How would it do to number instead of naming children until they reach an age when their bodies and minds are developed and their characteristics displayed beyond a doubt?

While as a rule the present system may work all right not unfrequently the names given are a sort of mischief. It is rather incongruous that a hot quick-tempered woman should bear the name of "Patience," or that one tipping the scale at 250 pounds should be known as "Tiny," "Lily," "Daisy," or "Birdie."

And so with men. It makes one smile that some poor creature who dare not call his soul his own has such a misfit name as "Lycurgus," that one mentally deficient should go

A few weeks ago the postmaster gave us notice of a letter from a New York girl who is looking for a husband in this part of the country. This girl has received something less than sixty-two letters from Clackamas county men since her letter was published. Is somebody flirting or do the boys mean business?

We know the age of Ann, but how long will it be before Oregon City has uniformed policemen?

The story of two old time friends fighting for the hand of their lady love is an old timer, but we always supposed that the victor always married the girl. But that young lady who lives to the east of us turned the tables when she left "Damon and Pythias" scrapping and hiked off with a third man.

Why not unite forces and have the militia boys and postoffice people in the same three-story, block square, stone building?

While the abolition of public drinking cups is generally conceded to be a splendid thing, the movement was not carried out as far as it should have been in regard to transportation companies. As it is the law seems to have been framed to help peanut butchers sell a ten-cent collapsible drinking cup for twenty-five cents, while the car companies still continue to keep cold water. A part of that law should have stipulated that these companies place a goodly supply of paper drinking cups in a case alongside of each water cooler.

In spite of the wide publicity of the value of the scheme, we haven't seen any of those nickel-in-the-slot paper-mache comb machines yet.

The Standard Clock system in the Oregon City High School was given its first trial Thursday and gave perfect satisfaction. Superintendent of City Schools Toose and the High School teachers were delighted with the results. Clocks and bells in the various rooms are connected with a master clock, which controls the ringing of the bells. All the bells and gongs are operated automatically and the assembling of the classes and their moving from one room to another is done on the minute and without the slightest delay.

Cuban Indians. Cuban officials applied to the king of Spain in 1534 for 7,000 negroes that they may become inured to labor before the Indians cease to exist. After 1533 there was not an Indian on the island.

Peculiar Table Customs. In a book entitled "Domestic Manners of the Middle Ages" we are told that in those days dinner table were covered by a "nappe," or tablecloth. Upon it were placed a large silver-plated bread and cups for wine, but no knives or plates. The reason for the absence of the knives arose from the common practice in vogue of people carrying their own knives in a sheath attached to their girdle. In an early work, written by Lydgate—"Itales For Behaviors at Table"—the guests are told to bring no knives unsecured to the table, which can only mean that each one was to keep his own knife that is, the one he carried with him—clean.

through the world as "Solon," that a domineering uncharitable egotist should be introduced to society as "Abraham Lincoln," and that a "George Washington" should be a mean, low down delinquent. The ancient Jews and other nations gave names that reflected some characteristic or that spoke of some notable achievement, and not unfrequently on occasion they changed a mans name. Such a practice cannot well be followed in these days, but it might be well for some parents to show greater discrimination in the names they give their children and not weigh them down through life with some absurdity.

The Social Service Convention held at Madison, Wis., threshed out some very timely subjects, and the effect will be apparent in the near future. The contention made by one speaker that while much has been done in recent years to lessen the labors of the farmer very little had been done to lighten the work of the farmer's wife was very much to the point. Machinery has been a great aid to the farmer in planting, cultivating and harvesting his crops, but in the household work is done in just about the way it was done fifty years ago. True, there has been some amelioration, but it is very slight as compared with what the farmer has received. No wonder that farmers' daughters show the same disposition as the sons to leave the farm for the city. It is a pity that they do, as a rule, but it is natural under the circumstances.

LIVE WIRELETS (BY EDGAR BATES.)

At last some of those wood piles have disappeared from the sidewalks and pedestrians have come back to their own.

Each year the War Department spends vast sums in establishing and maintaining recruiting stations in their efforts to induce more young men to enter the army. From time to time we hear a lot of clamor from the authorities telling us how hard it is to get new men to enlist. They fail to see the reason of this difficulty. Army life at the best has but few attractions. The pay is a mere pittance, the duties are often laborious and when it comes to rations, the camp menu does not have many attractive dishes. Statistics show that the government spends but $195.96 for the actual maintenance of each man per year. This true that clothing is furnished but the costumes have a certain sameness all the time which must get very monotonous at times. Give the soldiers decent pay, better clothing and more rations and the service will possibly prove a little more alluring to the average young man.

The man who just bought an automobile says the way to obtain the real cost of a machine is to simply double the catalogue price of the machine "complete." The machine "complete" might be "complete" all right, but bumpers, claxon horns, electric connections for lights, touring trunks, lunch outfits, collapsible buckets, a few extra tools and the thousand and one other things that are suggested by the salesman "help some" when it comes to the final cost. Then after that comes the tax, insurance, two or three automobile club fees and then one is only ready to begin to continually buy juice and tires not to mention the regular autoists costume.

Rev. C. V. T. Richeson and Girl For Whose Death He Is Held

Nearly all the elements which lend interest to a murder case will be present in the trial of the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson for the murder of Miss Avis Linnell. The accused man, the popular pastor of a fashionable Cambridge (Mass.) church, is charged with responsibility for the death of a young girl to whom he once paid marked attentions, but whose removal he is supposed to have desired because of his engagement to the daughter of a wealthy paragon. The mystery is rendered more gruesome by the peculiarly deadly nature of the drug which caused the young woman's death—cyanide of potassium—and the testimony of a druggist that before the crime was committed the clergyman purchased "enough of it to kill ten men." The devotion to the prisoner of his fiancée and her family is another remarkable feature of a case which is likely to be noteworthy among the sensational murder trials of the past decade.

BROTHERHOOD DINNER DATES ARE CHANGED

The Congregational Brotherhood has decided to have its banquets on the third Tuesday instead of the fourth Tuesday in each month. The next banquet will be November 21 instead of November 28 as had been announced. President Gary said that the change had been made to obviate conflicting with other entertainments. The president also announced that the Purify Committee, consisting of Dr. Hugh S. Mount, Judge Campbell, E. C. Caulfield, E. J. Toose and Rev. E. F. Zimmerman, would have its report ready in a few days.

WILLAMETTE CLUB PLANS SEVEN DANCES

The Willamette Dancing Club will hold its first dance of the season in a week or two. A membership of sixty-five—the desired number—has been assured, and the dances the coming winter and spring are expected to be more successful than those given heretofore. The last series consisted of five, but arrangements are being made for at least seven this season. All persons who have been invited to become members are urged to enroll their names as soon as possible.

HIGH SCHOOL CLOCK SYSTEM IS PERFECT

The Standard Clock system in the Oregon City High School was given its first trial Thursday and gave perfect satisfaction. Superintendent of City Schools Toose and the High School teachers were delighted with the results. Clocks and bells in the various rooms are connected with a master clock, which controls the ringing of the bells. All the bells and gongs are operated automatically and the assembling of the classes and their moving from one room to another is done on the minute and without the slightest delay.

MODERN MATTERS.

Wool Trimming Effectively Used on Hats and Coats—For Styles.

The use of wool was effectively shown in the trimming of a white felt hat displayed recently. The hat was felt and had a crocheted ornament made of heavy white wool and tassels of the same. With the hat was shown a smart hand bag of knitted white wool with a wide band, like reins for children, by which it could be hung from the shoulder.

Natural fox is well liked as a trimming for this season, and skunk remains in favor for the same purpose. A whimsical clip such as this one makes a most satisfactory foundation over which to wear any thin gown. It can be made short or long. If a dressy effect is desired the circular founce should be covered with narrow founces of lace.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 44 bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 718, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which ensures more prompt delivery. In ordering use this coupon.

to seven of the heirs was a mortgage. It, however, was in the form of a deed. He declared that he was the owner of the property and not John W. Beall.

John W. Beall filed an answer denying the allegations of his brother, and declaring that he is the owner of the property.

J. E. Hedges, of this city, and N. A. Peery, of Portland, represent the defendants and Wilson & Neal, of Portland, represent the plaintiff. John W. Beall, who is here, is a minister, and lives near the old home in Maryland. The plaintiff and another brother, Jasper Beall, of Ohio, also are attending the trial.

Aunt Matilda's Journey. "The curious effect sometimes produced in telegrams by want of punctuation or the omission of a single word," says a reader, "cannot fail to have struck every one. I had a female relative living in the north from whom I had 'expectations.' She had been ailing for some weeks, when one morning came a telegram asking my wife to go at once as she—my aunt—was much worse. She accordingly went.

"During the evening of the following day I received this disconcerting announcement: "Aunt Matilda went to heaven at 3:30 returning by 11:50 tomorrow morning." New York Mail.

THE GOOD AND THE BAD.

One ought to balance the good with the bad and also the length of time a man has lived to form a true estimate of his character. Polybius, the Greek historian, says, "There is no reason why we should not sometimes blame and sometimes commend the same person, for, as none is a very right, neither is it probable that he should be always wrong."

HIGHEST PRICE IS REACHED FOR BARLEY

With California an eager bidder for the few small lots left in Oregon, the market for feed barley has touched a new high record at all Pacific north-west points. Sales are actually being made in the country on the basis of $40 per ton tidewater delivery. If California parties want the barley they will be forced to pay this figure.

Forty-four cents a pound was offered for hops by Carmichael of Salem and the buyer for English account was hot after supplies at the season's high record.

Deals between dealers are reported at 43 3/4c a pound, this price being actually paid by Klaber, Wolf & Netter during the past 24 hours.

Although dealers figure that there are about 4,500 bales of hops remaining unsold in the hands of Oregon growers at this time, fully 2,000 bales of these are held by interests who cannot be induced to let go at any price. In fact, they are considered perpetual holders and when the price reaches their previous limits they invariably put it that much higher.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: HIDES—(Buying)—Green hides, 5c to 6c; salted, 5c to 6c; dry hides, 12c to 14c; sheep pelts, 25c to 75c each.

HAY—(Buying)—Timothy, $12 to $15; clover, $8 to $9; oat hay, best, $9 to $10; mixed, $9 to $12; alfalfa, $11 to $14.50.

OATS—(Buying)—Gray, $25 to $27; wheat, $32 to $33; oil meal, $53; Shady Brook dairy feed, $1.25 per 100 pounds.

FEED—Shorts, $27 to $28; rolled barley, $37.50; process barley, $38.50; whole corn, $37; cracked corn, $38; white, $26 to $27; bran $27 to $28.

Butter, Poultry, Eggs. FLOUR—$4.50 to $5.25. BUTTER—(Buying)—Ordinary country butter, 25c to 30c; fancy dairy, 30c; creamery, 30c to 35c.

POULTRY—(Buying)—Hens, 11c to 12 1/2; broilers, 11c. EGGS—Oregon ranch eggs, 35c to 40c.
