PEKIN AWAITING REBEL APPROACH

PRINCES GATHER IN FORBIDDEN
CITY AND BELIEVE END IS NEAR.

LEGATIONS COMPLETE PREPARATIONS

Consuls Are Distrusted By Rebels
And Excesses Are Feared—
Foreign Governments
Are Criticized.

PEKIN, Nov. 10, 2:52 a. m.—Pekin is still awaiting the approach of the rebels. The Forbidden City is filled with princes, high officials and others who are entitled to entry within its walls.

Vast stores of provisions have been transported to that place, which are strongly guarded, and ready for a siege.

Active preparations for what is considered the inevitable assault upon the capital are going on within the legation quarter, for it is now considered that the Manchus will be turned out. Foreigners, it is asserted, will be fully protected, but experience has taught them that the temper of the people is not to be trusted when revolutionary movements are in progress.

While reinforcements have reached Peking, reports have been received of numerous defections of the Manchu soldiers to the rebel side. The government troops are an uncertain quantity, but there are still loyal regiments fighting for the dynasty.

At Nanking, where the revolutionists outnumber the imperialists five to one, the latter still hold Purple Mountain. They are strongly entrenched and are said to have abundant supplies. An American who is in close touch with the Tien-tsin rebels says they are divided into two factions. The conservative faction probably will control and wait until there is a material force behind it before taking over the city. At present only 2,500 police within the city support the rebels.

The attitude of foreigners is causing anxiety and distrust among the rebels. The rebel leaders point out that the Consuls have permitted the government to bring in soldiers contrary to the protocol of 1910, and have objected to General Chang's bringing in troops.

SHORT HAUL RATE IS GIVEN SETBACK

COMMERCE COURT ENJOINS ORDER GRANTED BY INTERSTATE BOARD.

INVESTIGATION IS TO BE MADE

Decision Not Expected For Several Months And An Appeal To Supreme Court Is Probable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Expected reduction of transcontinental railroad freight rates was held up today when the Court of Commerce granted a temporary injunction against the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission in what popularly are known as the Spokane and other Pacific Coast points rate cases.

The cases involve not only the "back haul" freight rates to Spokane and other inter-mountain points from Pacific Coast terminals, but also the application of the long and short-haul clause of the law. The effect of the Commission's order was to reduce the freight rates from Atlantic seaboard points to inter-Rocky Mountain destinations.

In the reduction of the transcontinental rates, the Commission recognized the effect of water competition on the Pacific Coast, but held substantially that the rates from the East to cities like Spokane and Reno should be lower than the existing rates.

In the circumstances it is regarded as likely that whatever the judgment of that court may be, the controversy will be carried to the Supreme Court.

OREGON CITY HAS LIGHT SNOW FALL

The first snow of the season fell in Oregon City last evening. The flurry did not continue long and many persons who were out of doors were not aware that it was snowing, taking it for granted that the little white things which struck them on the face and hands were drops of rain. It began snowing a little before 9 o'clock and stopped at about 9:10.

BROTHERS IN LEGAL FIGHT FOR LAND

PROPERTY THOUGHT VALUELESS FEW YEARS AGO NOW WORTH FORTUNE.

PUBLISHER AND PREACHER IN SUIT

Scions of Old Maryland Family Battle For Real Estate Made Valuable By Railroad.

A tract of 160 acres of land in this county, which a few years ago was considered of little or no value, is today the bone of contention of scions of an old Maryland family, and $17,000 has been offered for the property. The tract is involved in the suit of R. Edgar Beall, a publisher of Philadelphia, against John W. Beall and his brothers and sisters, which is being heard by Judge Campbell in the Circuit Court. The case is being bitterly contested and is another instance of property estranging members of a family. It also reveals the rapidly increasing land values in this county.

The father of the litigants obtained a deed to the land which is in section 24 south, township 4, range 5 east, in 1877. When he died the property was of little value, and for several years so little attention was given it that the taxes were not even paid. The plaintiff was made administrator and it is alleged, was indebted to the estate. He gave a deed conveying the land to the other heirs, with the exception of John W. Beall, in consideration of their executing a release so far as concerned the plaintiff's indebtedness to the estate. John W. Beall refused to enter into the deed, declaring that the indebtedness of the administrator was much larger than the value of the property. Thereafter, the plaintiff, gave to John W. Beall a deed conveying the property to him. Owing to the building of a railroad near the property was valued in 1909 at $15,000 and John W. Beall was preparing to sell it when his brother, R. Edgar Beall, filed suit, alleging that the deed granted by him (Continued on page 2.)

MISS MIDLAM AND DR. ZIEGLER WED

FORMER OREGON CITY GIRL BECOMES BRIDE OF PORTLAND MAN.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS CEREMONY

Impressive Service Witnessed By Party From This City—Couple Go To California On Honeymoon.

The marriage of Miss Anne Midlam, of Portland, but formerly of this city, to Dr. Frederick J. Ziegler, city physician and a well known university man of the metropolis, was solemnized Wednesday evening in Westminster Presbyterian Church, Rev. Henry Marcotte officiating. Attending the bride were Mrs. Nora Watkins Robb, matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nora Watkins and Mrs. Matt Watkins. Dr. Condon McCornack was best man. Just before the ceremony Mrs. Imogen Harding Brodie sang Cowen's "Because," and to the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march the bridal party came down the aisle.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin en train and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her attendants were dressed in yellow silk, harmonizing perfectly with the church decorations of a mass of yellow chrysanthemums, relieved with ferns. Clifton N. MacArthur, Clarence Bishop, Douglas Taylor and Edward E. Brodie were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Marshall, the latter a sister of the bride, gave a large reception at their home 343 Holladay avenue, after the ceremony, and Dr. and Mrs. Ziegler left for California for a three weeks' honeymoon. ## POLICE TO PROBE INDIAN'S DEATH

CROSS WILL AID AUTHORITIES IN SEARCH FOR COMPANIONS OF HENNING.

STRANGE CASE MAY NEVER BE SOLVED

Agent of Warm Springs Reservation Will Be Asked To Question Men—Mass To Make Search.

The Oregon City authorities will investigate the mysterious death of Henry Henning, the young Warm Springs Indian, whose body was found in the Willamette River near Concord. The young man disappeared on the night of September 22, and three men with whom he had been drinking declared that he had been arrested and would not be seen for a long time. H. E. Cross, upon whose place Henning and his family were camping when the man disappeared, will write to the agent of the reservation today to question the men who were with Henning.

Mr. Cross said that he had been confident from the start that Henning was dead. The day before the body was found the man's father-in-law called upon Mr. Cross, and when told that his son-in-law was probably dead, he became inconsolable.

"That was the first time I ever saw an Indian cry," said Mr. Cross. "He wept like a child. I have heard of Indians crying, but this is the first case that ever came under my observation, and I have had dealings with a great many of them."

Mr. Cross said it would be difficult to prove that the man had met with foul play. There were no marks on the body, and it is believed that the man was drowned. Whether he was thrown into the river or fell into it is a mystery that probably will never be cleared, but the police will try to solve it. Sheriff Mass will try to locate the men with whom Henning was last seen and get a statement from them.
