TURKS PLANNING REVENGE ON FOE

ITALIANS IN TRIPOLI LOSING GROUND AND EUROPE IS HORRIFIED.

BEDOUINS AND ARABS IN GREAT WAR

Cholera Rages Among Troops And Civilians And Streets Are Closed—Soldiers Refuse to Bury Bodies of Slain.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Dispatches from Malta say that it is reported that the Turks and Arabs have attacked and re-entered Tripoli, inflicting tremendous loss upon the Italians, who for several days have been confined to the inner fortifications, weakened and disheartened by disease and the fearful stench arising from thousands of unburied corpses.

It is reported by wireless direct from Tripoli that the threatened attack of the Turks and Arabs on that place is likely to occur at any moment and that the Italians, who hold only the inner forts, within the city itself, no longer are confident of the result of an attack by their foes, who are in possession of the outer circle of fortresses.

Europe shudders at the thought of what may occur at Tripoli if the Turks should reconquer the city and commit upon the Italians the atrocities which the Italians are proved to have committed upon the Turks and Arabs. The earlier reports of the cruelties of the Italians toward their North African foes are confirmed today by the arrival here and at Berlin, Paris, Vienna and Frankfurt of additional uncensored delayed dispatches from English, German and French correspondents at the front.

A holy war has been successfully proclaimed. Bedouins from Egypt and Arabs from Soudan are joining the Tripolitans. Only an advance guard of 1,500 Arabs is attacking the Italians, despite the statements in the Italian papers that the enemy's losses run into the thousands.

The Italians are cutting all the trees in the oasis so as not to afford shelter to the enemy. Thus the invaders are reducing the scanty oasis to a desert.

CAR CRASHES INTO BUGGY; NO ONE HURT

The interurban car, which arrived here from Portland last midnight crashed into a buggy, which contained a man, at Seventeenth and Main streets. The motorman stopped the car almost immediately, and, although the occupant of the buggy was thrown out of the vehicle, he was not hurt. He refused to give his name. The car from Portland arrived at Seventeenth street just as the ingoing car reached the siding, and the headlight of the latter car blinded for an instant the man in charge of the one that crashed into the buggy. The horses, attached to the buggy, broke loose and ran a short distance.

BANKER EVARS IS CALLED VILLIAN

CASHIER OF INSTITUTION GOES TO JAIL IN DEFAULT OF $15,000 BOND.

TWO OTHER OFFICERS ARE ACCUSED

District Attorney Ask To Tell Whether Any Witnesses For State Have Been Assured Immunity.

CORVALLIS, Or., Nov. 4.—Refusing to make any defense and denounced by W. S. McFadden, of counsel for the state, as a "designing villain whose operations seethed with corruption," James Evars, cashier of the suspended First State Bank of Philomath, was today held by Justice Lane to the grand jury for two alleged violations of the state banking law.

In default of bail aggregating $15,000 on the two charges Evars was remanded to jail pending the convening of the grand jury November 24.

In the preliminary examination of Evars, W. H. Fowler, of Portland, who with Charles H. Glos, of this city, appeared for the bank cashier, made a formal demand on Justice Lane that warrants of arrest be issued for A. J. Williams and S. T. Wyatt, president and director, respectively, of the embarrassed bank, alleging that these officers were equally guilty with Evars for the suspension of the bank.

Attorney Fowler also insisted that the District Attorney's office be required to announce whether or not witnesses for the state, particularly R. O. Arpke, assistant cashier of the bank, had been assured immunity from prosecution in return for their testimony for the prosecution.

The plaintiff charges that her husband came home in an intoxicated condition May 5, 1910, abused her and hunted for his razor with which he said he would kill her. PATRON BITTEN, GRAND THEATRE BARS DOGS

After one of his patrons had been bitten by a Shepherd dog Saturday afternoon, Charles Schram, proprietor of the Grand Theatre, announced that dogs would not be allowed in the playhouse in future. The victim, Charles E. Grew, was bitten in the calf of his left leg. He kicked the dog with his right foot and the animal escaped out the front door. Mr. Grew was not badly injured, but he complained to Mr. Schram. All efforts to learn who had brought the dog into the theatre were unavailing.

"I have intended for sometime to bar dogs from the theatre," said Mr. Schram Saturday night, "but several of my patrons persist in bringing their pets with them, and I have hesitated about enforcing the rule. The experience of today, however, is sufficient and persons who insist upon their dogs entering the house with them, will be denied admittance."

PRINCETON BEATS HARVARD, 8 TO 6

ELEVEN MEN EVENLY MATCHED AND GAME IS HARD-FOUGHT THROUGHOUT.

30,000 SEE BEST CONTEST OF YEAR

Orange and Black Make Stubborn Fight and Look Like Victors at Start—Luck is Big Factor.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 4.—(Special.)—Princeton's gridiron warriors defeated the Harvard eleven here this afternoon by a score of 8 to 6.

Thirty thousand clamorous rooters gathered to cheer on the Princeton and Harvard gridiron gladiators in their first clash on a football field in fifteen years.

The first quarter opened with much kicking, the ball see-sawing from one side to the other on the frequent punts. The ball was seldom lost on downs.

Princeton had the better of these exchanges, the ball coming dangerously near Harvard's 10-yard line on several occasions, but each time the Crimson punted out of danger. Two attempted fake kick plays by Princeton were neatly broken up by Harvard without gains for the Tigers, and the period ended with the tables reversed, the ball being on Princeton's 25 yard line in possession of the Orange and Black athletes.

Princeton started the second period with snappy, aggressive rushes, which bored holes in the Harvard line and brought the ball half the length of the field to within 27 yards of the Harvard goal. Here Christie attempted a drop kick but Wendell broke through the Tiger line and blocked the kick, restricting his team mates from a critical position.

Wendell then carried the ball in a brilliant run to Princeton's 32 yard line, where Muholland failed to kick a field goal for the Crimson. The ball see-sawed, Princeton kicking out of danger when Harvard rushed the ball to their 14 yards line. In another spectacular run Wendell brought the pigskin back to the Tiger 17 yard line. Harvard failed to score, Princeton recovering the ball.

Their possession of the ball was short lived, however, and soon the indomitable Wendell was tearing holes in the orange line, or plunging around end for substantial gains, bringing the ball to within ten yards of the Princeton goal. Here with the Crimson rooters yelling like mad the Tigers fighting desperately on the defensive and an apparently sure score for Harvard in sight, disaster followed an attempt on the part of Hollister to kick a field goal.

White of Princeton crashed through an opening in the line, rushed into the ball as it left the ground, scooped it up as it bounded along before him on the 25 yard line, and with a clear field ahead, sped on to the distant Harvard goal, 89 yards away, for a touchdown within the last minute of play.

Before the joyous yells of the Princeton rooters died away Pendleton had kicked the goal and the period ended:

Princeton, 6; Harvard, 0.

The second half opened with the ball again see-sawing in the middle of the field until finally Dewitt, the Tiger fullback, made a punt, kicking the ball to the Crimson goal line. The ball went over but Princeton's claim that a Harvard player had pushed it over was allowed, and Princeton was awarded a safety. Score, Princeton, 8; Harvard, 0.

The ball was put in play on Harvard's 25 yard line and Wendell, the fast forward halfback, made another sensational rush, carrying the ball to the 50 yard line in Princeton's territory. Here Princeton recovered and Dewitt punted. Huntington kicked back and Baker caught the ball within seven yards of the Tiger goal.

Here Dewitt was called upon to punt the ball out of danger but the Crimson players were not to be denied and neatly executed a forward pass, demoralizing the compact Princeton defense and Huntington plunged through a scattered field for what looked like a touchdown, but he was downed on the 14 yard line. Here the Tiger line held like a wall and after fierce scrimmaging, in which Harvard was unable to find a loophole, the ball passed to Princeton on her 5-yard line. Dewitt again came to the rescue with one of his long punts and the period ended with the ball in Harvard's possession on Princeton's 45 yard line.

In the fourth period the Harvard eleven carried the ball far down into the enemy's territory, but the Tigers recovered as usual at the critical moment and punted to the 30 yard line.

Then Harvard called her forward pass, which had so bewildered the Tigers before, into play with the result that the ball was carried to Princeton's two-yard line. Here Wendell, whose work in the Harvard back field was the feature of the game, was pushed over the goal for a touchdown. Morrison goal.

ELOPING COUPLE TAKEN HOME.

A boy, seventeen years of age, and a girl, sixteen years of age, of Forest Grove, were detained here Saturday by Policeman Green until the arrival of a deputy sheriff from their home town, who took them home. They left home several days ago and went to Canby where the boy obtained work. They came here Saturday and Policeman Green held them until the arrival of the deputy sheriff. The girl's brother accompanied the deputy to this city.

DRIVER STOPS HORSE AFTER THRILLING RIDE

A runaway occurred on Seventh street Saturday morning, but no one was injured. Two men from Portland representing the Singer Sewing Machine Company were riding in a wagon, near Jackson street, when one of the bolts of a shaft became loosened and the shaft falling, frightened the horse, but the men remained in the vehicle, and the horse after running several blocks was stopped. No damage was done. The driver skillfully guided the frenzied horse and prevented a collision. But for the presence of mind of the men in the wagon the result might have been serious.
