M'NAMARA JUDGE ACCUSES DEFENSE

BORDWELL SAYS LAWYERS ARE TRYING TO CIRCUMVENT HIS DECISIONS.

ALL CHALLENGES ARE REJECTED

Court Holds Attorneys Cannot Object to Jurymen Because They Are Opposed to Capital Punishment.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Judge Walter Bordwell accused the defense in the McNamara case today of trying to circumvent his rulings, and rejected two challenges against talesmen which formed the basis of his opposition. He also refused to the defense the privilege of challenging against a juror who said he would not convict of murder on circumstantial evidence alone, holding that this challenge was available only to the state.

Under these rulings, the jury box contained at the close of court to three men passed for cause by both sides, in addition to the four so qualified when the day's session opened.

To both of the court's main rulings today, Attorney S. Darrow took exception in behalf of his client, James B. McNamara, who is on trial for the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a victim of the Los Angeles Times explosion a year ago.

For the first time since the trial

SAVE YOUR WATCH REPAIR BILLS!

Let us inspect and clean your watch now, while it is still uninjured by dust and hardened oil. Unless the delicate exactly adjusted parts are kept clean and oiled, they are certain to become worn and the movement will surely lose its accuracy.

Every watch should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled at least once in 18 months and if yours has not been cleaned within that period it is time to bring it here.

Most watch troubles are caused by lack of cleaning. If cleaned regularly your watch should give a life-time of service, barring accident.

We mend broken rings, pins and chains, so that they will look and be practically the same as when you bought them.

All work guaranteed.

'PHONE MANAGER HURT BY VICIOUS HORSE

MICHAEL J. SHARKEY DIES AT TWILIGHT

LIVE WIRES DISCUSS FREE LOCKS TODAY

Benjamin Hayhurst, manager of the Home Telephone Company, was seriously injured Monday morning. Two of his ribs were broken. Mr. Hayhurst was walking along Main street, near Fourth, when he saw a farmer was having trouble with one of his horses. The halter was on the ground, and Mr. Hayhurst in attempting to pick it up was kicked by the horse. He was taken to the office of Drs. Carl and Meissner, where his injuries were given attention, and afterward was taken to his home at Canemah.

Mr. Sharkey is survived by his widow, Elizabeth Sharkey, and the following children: John J. Edward M., Margaret P. of Portland; Sister M. Laurentia, of the Dominican Convent, San Jose; Mrs. Florence C. McEachern, of Portland; and Mrs. Sarah A. Stryker, of Portland.

OREGON CITY WINS THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

The Oregon City football team won its third straight game Sunday by defeating the Piedmont Stars of Portland. After the first down, when Quarterback White was injured and taken from the game, it was evident the visitors were completely outclassed. The locals had very little trouble in pulling off forward passes and fake end runs. The forward pass was used many times by both teams. In the second quarter, Moore, Oregon City's gritty left tackle, while carrying the ball, was injured so that it was necessary to remove him from the game. His left collar bone was fractured. With the loss of two of her best men, Oregon City piled up a score of 38 to 0.

R. W. BAKER ACCEPTS INDEPENDENCE OFFER

R. W. Baker, one of the best known young men of Oregon City, will leave in a few days for Independence, Or., where he will become a partner of his brother, B. F. Baker, in the feed business. Mr. Baker was born and reared in this city, and his friends regret that he has decided to leave. He has a large insurance and real estate business, and is one of the most enthusiastic autoists in the city. Mr. Baker has just returned from Independence where he made arrangements to enter business with his brother.

BAND DOES WELL AT SECOND REHEARSAL

Much enthusiasm was shown at the rehearsal of the Oregon City Orchestra in the Commercial Club parlor Monday night, and Professor Sager said that he was more than satisfied with the progress that had been made. About twenty-five candidates participated in the rehearsal, and their work was creditable. One of the new men was A. F. Raker, an accomplished musician, who was induced to come to this city by the Promotion Department of the Commercial Club. He obtained a position upon his arrival and expects to make Oregon City his home. Another musician from the Middle West has written that he will come to Oregon City and become a member of the orchestra.

AGED RESIDENT GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Rudolph Seiler, a well known resident of this city, was taken by surprise at his home Sunday afternoon, the occasion being his sixty-sixth birthday. The friends, who planned the affair, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Vigilus and went to the home of the Sellers. They were invited in and immediately took possession of the Seller home. One of the features was the serving of the birthday dinner, which was furnished by the guests, and they came amply supplied with all of the delicacies of the season. Many useful presents were made to Mr. Seller.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Vigilus, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petzold, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Strohmyer, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Klemén, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Klooster, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hartman, Mrs. Louis Nobel, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schoenert, Miss Lizzie Schoenheit, Miss Minnie Klemén, Miss Florence Seller, Norman Seller, Mr. and Mrs. R. Seller, Miss Rose Strohmyer, Miss Louise Strohmyer.

REV. HAYWORTH SCORES DIVORCES

MINISTER DECLARES PULPIT SHOULD PROCLAIM SANCTITY OF MARITAL BOND.

SAYS CIVILIZATION IS THREATENED

Lesson Drawn From Paul's Dealings With Felix in Sermon on "Why More Men Are Not Christians."

The Rev. S. A. Hayworth, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached the first of a series of sermons planned by him, Sunday evening, on "Why More Men Are not Christians." His text was: "And as Paul reasoned with Felix concerning temperance, righteousness and judgment, so come. He answered saying, 'Go thy way for this time; when I have more convenient season I will call for thee.' Acts 24:25. The minister said:

Paul in dealing with this governor did not hand out toothsome sweet-meats, but dealt heavy blows of truth at the conscience of the proud culprit. Paul knew how to arouse the conscience of strong men, and in addressing them, sought to arouse thought, challenged to action and called them to such duties as required the most heroic courage and manly strength. The world's redeemer was a man of imperial strength and loved men. He dwelt with men and called his first disciples from among the males and committed to them the task of evangelizing the world. Hence Paul the ambassador of Christ, was not afraid to stand before governors and kings.

Felix Had Three Wives.

Felix was thrice married and when he sent for Paul had three living wives on the earth. Drusilla was the wife of a king before she forsook her constancy to marry Felix. Paul was then addressing an audience of two—an adulterer and an adulteress. He got his sermon from his audience and reasoned with them concerning self-control, righteousness and judgment to come. He saw in Felix the possibility of a good man and coveted him for higher things. Paul did not look down on him but saw him in the light of Calvary. The worth of the most wicked man can only be appreciated when seen from the view-point of his potential being. A prism when seen between the eye and the earth is nothing but a piece of glass, but when seen between the eye and the sun, it possesses all the beautiful colors and glory of the rainbow. So this adventurous man and woman of high position in the financial and political world, were regarded by Paul as objects of love.

There are certain reasons which hinder men from being Christians. There are today in the United States three million more female members of the church than male members. Why is this a fact? The same things which hindered Felix from accepting the gospel message, are perhaps similarly hindering many American men from being Christians.

Paul showed Felix, that Christianity, unlike the heathen religions of his time, does not sanction the practice of adultery under the guise of legal marriage. To have accepted Christ as Lord involved the question of his social habits. By reason of the whimsical reasons which the Romans gave for putting away their wives, Paul pointed out that Felix would have been compelled to renounce his present affinity and go back to his first love. The heathen religions sanctioned adultery and many of them were identified in their forms with its practice. What were the vestal virgins but tools for the use of degenerate priests? Felix a heathen, did not look upon the marriage relation as being an inviolable obligation, but regarded the matter of divorcing one woman in order to take another, as a mere form and felt little or no pang of conscience about it. This low standard of social ethics stood as a barrier to his accepting Jesus Christ for the acceptance of Christ necessitated the practice of ideal chivalric devotion to a wife.

America Is Threatened.

This same low standard is obtaining to a large degree in American civilization and is blighting the moral and religious hopes of multitudes. When the changing of a wife for another appears to be no more serious than the bartering in horses by common traders, it is high time for the Christian pulpit to proclaim with emphasis the sanctity of the marriage bond and to teach the public that marriage involves the physical identification of male and female and that the moral obligations of such a union can no more be annulled by a court of law, than the obligations of a son toward an earthly parent can be annulled. These obligations, are of course, more solemn when children are born into the world.

The every day spectacle, which occurs in our courts, of husbands and wives parting by legal decrees of divorce and in that way seeking to escape the moral obligations of mutually rearing their children and providing, is a disgrace to our American civilization and if not checked by a revival of Christian teaching, will result in the decay of this present civilization. Felix doubtless allowed his adulterous relations with Drusilla, to deter him in the matter of accepting the lordship of Jesus Christ. He did not propose to carry his renunciation into the realm of his social conduct. So there are many men today, who having violated every law of Christian morality in their sinful conduct, refuse to give their moral allegiance to Jesus Christ, for such allegiance would require living a social standard based on the revelation made in the words of Christ, that when two souls are united in marriage, these two shall be one flesh and that what God hath joined together, no

WILLAMETTE BOND ISSUE IS CARRIED

PLAN TO RAISE $7,000 TO ENLARGE SCHOOL WINS BY MAJORITY OF THREE.

SHERIFF MASS' VOTE CHALLENGED

Report That Water Rent Will be Increased as Result of Election—Proposition Lost in August.

A bond issue of $7,000 to enlarge the schoolhouse at Willamette was carried Monday by a vote of forty-eight to forty-five. It was one of the most exciting elections ever held in the county, and there is a probability of a contest. Several persons were challenged when they went to the polls to vote, and one, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, was not allowed to cast a ballot. It was declared that her name was not on the assessment roll.

Sheriff Mass' right to vote also was challenged on the ground that he lived in Oregon City. He admitted that he had a home in Oregon City, but declared that he had never changed his legal residence from Willamette and did not intend to do so. The sheriff was armed with an opinion from the district attorney favorable to his contention. Mr. Mass said that he was a resident of Willamette when he made the race for sheriff and had never voted in Oregon City. He declared that he intended to keep his legal residence in Willamette.

The officers of election were H. Leisiman and G. G. Graves, judges, and Gordon Rogers, clerk. At an election held August 14 the proposition was defeated by a small majority. Ex-Mayor Downey, who has large property interests in Willamette, opposed the proposition. Persons who favored the bond issue said before the election that a threat had been made if it carried the water rate would be increased twenty-five cents a month. It is planned to add four rooms to the school house and employ two more teachers.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

The Knights and Ladies of Secular Union made merry at Woodman Hall Monday night, the degree staff being in charge of the entertainment. About 250 members were present, sixty of them having come on special cars from Portland. Deputy Organizer Cummings being in charge of the visitors. Punch and fruit were served and a delightful program was rendered. Dancing was indulged in until almost midnight. Mrs. Pauline Schwartz, captain of the degree team, was the fortune teller. The program was as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss Lulu Gehin. Song—Master Kenneth Woodward. Recitation—Miss Alta Curtis. Vocal solo—Miss Letta Cross. Vocal solo—Oscar Woodfin. Holloween drill—Knight and Lad degree staff. Piano duet—Oscar Woodfin and Miss Holmes. Vocal solo—Miss May Confer. Recitation—Miss Dolores Washburn, of Portland. Vocal duet—Mrs. Clint Rutherford and Henry Henningsen. Piano solo—Miss Gertrude Jerome.

They will replace same with a new and up-to-date article, allowing you full value for your property.

SIX PER CENT SEMI-ANNUAL INTEREST COUPON BONDS.

THE CLACKAMAS SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY is now offering to our home people its first mortgage 6 per cent semi-annual interest coupon bonds, and as the bonds are limited to ties, rails and equipment and all other work, such as grading and bridges, are paid for by stock subscriptions, the bonds issued by this company are first class.

These bonds are issued in the following denominations, viz.: $100, $500, $1,000.

The Clackamas Southern Railway Company offers the following reasons why these bonds should be sold in Oregon:

FIRST—it is an Oregon enterprise and owned by Oregon people.

SECOND—the country traversed by this line is thickly populated and has freight and passenger traffic in sight to make it the best paying road in Oregon for its length.

THIRD—the best business men and farmers in the County are stockholders in this road and authorized the issue of these bonds at the stockholders' meeting by unanimous vote.

FOURTH—these bonds draw 6 per cent interest and the holder gets his interest twice each year.
