Never in the history of Clackamas county has anything struck the popular chord of the public more than the Grand Voting Contest, and now that only a week remains till the close of the week, the public realization of the importance of the contest is growing stronger and stronger. The merchants and business men of the county are lending support to their favorite candidate in such a manner as to prove that the Enterprise's effort to give Oregon City and Clackamas county the representation it deserves among the well advertised communities is being appreciated. A good newspaper is the most valuable asset in any community and is certainly worthy of the support of those to whom its columns are always open for the discussion of questions of importance, regarding public improvements, schools, etc., and the fact that more than seven hundred new subscribers have been added to the list is evidence in itself that the general public realize the benefits of a good, up-to-date daily newspaper, and the continued support of their favorite candidate not only helps them win a valuable prize but at the same time boosts your most useful, valuable and most necessary enterprise.

All Should Subscribe.

There are but very few people in the county who are not interested in the success of one candidate or the other. Have you done your part to help them win, and incidentally add your support to a necessary enterprise for the upbuilding of our community? If not, don't lose another minute's time, but subscribe at once. The candidate you vote for will appreciate your kindness and at the same time you will receive your money's worth by having brought to your home a newspaper that prints all the news of our locality, that which is nearest our homes and consequently of more interest and importance to us.

Those who are not interested in this great struggle for ballots do not understand just how much a candidate appreciates it when she meets someone who presents her with a subscription which entitles her to a few thousand votes. She will always remember the donor as one who assisted her in her ambition and stand ready to re-appear in kind at the first opportunity. If you ever felt that you would like to have the time come when you could demonstrate your friendship and good will toward any candidate in this good natured contest, THAT TIME IS HERE, for the coming week is the last one. Don't put off subscribing or renewing your subscription till the last minute of September 2. Do it today, send in your remittance by mail or otherwise and we will see that your favorite candidate receives the votes with your compliments.

Passengers Remained Calm When Ocean Liner Struck an Iceberg

WHEN the Anchor liner Columbia bumped into an iceberg off the Newfoundland banks on her recent trip to New York most of the passengers were just finishing their dinner, as the accident occurred at 7:15 p. m. The boat was moving slowly, but there was a crash that threw all the stewards from their feet and sent dishes skidding across the table, many going on to the floor, where they were smashed with a loud clatter. There was considerable excitement, but no panic, the ship's officers assuring the diners that there was no danger. All finished their meal, but some cut the dessert short in order to hurry to the deck to see what damage was done. The vessel had been going at half speed—about eight knots an hour—through a dense fog. A coolness in the atmosphere told the experienced seamen that an iceberg was near. Captain Mitchell was on the bridge, Alexander Murray was the lookout on the forecastle head, and another seaman was in the crow's nest. The fog whistle was blowing regularly, and the iceberg suddenly sped back the echo. Captain Mitchell ordered the engineer to make full speed astern, and this was done a few moments before the collision. The speed of the vessel was thus reduced to about two knots, but the prow crashed into the berg for fifteen feet, a hundred tons of ice falling on Lookout Murray and burying him. He was severely cut, but not dangerously hurt when dug out. Tarpaulins were stretched over the battered prow, most of the damage being above the water line, and the vessel arrived in New York a day late. The above picture was made as the ship was docking. The accident was reported by wireless, and several other ships were close enough to have rendered aid had it been needed.

FARMER THINKS HE SHOT CHICKEN THIEF

T. C. Thomas, a farmer of Mount Pleasant, surprised two chicken thieves in his hen-house Thursday night, and he fired three times at them. He thinks one of the men was wounded. But for the fact that Mr. Thomas, in creeping out of his home, stumbled over a chair, he believes he would have captured the men. They heard the noise made by him and started to make their escape. Mr. Thomas, after falling over the chair, heard one of the men, who he thinks was on the outside standing watch, whistle three times, which he believes was a signal for the man on the inside to flee. Just as the farmer stepped out of his front door he saw the men leaving the chicken house and fired at them. One gave a cry as if he had been shot.

MILL WORKER CAUGHT UNDER PAPER ROLLS

William Hobbie, employed at the mill of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, narrowly escaped being crushed to death Saturday when a truck loaded with rolls of paper which he was drawing, rolled upon him. Hobbie was pinned under the wheels, and when extricated by fellow workmen. It was thought that his back was broken. Drs. Carl and Meisner were called and had the injured man removed to the Wildwood Hospital, where it was found that his only injury was a severe bruise on his right hip. It will be sometime before he recovers.

MOTHER IS BURNED SAVING HER BABY

MRS. OTTO MEINGLE RUSHES INTO BLAZING ROOM WHERE CHILD IS SLEEPING.

FIRE STARTS FROM DEFECTIVE FLUE

Neighbors Offer Aid, But Building And Contents Are Destroyed—Loss Estimated At More Than $2,000.

Not thinking of her own danger, but determined to save her child, Mrs. Otto Meingle, of Clackamas Heights, upon discovering that her home was on fire Saturday, rushed up a blazing stairway, and into a room filled with fire and smoke, where her little baby girl was asleep on a bed. Mrs. Meingle seized her daughter, and with the clothing around it enveloped in flames, hurried down the stairway and into the yard, where the fire in the garments was extinguished. The mother and child were slightly burned.

Mr. Meingle was away from home, when Mrs. Meingle, who was attending to her household duties on the first floor, smelled smoke. She rushed into the hall and saw a wall of flame at the head of the stairway. She did not hesitate, but hurried up the steps and into the room where her baby lay. The little one had not been awakened by the fire. Hardly had Mrs. Meingle, with her baby, reached the yard when the flames shot through the roof and it became evident that the building was doomed. Neighbors gathered at the home, but their efforts to save the household goods were unavailing. A woodshed was also burned.

It is thought that a defective flue was responsible for the fire, which started on the second floor. The house was one of the finest in the neighborhood, and the loss is estimated at considerably more than $2,000. If the fire had been discovered five minutes later, Mrs. Meingle's child would have perished, and the heroine mother probably would have been burned to death in trying to save it.

BIG BOULDERS CLOG SINGER HILL CULVERT

Workmen cleaning out the culvert on Singer Hill discovered Saturday the cause of the backwater last winter which threatened to get into cellars in the hill section. There was at least ten inches of mud on the bottom of the culvert, and in many places were large boulders, which impeded the flow of the water. The culvert is about two feet across and three and a half feet deep and the workmen have no trouble in crawling into it. The work would be continued tomorrow. Councilman Burke says there will be no trouble from back water next winter.

BABY SHOW TO BE GRANGE FAIR FEATURE

The Milwaukie Grange Fair will be held at the Crystal Lake Park, September 21, 22 and 23. The fair will be opened on the evening of September 21, with an excellent program. The ribbon prizes will be awarded on September 22, and the Baby Show, which will be held at 2:30 p. m., the same day will be a prominent feature of the entertainment. There will be good prizes for the winners. The superintendent of the Baby Show will be Captain J. P. Shaw, of Milwaukie. This is the first time that the fair will be given at the Crystal Lake Park, and there could be no more desirable place for it. This will be the largest and best fair the Milwaukie Grange has ever given, and there will be an immense crowd to see what Milwaukie can produce. There will be dancing during the afternoon and evening, and on the last night of the fair there will be a grand closing ball and fireworks. Those wishing to exhibit from any part of this county may do so.

The executive committee is composed of H. G. Starkweather, T. R. A. Sellwood, J. P. Shaw, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Maggie Johnson, Mrs. Gledhill, H. G. Starkweather will be general superintendent of the grounds, and Otto Naef will have charge of the exhibits. The exhibits will be in the large bowling alley.

PRESIDENT SCORES FOES IN CONGRESS

TAFT DECLARES THAT PROPOSED TARIFF REVISIONS WOULD HAVE HURT COUNTRY.

LA FOLLETTE SEVERELY CENSURED

Insurgent Senator, Underwood And Clark Are Accused By Executive of "Playing Politics."

HAMILTON, Mass., Aug. 26.—President Taft began the Presidential campaign of 1912 today in a speech that breathed defiance and condemned the insurgent Republicans and Democrats who combined to revise several schedules of the present tariff at the special session of Congress just closed. The President singled out Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin; Speaker Clark and Chairman Underwood, of the House ways and means committee, as leaders of the revision and charged them with "playing politics."

Several times he referred by name to Mr. LaFollette but mentioned the other insurgent Republicans merely as LaFollette "associates." Mr. Taft indicated that he regarded the proposed revision as injurious and dangerous to business, but made it plain that if the tariff board in December reported in favor of downward revision of the cotton and wool schedules, he would recommend a reduction.

Standing on the broad terrace of Representative Gardner's farm, with Senator Lodge and other Massachusetts Republican leaders, the President seemed to scent the smoke of the coming battle. Many of the 50 members of the Essex County Republican Club gathered to listen, thought they heard the "keynote" speech of the coming campaign and their cheers were loud and long.

THOMAS MILLER GIVN DUCKING BY WORKMEN

Thomas Miller, while standing on the corner of Seventh and Center streets on Saturday morning and watching workmen flushing out the culvert that runs along that street under the sidewalk, was taken by surprise when the hose, which was in the hands of the workmen gave way, and Miller was drenched to the skin. He took the accident good-naturedly, but hurried to his home nearby where he changed his clothing.

MRS. S. R. GREEN TO BE BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Malissa Jane Green, wife of Stephen R. Green, will be held at the home, on Tenth street, between Harrison and Polk at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. C. W. Robinson, rector of St. Paul's church, will conduct the service. The Modern Brotherhood of America, of which Mrs. Green was a member, requests all members of Lodge No. 2974 to meet at Willamette Hall at 1 o'clock to attend the funeral. The interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

OREGON CITY MEN SAVE CONCORD HOME

The home of Mrs. Letha Labowitch, at Concord, was partially destroyed by fire Saturday night. Defective installation of an electric wire is thought to have caused the blaze. Several Oregon City men, who were coming from Portland on a car, went to the burning building. They moved the furniture into the yard, and with a hose finally extinguished the fire. The house is near the home of Mayor Brownell, of this city. Mrs. Labowitch recently was offered $12,000 for the property.

WHEAT YIELDS FIFTY BUSHELS TO ACRE

John E. Jones, of Beaver Creek, had a remarkable wheat field this year. He obtained 50 bushels from four acres of more than fifty bushels of oats in a field of twenty-two acres. Mr. Jones is a scientific farmer and the big wheat and oat crops are largely due to his judgment in selecting seed, planting, etc.

Sues to Collect on Account.

Fred Mathies has filed a suit against C. Rindfleisch for $118.59 with interest and costs. Mathies alleges that he sold hay to Rindfleisch on October 15, 1908, which amounted to $152, and only $33.41 has been paid. Mathies asks for the interest since that time as well as the costs and the remainder of the bill, which is $118.59. He is represented by J. E. Hedges. Justice Marries Two Couples.

TWENTY-SIX ARE KILLED

AS FILM MACHINE EXPLODES. CANNONBOUR, Pa., Aug. 26.—Twenty-six persons were killed and 60 injured when a movie-picture film exploded in the Cannonburg Opera House. There was a rush and in moment there was a writhing mass of humanity in the stairway.

2 AUTOISTS DEAD; 20 HURT IN WRECK

DRIVER AND MECHANIC KILLED WHEN MACHINE TURNS SOMERSAULT.

TEMPORARY GRANDSTAND COLLAPSES

Daughter of Senator Lorimer Sustains Fracture of Leg—Wife of Veteran Racer Sees Husband Lose Life.

ELGIN, Ill., Aug. 26.—The 305-mile automobile road race today, won by Len Zengel in a national with Harry Grant second and Hugh Hughes third, was not contested without its toll of death and injuries.

David Buck, veteran Chicago automobile racer, was within 11 laps of the finish, going 55 miles an hour on the back stretch, when his right forward wheel threw a tire. The machine turned a somersault and Sam Jacobs, mechanic, was killed. Buck's back was broken and he died tonight. "Tell me the truth at once," the driver's wife said. "You wouldn't send for me if his injuries were slight."

Every spectator in the stands watched her as, supported by militiamen, she left her chair and went in a machine to the field hospital, where her husband had received first aid. She became hysterical when she learned that her husband's injuries were fatal. Another accident in which 20 persons were injured, most of them slightly, occurred while the first lap of the race was on. Several sections of the poorly built temporary grandstand gave way. When the stringers by which the seats were supported collapsed, the boards weaved over and spread out like a pack of cards thrown on a table, thus saving thousands of spectators from a sheer drop to the ground.

Four of the spectators suffered broken legs, among them being a daughter of Senator William Lorimer. The others escaped with cuts and bruises.

FAIR TO HAVE FINE PUMPKIN EXHIBIT

From all indications, J. M. Hollowell, of Gladstone will again be the largest general exhibitor at the Clackamas County fair. Mr. Hollowell called upon Mr. J. Lavelle, secretary of the fair association and it was agreed that he would be allowed 40x20 foot exhibit space in the pavilion, just at the left of the main entrance. Mr. Hollowell will show 25 varieties of pumpkins and squashes, eight kinds of corn and 12 different kinds of melons. He will have many other farm products in the exhibit. To make his corner of the pavilion as attractive as possible he will have a small fish pond, with running water and several trout. Clairmount will also have a fine showing at this year's fair. It will have one of the finest booths ever seen at a county fair. It will have large turned posts at the corners, and the sides and top will be of lattice work. Electric signs will be used in the exhibits. Among the Oregon City firms who will exhibit this year, are Burmeister & Andresen, C. G. Miller, J. Levitt, Wilson & Cooke and Huntley Bros. The executive committee of the fair association has also made arrangements for motorcycle and automobile races. The horse racing program will be good this year. Several horses are now training at the grounds, and will remain there until the meet closes.
