BLOTTING OUT OLD LINE.

The greatest accomplishment of the soldiers in the war with Spain was the obliteration of the last faint traces of the Mason and Dixon line, exclaimed some speaker at the recent reunion of the United Spanish War Veterans at Oklahoma City, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

But if the overtures of the Republican party had been met in a like spirit by the other side the Mason and Dixon line would have been erased long before the Spanish war of 1898. President Grant, the man who, at Appomattox, gave the best terms to Lee that were ever offered by any victor to a vanquished foe, appointed many ex-Confederates to government posts, as did all his Republican successors.

Opportunity Forever Knocking. Economy Key to Success. By HENRY CLEWS, Prominent New York Banker.

THE idea that opportunity knocks once at every man's door is a FALLACY. Opportunity is a CONTINUAL KNOCKER, and, paradoxically, her every knock is a boost if the man is "on the job" to get it.

preme Court, the highest station in the gift of the executive. Moreover, in most of these instances the appointees belonged to a different party from that of the president.

Through the efforts of Director General Collier and the Southern Commercial Congress to promote westward travel via the southern route, the whole south has become greatly interested in San Diego's plans. A big convention of southern commercial bodies will be held soon in Memphis, to take up this matter and adopt comprehensive plans for directing travel to San Diego through the new South, which is teeming with opportunities that it wants to show to strangers and homeseekers.

The railway strike in Great Britain is said to have ended on the assurance of the government that it will authorize the lines to increase traffic rates in order to offset the increased wages. So it seems that, in free-trade lands, it is the poor "ultimate consumer" who must eventually foot the bill.

A one-pounder mounted on a gun carriage is said now to solve the problem of firing at aeroplanes. How such a weapon could be effectively sighted remains to be shown.

CARLEY LECTURE POSTPONED.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather only a few persons went to Shively's Opera House last night to hear Mrs. George Carley lecture on "Reducing the Cost of Living."

A Brush For the Laundry.

A great deal of wear on clothes can be saved by the use of a small hand brush. Instead of rubbing the clothes on the washboard, by the soiled spot on the board, rub well with soap and scrub with the brush.

Clothes rinsed in hard water in which bluing has been dissolved are likely to be streaked, but all danger of this may be avoided by adding a cupful of skim milk to the bluing water.

The Camellia. The camellia was named from a missionary in the Orient, Kamel. On his return to France he brought with him some gorgeous specimens of a flower which he called the rose of Japan.

Of Balzac's impetuosity. Of Balzac it is stated that when ever he was hard at work he went to roost "like the fowls," as he himself put it, at 7 in the evening.

"I shall be compelled," he wrote, "to lead this nigger's life for a few months without stopping in order not to be swamped by those terrible bills that are due." And yet he was always hard up for money.

The Wing of a Bird. The typical vertebrate limb, variously modified in the arm of a man or the fore limb of a cat or frog or bird, has one bone in the upper arm, which gives support to two in the forearm, which similarly yield to four at the wrist, and from these five digits can just comfortably be extended.

What One Daring Young Aviator Accomplished In Four Months

Photos by American Press Association.

HARRY NELSON ATWOOD of Boston, twenty-seven years old, has been crowned king of all aviators because of his wonderful achievements in the art of aviation. His success is the more remarkable from the fact that it was only on last Memorial day that he made his initial flight.

Not more than $6,000 to $8,000 bales of hops are now expected by any conservative person in Oregon this season.

OREGON HOP YIELD IS DISAPPOINTING

The crop is coming down much lighter than expected, even a few weeks ago, and in the poorer sections a day or two of picking finishes the season's operations.

McKinley Mitchell, who has a yard at Gervais, said that one yard of 15 acres completed its harvest in two days and another of 10 acres had everything picked within a day and a half.

Picking is now general in the Yakima district of Washington and while the yields are not heavy, the quality is said to be the best in years.

Only a nibbling business is showing in the hop market at this time. Some of the smaller dealers, who purchased crops on a "shoestring" are now offering them in order to get the money and this is the real cause of the present weakness in the trade.

HIDES—(Buying)—Green hides, 5c to 6c; salted, 5 1/2c to 6 1/2c; dry hides, 12c to 14c. Sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each.

Points for Mothers. Dr. Wiley's Advice. Children under ten years of age should not eat at the same time with the adults.

If mothers knew the enormous advantage to be derived from such a procedure they would welcome the idea. Children would then eat food especially suited to children. Things would be cooked, and they would have before them just what they should eat.

But if with a bit of extra work the little ones were permitted to have only that which is recognized as good for them their eyes would not be bigger than their stomachs, and the resulting good of all concerned.

Berries are very plentiful and are very good food, only they ought not to be served to children unless the seeds are extracted. That is, they may be cooked and the pulp and juice only given to the children.

The truth of the matter is that all foods at this time of the year are nourishing if prepared properly. The great mistake made is that we do not take time to prepare them. Especially is this bad for the child.

I would put a ban on nearly all uncooked fruits for children. They probably cause more trouble than any thing else, and all on account of improper mastication.

In regard to infants I have one thing to say first, last and always, and that is: strict diet of pure milk, preferably mother's; if not this, then some healthy animal's.

Milk for the babe is the one great food principle intended by nature, and nothing can take its place. But especially in the hot weather great care must be taken to guard the cleanliness condition under which this milk is finally made ready for consumption.

Very often there is a great mistake in quitting the milk diet for children. I would suggest that under the age of three years milk should be the child's chief form of food.

Children's Dresses. Every mother desires to see her little girl dressed attractively. She can accomplish this by making their frocks herself or with the help of a seamstress.

One pretty little model is made of pink dotted lawn trimmed with bands of swiss eyelet insertion. It is a one-piece model, closing at the left side and having a square neck.

Another frock of blue and green plaid has a plain blue gingham yoke cut square and trimmed with rows of white cotton soutache braid. Cuffs and a belt are the same.

A frock of blue and white polka dotted percale has a shaped blue yoke of plain blue, which extends over the shoulders and is edged about with two rows of white linen braid.

Amusing the Kiddies. A mother who likes to see her lads and lassies in the home interested in some occupation told them the other day that she would give a quarter to each child who discovered for her or herself the psalm in which the following birds were mentioned: The dove, sparrow, swallow, stork, pelican, raven, hawk and eagle.
