Cripples Annually Visit Church In Hope Relic Will Cure Them

Photos by American Press Association.

THOUSANDS of sufferers visited the little church of St. Jean Baptiste in East Seventy-sixth street, New York, recently during the annual novena when the sacred relic of St. Anne was on view for nine days.

The visitors went in the belief that they would be cured of the various ills from which they were suffering through the miraculous intervention of St. Anne, the mother of the Virgin Mary. The sacred relic is, according to the church authorities, a piece of the bone of the right arm of St. Anne. Legend says that after the crucifixion there was a violent persecution of all the followers of Jesus, and even the dead were not safe. To preserve it from desecration the body of St. Anne was removed from its grave in Jerusalem and was taken to Constantinople, where it remained under close guard for some years, until it was again moved to Apt. France, where it remains. One arm was removed about 710 and was taken to Rome, where it has since been guarded by Benedictine monks. The relic in the New York church came from this arm in 1892. A similar relic is kept at the church of St. Anne de Beaupre, twenty miles below Quebec. Marvelous cures have been reported there each year, and similar cures have been reported during the annual novena at the New York church. During the recent novena from 10,000 to 12,000 of the devout visited the shrine daily. The pictures show a group of visitors at the church and a cripple who hoped to be miraculously cured.

The Toast of The 20th Century

Toast is like a certain little girl in the Mother Goose book—"when it is GOOD it is very good indeed, and when it is BAD it is horrid."

PERFECT Toast can be made only in a Radiant Toaster. Its RADIANT HEAT insures PERFECT Toast by forcing the absolutely necessary chemical change in the bread. Toast made in the tedious old-fashioned way is either charred or brittle, or soggy. Electric Toast is the delicious golden kind that fairly makes the mouth water.

The Radiant Toaster can be operated on the finest damask table cloth. Its neat porcelain base and cheerful glowing coils add grace and charm to any table. It will make Perfect Toast as fast as you can eat it—and at the merest fraction of a cent per slice.
