CITY OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER.

Aug. 31 in American History.

1870—General John B. Hood, a Confederate leader, died; born 1831.

1880—Earthquake over a wide area of the country east of the Mississippi river. It caused $5,000,000 property loss in Charlestown, S. C.

1910—Former President Roosevelt proclaimed the "new nationalism." Bronze statue of Thomas B. Reed was unveiled in Portland, Me.

WOMEN IN THE POLITICAL GAME.

The lady mayor of Hunnewell, Kansas, denies that she said that politics is no game for women. She is in the game, and proposes to stay and fight it out.

Success should be her portion. Hunnewell's executive has plenty of historical precedent for her resolution, Aspasia was something of a political factor in her day.

Our own immortal Jackson was not above being susceptible to female influence in shaping the policies of his stormy administrations.

The lady executive of Hunnewell need not at all feel lonely when she turns to the pages of history. And think of the number of her sisters throughout the country who would only too gladly avail themselves of the opportunity that is hers.

"Taft has a will," says an exchange. And no one realizes the fact more than Congress.

When Hoke Smith undertakes to provide jobs for his 411 namesakes he will start something with a vengeance.

"Gentlemen's agreements" are made without any expectation of a Congressional probe.

Atwood is king of the air.

A Los Angeles man twice vainly tried with rope and pistol to end his life. If he has not changed his mind he might go out rowing with a boat-rocker.

Suffrage Not Usurping Man's Right

By Mrs. JOHN S. CROSBY, Suffragette Leader of New York

SEE NO SIGNS THAT SUFFRAGE IS USURPING MAN'S RIGHTS OR TRYING TO PUT HIM IN THE BACKGROUND OF SOCIETY.

In fact, women are far from that capability which would WARRANT the reins of government or the rulership of human society to be placed in their hands.

Woman today is QUEEN of the home; man is KING outside the home. Each should attend to HIS and HER own business.

No man need cry out in COMPLAINT of the suffrage movement. It is not HURTING him a bit. I do wish, though, for the sake of suffrage, that some of its leaders in their public speeches would use a little more TACT and DIPLOMACY.

Calling men thieves and scoundrels hardly endears us to them and not only injures the cause, but brings RIDICULE and CONTEMPT

Senate situation: "Good morning, Senator. Have you been investigated yet?"

Matteawan, Aug. 30.—Harry Thaw is here still, but not very still.

What have brides done that they should always be "given away by her father in marriage?"

BARLEY DECLINES; OATS PRICE ADVANCES

Barley is down $1 a ton and the oats market has advanced 50c.

Just contrary to the course that has governed the two coarse grain markets heretofore is the present action of the oats and barley trade.

Owing to the cutting of quotations in the East, brewing barley is quoted down to $31 a ton in the country, as compared with recent sales at $32.

Growers on the other hand are asking from $33 to $35 a ton for small remaining holdings of brewing barley and this difference in opinion between buyers and sellers has resulted in a stagnation of trade.

With barley going down, the price of oats has started upward, and the bids range as high as $27 a ton. Some are not bidding above $26 but even this is 50c above what the same interests were offering a short time ago.

China and Japan are still moderate buyers of flour and the price is being safely maintained at $3.60 per barrel.

HIDES—(Buying)—Green hides, 5c to 6c; salted, 5 1/2c to 6 1/2c; dry hides, 12c to 14c. Sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each.

DRIED FRUITS—Local prices are firm at from 8c to 10c on apples and prunes. Peaches are 19c.

SALT—Selling 50c to 90c for fine, 50 lb. sack, half ground 40c; 75 for 100 lb. sacks.

Portland Vegetable Markets.

SACK VEGETABLES—CARROTS, $1.25@1.50 per sack; parsnips, $1.25@1.50; turnips, $1.25@1.50; beets, $1.50.

VEGETABLES—Asparagus, 90c@1.75 per crate; cabbage, new, $2 per hundred weight; cauliflower, $1.00@1.75 per dozen; celery, California, 75c@90c per dozen; cucumbers, $1.50@2.25 per dozen; eggplant, 15c per lb.; garlic, 10c@12c per pound; lettuce, 50c per dozen; both-leaf lettuce, $1.50@2 per box; peas, 9c@11c per pound; peppers, 30c@35c per pound; radishes, 15c per dozen; rhubarb, 2 1/2c@3c per pound; sprouts, 9c; tomatoes, $2@3.25.

ONIONS—Jobbing prices: Oregon $2.75 per 100; Australian, $3.50 per 100; Texas, $2.25 per crate; California, $2 per crate.

Oregon City Stock Quotations. HOGS—Hogs are quoted 1/4c lower. From 125 lbs. to 150 lbs. 9 1/2c, from 150 lbs. to 200 lbs. 8 1/2c.

BACON, LARD AND HAM, are firm. VEAL CALVES—Veal calves bring from 5c to 10c according to grade.

BEEF STEERS—Beef steers for the local markets are fetching 5 1/2c to 6 1/2c live weight.

SHEEP—Wool is at 4c to 5c live weight. Quotations for Oregon City.

POTATOES—Best, Buying 1 1/2 cents pound. FLOUR AND FEED—Flour is steady, selling from $5 to $5.50; very little of cheaper grades.

WHEAT—(Buying)—Gray, $23 to $24, white, from $25 to $26.

BUTTER—(Buying)—Ordinary country brings from 15c to 20c, fancy dairy from 20c to 22c, creamery 22c to 25c.

EGGS—Best grade 25 cents. POULTRY—(Buying)—Firm with lit the good stock offered. Good hens are bringing 12c. Old roosters are in poor demand, broilers bring from 16c to 18c, with good demand.

WOOL—(Buying)—Wool prices are ranging from 14 to 17 cents. FEED—Shorts $29 to $30; rolled barley, $31.50 to $32.50; process barley, $33.00; whole corn, $39.00; cracked corn, $40.00; wheat $32.00 to $33; oil meal, $53; Shady Brook dairy feed, $1.25 per hundred pounds.

HAY—(Buying)—Timothy $16 to $17; clover $9 to $10; oat hay, best, $12; mixed, $10 to $12; alfalfa, $12 to $14.

Keeps One Guessing. "Any one can see right through a man."

"I should say so. The average man is transparent as a piece of glass."

"But with woman it is different."

"Yes, quite different. Why, in these days of the perfection of art it takes a mighty good man to be able to see even through her complexion."

Getting Even. "The way he abused the office boy was a perfect shame. What is the matter with him this morning?"

"His wife crossed him before he left home, his daughter told him where he got off, and after coming down the stenographer sat down on him. He had to get back at some one."

Frank Advice. "What shall I do, doctor?" "Reduce your income."

"What?" "That is what I advise."

"But what for?" "Then you won't have so many friends to help you wreck your health."

Mamie's Idea. "Mamie?" "Yes."

"In your experience what do you find that men like to talk about?" "Themselves."

The Real Chatter. In books the language he had learned. But couldn't get the hang of talking with the common folks. The books were dry on slang.

From One Who Knows. "What constitutes happiness?" "Many things."

"As for instance?" "Having money enough to meet your bills."

Rest For Him. "Taken your vacation yet?" "I am on it now."

"But you seem to be working."

"Yes, but my wife is away."

Not Necessary. "I always like to play the fool."

"I shouldn't think you'd need to play it."

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID ACCIDENT VICTIM

The funeral services over the remains of John H. Finucane, only child of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Finucane, who died from injuries received by falling from an Oregon City electric car on Sunday evening in the northern part of the city, were conducted at the St. John's Catholic church Wednesday morning.

"MARRIAGE OF KITTY" PLEASES BIG CROWDS

There is certainly not very strong nourishment in "The Marriage of Kitty," which is Max Figman's offering for the week at the Helix in Portland. One might call it a lemonade-and-wafer sort of play.

THE CONTRAST.

GRACE and beauty, life and motion. See the automobile run. And the fellow who is steering. Doesn't have a thing but fun. Hall and thunder: Fire and brimstone! And some other words the cop has forbidden, but evince handy. See the automobile stop!

When it's running it is running. There is no discount on that. When it's standing it is standing. You can let your Sunday hat. All the coaxing and abusing. And the turning little screws. Cannot get the thing in action. When it feels it must refuse.

It may run along all summer. Never hinting at a halt. As the owner keeps on bragging. That he doesn't have to walk. All at once and without warning. In a road that's deep with sand. Far from home and the repair shop. It concludes that it will stand.

When the car is smoothly spinning. And the road ahead is straight. Then the joy of auto riding. May be spoken of as great. But it's no ideal pleasure. No competitor of a smile. When the engine takes a notion. It will stand round for awhile.

Frank Advice. "What shall I do, doctor?" "Reduce your income."

"What?" "That is what I advise."

"But what for?" "Then you won't have so many friends to help you wreck your health."

Mamie's Idea. "Mamie?" "Yes."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

FAY AS YOU GO

The credit system in some respects is a boon, but it has ruined many a man.

Credit makes it easier to buy than when you have to pay spot cash. But settlement day comes.

You must pay for everything you get in this life—everything. You pay down or you pay later on. But you pay!

The easiest and best way to get things is to pay as you go, because in some way or another you must settle.

"See that man," you say. "He has stocks and bonds and buildings. How I envy him!" But that man has paid for everything he possesses; maybe in sleepless nights, in sweat of brain, in lost peace of mind—he has paid in full, or must pay.

It is the law of price. That spender of the Great White Way who revels in luxurious delights and unlawful pleasures? He pays. He pays the price of his manhood.

The lazy loafer, the drunkard, the gourmand; they pay, and pay heavily. And whoever tries to cheat nature pays. If it is by overwork or excesses he pays. If he does not pay cash in hand he pays a fearful rate of interest on the principal. And pay day comes.

The greatest fallacy ever held by the human mind is that you can get something for nothing.

Pound for pound, ounce for ounce, to the last dribble—you pay. Therefore it is best, if you can, to pay as you go. If you make a failure be glad that you got out even and try it over.

Moreover—Is there not some compensation in this law of price? Why should a man ask for more than is coming to him? Why should he expect to buy and not pay? And is it not worth while to get by earning?

If you work for what you get and get what you work for you are as good as any man who works and gets.

Pay as you go. If you want leisure work for it. If you want pleasure pay for it. If you want money grub for it.

If you want the esteem and respect and gratitude of your fellow-work for it. Pay the price.

Everything comes to him who pays.

Setting Him Right.

There was a rather pert waitress in a cheap boarding house.

"Mamie," a boarder protested to her, "this roast beef is overdone."

"No, it ain't, sor," she replied. "It's done over. It's the same roast you had yesterday."—Los Angeles Times.

Irish Art Needlework.

Hand embroidery as it is done in some parts of Ireland cannot be satisfactorily imitated by machinery, and is a cottage industry of importance.

Irish art needlework is of the best quality and will bear favorable comparison with any produced in Europe.
