the plaintiff, immediately filed notice that an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court. Mrs. Taylor's attorneys, Fliegel and Reynolds, of Portland, filed an answer to the complaint denying allegations made by Mr. Taylor.

The plaintiff soon after selling his mine at Goldfield for $1,500,000, was married to the defendant. She alleges that he abandoned her while they were touring Europe, leaving her with only 40 cents. The annulment was obtained in the Circuit Court here last September, and soon after Mrs. Taylor filed suit for maintenance at her home in Santa Ana, Cal. She alleges that at that time she did not know that her husband had obtained the annulment. The summons, she says, was published in a Canby paper, and if a copy was sent to her she declares she did not receive it. In her answer the defendant denies that she was not temperate and moral when she and Mr. Taylor were married.

"The defendant denies," says the answer, "that she ever made any representations to the plaintiff as to her being a temperate woman and not addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors, or that she was chaste or virtuous, or that she was of a good moral character or habits, but alleges the fact to be that she was prior to her marriage to the plaintiff and has at all times been temperate, not addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors; that she was chaste and virtuous and of good moral character and habits, and denies that the plaintiff was deceived by the defendant in any manner whatever, or that the plaintiff was induced to enter into the marriage with the defendant by reason of any false or untrue representations made by defendant."

Unless the decision of Judge Eakin is reversed by the Supreme Court the case will be called for trial here at the September term of court and much sensational testimony is expected to be introduced. Mr. Taylor has announced that he will fight to the last to prevent paying the big alimony asked by Mrs. Taylor. In rendering his decision Judge Eakin said that the decree of annulment was still in force and would remain as it is unless the defendant won her suit for maintenance. The judge cited many authorities in his opinion showing that it had been customary to reopen cases where there was a question as to the defendant's having been properly served with papers after the filing of the suit. The attorneys for the plaintiff said that the issue was one to be determined within the discretion of the court, but the judge held that he had no discretion in the matter.

In a recent interview Mrs. Taylor said that she was married in Portland in 1906 when, she alleges, Mr. Taylor was heavily in debt, but had mining prospects. She denied a story that her husband had given her a mansion as a wedding present and declared that he spent little money on her. She admitted that he gave her $4,000 with which to build a home for her mother.

PLAN TO HAVE NEW LOCKS APPROVED

COMMERCIAL CLUB WIRES OREGON SENATORS AND CONGRESSMEN TO AID.

WAR SECRETARY FAVORS EAST SIDE

Proposal To Buy Existing Oregon City Works Rejected By Engineers Because Of Price Asked.

Members of the Oregon City Commercial Club and the Willamette Open River and Freight Rate Association have wired to the Oregon Senators and Congressmen to urge the acceptance of the report of the army engineers recommending the construction of a canal and locks on the east side of the Willamette River at the falls. The Secretary of War is expected to approve the report in a few days.

The cost of the proposed work is estimated at $754,000, and immediate steps will be taken by the government to acquire the necessary right of way. It is estimated that four years will be required to build the canal after the right of way is obtained.

The Army engineers have agreed with the opinion expressed some time ago by Major Melndoe that it is better and cheaper to build a canal on the east side of the river than to acquire the existing west side canal now owned by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and rebuild and enlarge it.

Not only is it found cheaper to build the new canal, but by the adoption of this plan the Willamette will be kept open to continuous navigation during the time the canal and locks are under construction, whereas navigation would have to be suspended for 18 months to three years if the west side canal should be rebuilt.

It is estimated that engineering work on the proposed canal and locks would cost $624,000, and that $130,000 additional would have to be spent on right of way. This is much cheaper than the cost of purchasing and rebuilding the old canal, for the engineers estimate that a total expenditure of $1,142,500 would be necessary to make this canal suitable for all commerce.

The engineers propose to construct a canal with locks 45 feet wide and 300 feet long, with a navigable depth of six feet. This is the same depth as the channel below the Willamette Falls.

While the cost of the proposed canal and locks is $154,000 greater than the amount originally thought necessary, the engineers are of the opinion that work should be undertaken in the interest of free navigation. Oregon has appropriated $300,000, and Congress has appropriated a like amount, of which $50,000 has been expended in surveys and estimates. Therefore it will require an additional appropriation by Congress of $159,000 before the canal can be completed, but with $600,000 immediately available no further appropriation by Congress will be necessary before 1915, in view of the engineers, who are of the opinion that Oregon, having appropriated $300,000, has borne its fair share of the cost, and they recommend that Congress, at the proper time, appropriate the necessary remainder.

In the opinion of the engineers, the price asked by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for its canal is excessive, and if the Secretary of War approves the new canal project, they recommend that the offer of this old canal be formally rejected. This will be done. It is estimated that it will cost $10,000 a year to maintain the canal and locks after completion.

PLAN PASSING BILL OVER TAFT VETO

DEMOCRATS WILL TRY TO MAKE WOOL TARIFF REDUCTION MEASURE LAW.

MANN DECLARES VOTES ARE LACKING

Republican Insurgents Who Supported Bill Not Expected To Aid Majority In Fight On President.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Republican applause which greeted President Taft's veto of the wool tariff bill, as it was read in the House today, was followed by an outburst of Democratic cheers when Majority Leader Underwood announced that he would call up the bill tomorrow and move its passage over the veto.

The President's veto message reached the House while the House was considering a motion to concur in the Senate's amendments to the free list bill. When the reading was considered Mr. Underwood arose.

"Mr. Speaker," he said, "I do not desire to ask that this message from the President be referred to the committee on ways and means, I ask that it lie on the Speaker's table and give notice that I will call up the bill tomorrow, immediately after the reading of the journal, and move to pass it over the President's veto."

Cheers and shouts from the Democratic members greeted the announcement. Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, asked unanimous consent to incorporate in the record a portion of President Taft's speech at Winona, Mich., in the last campaign in which he described the wool schedule of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as "indefensible." Republican Leader Mann asked unanimous consent to incorporate the entire Winona speech in the record, and Mr. Mann's motion was carried.

The Democratic majority tomorrow will make a determined effort to pass the bill over the veto. They have hope that they will be able to do this. Representative Mann and other leaders expressed confidence tonight that this would be impossible.

Representative Dwight, the Republican whip, has told the President that the majority will not be able to muster enough to carry the bill by a two-thirds vote. On the recent passage of the compromise bill in the House, the vote was 206 to 90.

Many members of both parties reached Washington today, and all absentees are ordered to be on hand tomorrow. The Democrats expect, with their full quota of members present, together with 30 Republicans who voted for the bill, that they can develop a two-thirds majority. Republican leaders assert that many of the insurgents who voted for the bill will not do so over the President's head.

MAN ARRESTED FOR CARRYING GUN FLEES

Joseph Krutas, charged with carrying a deadly weapon concealed, forfeited his cash bond of $50. He was to have been tried before a jury and Justice of the Peace Samson Thursday morning. The jury had been summoned and everything was in readiness for the trial, but the defendant did not put in an appearance. Petronella Markostschute swore out the complaint against Krutas. It is reported that she intended to get out another complaint against him charging that he threatened to kill her, Krutas and the woman are said to have amused themselves by shooting at a target within the city limits.

SANDY ELECTION TO BE EXCITING

The city election to determine whether Sandy is to be incorporated, will be held August 26. There are two tickets and the election promises to be an exciting one. The following are the candidates: For mayor, P. R. Meinig and E. F. Bruns; recorder, W. W. Pomeroy and A. G. Boranstedt; treasurer, A. O. Meinig; marshal, Alf Bell; aldermen, George A. Wolf, P. B. Gray, O. Dahlgren, T. D. Phelps, Otto Meinig, L. E. Hoffman, Casper Junker, Max Davis, R. E. Esson, J. E. Pomeroy, M. Davies and H. Perret.

SEE HERE

Seven acres, one-fourth mile from electric line, 4-room house, barn, chicken house, and yard, good well and fine spring, three and a half acres in garden, fruit and berries; good cow and chickens. Will take $2,500. Half cash, balance to suit the buyer. This is an ideal poultry and garden farm, slopes to the southwest. Come and see it, or call on at address.
