TRAVELERS IN HOLY LAND. Our consul in Palestine reports that the number of American visitors to the Holy Land is becoming more numerous every year than those of any other nation. The natives of the Holy Land, of course, make their living from the visitors and the pilgrims, and the Americans, being in the majority, necessarily contribute the greater share toward the prosperity of the country. There is quite a distinction between the travelers and the pilgrims. The tourists travel first class, put up at good hotels and spend money for excursions, souvenirs, etc. In 1909-10 the number of tourists was 7200, of whom 2407 were Americans and 1683 British. As a rule the tourists remain in Jerusalem and vicinity four or five days.

men and a low estimate of each individual's expenses during his stay would be $25, and if the 7200 tourists of the season of 1909-10 left even only that sum behind them per capita they left in the aggregate $180,000, most of which was the contribution of children of Uncle Sam.

COMMISSION PLAN GROWS IN FAVOR

men are not paid a cent there is no question as to their administration being of the highest order and the best that could be obtained. With the proposed plan for the affairs of the city could be attended to more economically and with better results than under the present plan. I certainly am in favor of giving the commission plan a trial. "I am strongly in favor of the city adopting the commission form of government," said D. C. Robbins, manager of the Oregon Commission company. "It has been a success wherever it has been tried and the same beneficial results could be obtained here. Men should not be expected to work for nothing. I can not see any more reason for a mayor and members of the city council serving gratis than I can see for a policeman or street sweeper working without pay."

RESOURCES ARE REVEALED AT FAIR

menter, O. M. Auvay, H. C. Howe, W. Kubangh, J. B. King, D. J. Parmenter, stock beans and stock carrots; Kate S. Erickson, Mrs. H. Hartman, vegetables, gourds, Mrs. Mary Wright and Lytle Funnell, yeast ("that will raise bread to the ceiling" according to H. T. Melvin, who was in charge of the exhibit, this yeast having been made by Mrs. M. L. Parmenter); collection cauliflower; D. J. Parmenter, broom corn, Mrs. Towne, dried fruit, W. W. Jesse, popcorn, Ed Judd and Leonard Parmenter, hops, W. Slatager, quinces (Japanese), E. F. Judt, pumpkins, Mrs. L. L. Irwin and Mrs. F. L. Towne were among those who contributed to this collection. H. T. Melvin and Roy Parmenter had exhibits of honey and ranch eggs. Among the vegetables that attracted much attention were the immense table beets, stock beets, fifteen pounds; rutabagas, turnips measuring twenty four inches in circumference; pumpkins sixteen inches in diameter; celery, cauliflower and cucumbers. The vegetables and grain as well as the other produce exhibited were grown by the residents of Barlow without irrigation, which speaks well for the soil. Claimant Improvement Club. This was the first time that Claimant improvement club had exhibited at the county fair and the display was certainly a creditable one and large crowds were attracted to this booth. The club won second prize. The booth which was one of the most attractive in the pavilion, was arranged by E. Kuppenbender and W. F. Schooler, and the lettering was the handwork of E. H. Rhoades of this city. Near the main entrance was a fine display of apples, pears, plums and quinces that were grown by the residents of Clairmont. This fruit was arranged forming an artistic design. In the center of the booth was a pyramid formed of jellies and canned fruit, preserves and butter. Those who contributed to this were: Mrs. Fred Wourms, Mrs. H. Kuppenbender, Mrs. B. Kuppenbender, Mrs. W. Kuppenbender, Mrs. E. C. Ryall and Fred Wourms. Mrs. Fred Wourms had on exhibit a fine display of vegetables as also did Fred Wourms, Mrs. B. Kuppenbender, Mrs. W. Kuppenbender.

The first Chinese warship that ever visited American waters has recently been anchored in the Hudson river alongside New York city. She is the Hai Chi and she differs but little in appearance and armament from any other battleship of similar size. Officers and crew are all Chinese, and they were as deeply interested in New York as New York was interested in them. One of the pictures shows a scene on the deck of the vessel, another shows the ship's band, which frequently played "The Star Spangled Banner" as a compliment to American visitors, while the other picture shows a group of Chinese-American boys waiting at a visit to the Hai Chi. Most of the officers spoke English fairly well and many of them, graduates of American colleges, spoke it fluently and with little accent. The principal officers made official visits to Washington, and Admiral Chang went to Beverly to see President Taft.

China's Progress Toward Civilization Due To Missionaries. By Rev. WILLIAM FORD NICHOLS, Bishop of Episcopal Diocese of California. CHINA is without doubt a WONDERFUL country and DESERVES recognition among the powers. The saying that the Flowery Kingdom has progressed more in the last ten years than it did in the previous ten centuries is very true. THE IMPROVEMENT ALONG EDUCATIONAL, ECONOMIC AND OTHER PROGRESSIVE LINES HAS BEEN REMARKABLE, AND I BELIEVE THAT NO LITTLE OF THIS IS IN A GREAT MEASURE DUE TO THE WORK OF THE MISSIONARIES WHO HAVE LABORED LONG AND EARNESTLY IN THE FARAWAY LAND.
