 "That is an interesting bunch of kids you have, Jones," remarked his old friend Brown, who was making a call.
 "Yes, they are. What one can't think of in the way of mischief the others can."
 "That is what I like about them."
 "Yes, but you don't have to live with them."
 "Well, I would like to borrow them for a week."
 "What for?"
 "To get even with a neighbor."

LOCAL BRIEFS

Big Showing of the New Fall Garments

WE cannot recall the time when our announcement of the first showing of the new season's garments has given us such genuine pleasure.

In such points as correct style, high quality of workmanship, desirable models, snappy creations, perfect fit and full, complete values, we are abundantly able to please you. Fortunately for us, and for you, these garments all carry this label:

"The Palmer Garment."

For many years the reputation enjoyed by this line has not been equaled, and this reputation, secured through merit only, is guarded jealously. The garments are made in the best possible manner. Not only do the garments excel in style and fit, but they render the service so much desired.

We most cordially invite you to attend this opening exhibition of the new fall styles. And we want you to understand that the prime motive of this event is to show the goods—to have you come, inspect critically and pass your judgment. You are sure to be delighted with the beautiful showing that is ready for you.

Takes His Pick.
 Apropos of foolish questions, this story is told of a Fitian haired son of the old "sod" who was working in a ditch. A spectacled daughter of society approached and laughingly asked: "And, my man, what work do you do?"
 The friend of the green looked up. He took his short stemmed clay from between his lips and answered as he swung his tool over his back: "Shure, an' I take me pick."
 And so he did.—Philadelphia Times.

Taft's Strength Being Discussed

REPUBLICANS PONDER CHANCES OF PRESIDENT BEING RE-ELECTED.

SEVERAL STATES MUST BE REGAINED

Progressives And Democrats Have Made Big Gains—Figures Are Being Carefully Analyzed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—From now until June next, two questions will be presented to the Republicans of the country, with increasing insistence. They are inseparable and upon the answers to them both depends the solution of the tariff, railroad, trust and conservation problems—the political control of the country for four years.
 Will President Taft be re-nominated? If he is, will he be re-elected? These two questions have confronted political Washington for months. They have been carefully weighed in the light of the last election, the returns for which are worth searching analysis.
 In 1910 the Democrats carried 27 states, of which 24 have Democratic governors, while 22 states now have a majority of Democrats in Congress. But it must be noted that although the standpatters lost some eighty seats in Congress in the landslide, the Progressives doubled their representation in the Lower House. Nothing presents the situation so clearly as a table showing, in detail, the situation developed by the last election, with the electoral votes based on the new apportionment:
