HUNTLEY URGED FOR MAYORALTY

FRIENDS OF POPULAR BUSINESS MAN CIRCULATE PETITIONS IN MILLS.

HIS ATTITUDE NOT YET DIVULGED

Messrs. Hayes and Andresen, Also Asked to Make Race, Have Not Reached Final Decision.

Petitions urging C. G. Huntley, one of the best known business men in the city, to become a candidate for mayor were circulated for signatures Tuesday. The petitions were taken to two of the mills, and it is understood, a large number of names were obtained. Mr. Huntley is out of the city, and his friends said they did not know whether he would consent to make the race. Before leaving on a hunting-trip on the McKénzie River several days ago, it is reported that he had no idea his name would be considered in connection with the mayoralty.

C. G. Huntley, whose friends are circulating a petition urging him to be a candidate for Mayor, for signatures.

Mr. Huntley, who is a member of Huntley Brothers Company, has made a remarkable success in business, and it is declared if he should be elected mayor he would administer the affairs of the city with the same care and attention that he has given his private interests. He came to Oregon City more than twenty years ago, and made friends from the start. He has served in the Legislature and city council with distinction. Mr. Huntley is a brother of W. A. Huntley, also of Huntley Brothers Company, and a member of the Board of School Directors.

William Andresen, president of the city council, has been urged to make the race for mayor, but has made no definite announcement. A petition to him was recently circulated and several hundred signatures were received. Gordon E. Hayes also has been asked to make the race, but like Mr. Andresen he has the matter in abeyance. Messrs. Huntley, Andresen and Hayes have large followings, and there is no question about the affairs of the city being capably administered if any one of them is chosen.

ATHLETICS VICTORS IN GREAT BATTLE

BAKER'S "HOMER" IN NINTH TIES SCORE AND GAME IS WON IN ELEVENTH.

COOMBS OUTPITCHES MATHEWSON

Philadelphia's Third Baseman Hero Of Two Contests By Mighty Home Run Swashes With His Whiskers

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—The Philadelphia Athletics won again today from the New York Giants in the world's championship series. The score was Philadelphia 3, New York 2. Philadelphia made nine hits and two errors and New York got three hits and made six errors. Philadelphia outplayed New York, especially in the field. The turn in the tide came in the ninth. Always invincible, Mathewson had blanked the Athletics through eight desperate innings. One run by the Giants in the third made it look like a sure thing. Hope was almost gone when Baker came up in the ninth. One husky swing drove the leather into the right field seats for a home run and the battle was on again. In the tenth inning both Mathewson and "Iron Jack" Coombs pitched masterly ball. Both teams were on edge.

WIFE, SUING, SAYS HUSBAND IS LAZY

Alleging that her husband is lazy and has been cruel to her her Margaret Burnett, filed suit for divorce Tuesday against Albert Burnett. They were married January 26, 1910, in Vancouver, British Columbia. The plaintiff asserts that because of her husband's refusal to work she had to seek employment and impaired her health by hard work. She asks to be restored to her maiden name, Margaret Johnson. ## COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS SMOKER TONIGHT

The first smoker of the season will be held at the Commercial Club this evening. That the attendance will be large is assured, and Secretary Latourette says there will be something doing every minute. The smokers last season were one of the features of the Commercial Club's entertainments, and it is expected that they will be even more popular this winter. So if you are eligible to attend the smoker tonight, and do not do so, you will miss a treat. However, there is no danger of there not being a large representation of club members and their friends.

'GO AHEAD!' SAYS TAFT TO WOMEN

PRESIDENT TELLS THEM THAT EAST IS WATCHING EXPERIMENT IN VOTING.

ENERGY WILL CORRECT MISTAKES

Parting Salutes of Flowers and Fruits Are Given Country's Executive As He Quits California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 17.—President Taft bade adieu to California here late today and his special train headed for the North and East.

Mr. Taft has been going about the past few days under cloudless skies, with a temperature officially recorded as 95 in the shade. The 36 hours' run on which he started tonight will take him to the snowclad hills of Montana Thursday morning.

The President's departure from the state was marked by the same big crowds that greeted his train at the boundary a thousand miles to the north.

Fruits and flowers were piled aboard the President's car at every stop. At Riverside a crowd of high school girls, all attired in white, pelted the President with roses until the entire rear platform was covered to a depth of several inches.

The President had a parting word to the women on their newly granted privilege of the ballot in this state. "It won't do," he declared, "for you to say, 'Oh, well, we will not go down to those awful polls; we will not be associated with those awful people that stand around the polls.' You have got to become part of these awful people and make those awful people better."

MRS. ALISKY TELLS NAUSEATING STORY

MABELLE GILMAN COREY'S SISTER MAKES GRAVE CHARGES AGAINST HUSBAND.

TWO WOMEN NAMED IN COMPLAINT

Wife Asks $50,000 Permanent Alimony And $250 Monthly While Suit Is Pending—Trap Set For Her, She Says.

Sensational and revolting are the charges made by Mrs. Clela Pearl Alisky, sister of Mrs. Maybelle Gilman Corey, against Charles Walter Alisky, owner of several theatres and son of Charles A. Alisky, a wealthy retired Portland confectioner, in her suit for divorce, which was made public Tuesday. Her charges against her husband are nauseating. She says parts of it are nauseating. She says they were married October 14, 1907, in an Diego, Cal., when she was twenty years of age and inexperienced, and her husband was twice her age.

Through her attorney S. T. Jeffreys, an order was obtained from Judge Campbell, citing Alisky to appear here October 21, to show cause why the court should not grant a motion for $5,000 suit money, $250 a month temporary alimony and $1,000 attorney fees while the suit is pending. Mrs. Alisky asks for $50,000 permanent alimony and $4,000 an additional fee for her attorney after final decree is obtained.

Mrs. Alisky blames her husband's parents for part of her trouble. She alleges that they entertained a questionable woman at Sacramento in January, 1908, well knowing her relations with Alisky. She says when she protested her husband's parents refused to speak to her and sought to cause a separation between her and Alisky. Alisky is said to have told his wife that his father was worth $1,500,000 and that their marriage stood in the way of his getting any of the money.

The couple separated in April, 1911, and the plaintiff alleges that during that month her husband deceitfully induced her to have an attorney prepare papers for divorce proceedings at San Francisco, and when she found he was "putting up a job on her" she refused to sanction the filing of the complaint. She filed a suit for divorce from him early this month and she asserts that he lied to get her to avoid service. She asserts that Alisky obtained disreputable persons to manufacture false testimony against her and in the "Poodle Dog," a well-known San Francisco resort, her husband conspired with Paul Dunphy, a Dr. Parker and a Mrs. Schmidt, otherwise known as Theo Willis to obtain evidence against her. Mrs. Schmidt and Lottie Foster, a waitress, are named as co-defendants.

Mrs. Alisky has a damage suit pending against her husband for $100,000 in Seattle. She asserts that her father has employed counsel for him, and has aided her husband in every way possible to obtain a separation. The plaintiff declares that $5,000 will be necessary for her to bring witnesses from San Francisco, Los Angeles and Chicago in order to satisfactorily prosecute her suit.

Norman Gray is named as correspondent in Alisky's suit for divorce which was filed here a few hours before his wife's complaint was entered. He accuses his wife of cruelty and says she wandered all over California with other men. Her sister, Mrs. Corey, is wife of William E. Corey, ex-president of the United States Steel Corporation.

Our greatest clubbing offer. The Morning Enterprise by mail and the Weekly Oregonian, both until November 1, 1912, for only $3. Offer closes October 31, 1911.

HEDGES PLEADS FOR FREE CANAL

LOCKS WILL BE BUILT ON EAST SIDE OR NOT AT ALL, HE DECLARES.

OBJECTIONS ARE OFFERED TOO LATE

President of Commercial Club Says Persons Opposing Engineers' Report Virtually Oppose Free Locks.

Declaring that unless the free locks and canal were built on the east side of the river, as proposed by the government engineers, they would not be built at all, J. E. Hedges, at a meeting of the Live Wires of the Commercial Club, Tuesday, made an eloquent and forceful appeal to all the residents of the city for united action. He declared that the locks and canal on the east side would not injure the manufacturing interests and would be of incalculable benefit to the city and the Willamette Valley. A resolution authorizing the Live Wires of the Commercial Club, Tuesday, to urge the representatives in Congress and the Senate to hasten the beginning of the work, and to obtain a larger government appropriation, was adopted. Mr. Hedges said in part:

"For as many years as I have lived we have been hoping for an open river and for many years we have been promised by our representatives that we would have free locks and the rapids below the city would be removed. Four years ago the present agitation began, and these agitations were like tides, rising and falling when the bill was introduced in the legislature to appropriate $300,000 for building or purchasing free locks, that since that time we have agitated free locks, and for the last two years the practically universal sentiment has been against the purchase of the old canal and locks and for the construction of new ones.

"Not the Time to Switch."
"We have had our representatives in Congress in the Commercial Club rooms and at public meetings urged them to work for the construction of new locks, and asserted that we opposed the purchase of the old locks. The engineers have made surveys and have reported favorably upon the construction of locks on the east side. Now just as we seem about to reap the harvest of our work and to obtain the locks the controversy has been raised as to whether we want them for these four years, and especially the last two, we have so vehemently asserted we wanted. The point I here make is that this is not the time for us to switch and ask for that which we have labored against, in lieu of that which all of us have worked so hard to obtain. The inevitable result will be a failure to get anything. And I believe those who are urging the purchase of the west side locks are effectually working against free locks.

"The government does its work in a thorough manner. Instead of the locks costing $700,000 I am of the opinion that before completion they will cost $2,000,000 or $3,000,000. They will not be constructed in two

COMMISSION PLAN ACTION DELAYED

MAYOR TO BRING IT UP AT REGULAR MEETING OF COUNCIL FRIDAY.

UNANIMOUS APPROVAL EXPECTED

Failure of Quorum To Attend Special Session Causes Postponement—Citizens Urged To Be Present.

Owing to a lack of a quorum at the special council meeting called for Tuesday night, Mayor Brownell announced that the proposed commission form of government for the city would be considered at the regular meeting Friday evening. The councilmen present were Messrs. Burke, Holman, Andresen and Meyer. The absentees were Dr. Strickland and Messrs. Roake, Pope and Hall. Dr. Strickland and Mr. Roake are out of the city. All the councilmen were served with notice that the special meeting had been called.

Mayor Brownell announced Tuesday evening that the question would be submitted Friday evening through a resolution, which it is believed, will be adopted. All but one or two of the members have announced themselves as being in favor of the commission form of government, and it is said the board is unanimous on the question. The Mayor requests all citizens, who can possibly do so, to attend the meeting and give their views. It is his intention, with the sanction of the council, to appoint a committee of seven to revise the city charter so as to provide for the new plan of government. The revised instrument will be published in the local papers in order that the taxpayers and voters may have a chance to study it carefully before the special election, which it is planned to call, for voting upon it.
