SOCIALISTS LOSE IN LOS ANGELES

HARRIMAN BEATEN BY ALEXANDER BY ABOUT TWO-AND-ONE-HALF-TO-ONE.

M'NAMARA CASE THOUGHT FACTOR

Women Crowd Voting Places And Cast Ballots Against Man Who Won Easily In Primary.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—Alexander carried Harriman's precinct 1,537 to 192. Estimates of the vote give Alexander 100,000, Harriman 40,000. In 110 precincts complete Alexander's net gain over the primary vote was 25,990—19,719 more than Harriman's.

Socialism grappled in a final struggle with its foes under the "Good Government" banner at the ballot box today and was beaten.

The red emblem, which waved victoriously over Job Harriman, the Socialist candidate, in the municipal primary a little more than a month ago, went down with him under an avalanche of votes cast for Mayor George Alexander. The only question remaining a few hours after the polls had closed was as to the size of the majority.

Prohibition, the other big issue in the campaign, received scant attention from the vote counters tonight and the fate of the drastic dry ordinance remains uncertain, though the probability is that it has been defeated.

Ninety precincts complete on prohibition give 1,450 for, 2,721 against.

Forced to yield first place in the nominating ballot, October 31, when the vote cast totaled 45,000, Mayor Alexander polled today apparently two and one-half to one majority in a vote which partial returns from 293 precincts out of 317 indicated would total 140,880.

When Harriman gained a plurality of 3,000 over the Mayor in the October primary, the registration was approximately 75,000. Today 187,000 persons, including 85,000 women, were entitled to vote.

Ninety per cent of the registration on the West Side, where the vote was light in the primary, was voted today, while on the East Side, Harriman's conceded stronghold, the balloting was light in comparison. The women of the West Side outvoted the men.

The reverse was the case seemingly in the precincts where Harriman would be stronger in the primary. But the balance of power, which the women were credited with having prior to the astonishing finale of the McNamara case last Friday, did not figure in the result.

"Persons who would not vote for Alexander simply stayed away from the polls," Chairman S. C. Graham, of the Good Government organization, declared tonight in predicting a majority of at least 20,000 for Alexander.

M'NAMARAS PAID BY UNION, SAYS BURNS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 5.—"It is true that the executive council of the Iron Workers' Union voted a monthly fund of $1,000 to be paid to John J. McNamara. There is evidence to substantiate the charge that this money was knowingly voted for the purpose of paying it to James B. McNamara and Orville McNamara and that it was used by them in their dynamiting operations."

That was the statement of Detective William J. Burns, who arrived here last night from Akron. That he was going after "the men higher up" and criticism of President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, were other points emphasized by Burns.

DIMICK REVEALS ALL HIS POLICIES

CLACKAMAS SOUTHERN, HE SAYS, IS GREATEST RAILROAD EXTANT.

EARLY XMAS SHOPPING IS ADVISED

"Henry Watterson," Declares Mayor-Elect, "is One of the Finest Democratic Conversation-alists I Have Met."

"Whom will you appoint chief of police?"

"I don't know."

"Whom will you appoint street inspector?"

"I don't know."

"Whom will you suggest for city engineer?"

"I don't know."

The interrogator was a Morning Enterprise Reporter and the man questioned was Grant B. Dimick, Mayor-elect of Oregon City.

"It's a good thing it rained today and not yesterday," said the smiling Mayor-elect. "Yes sir, Christmas is almost here, and I am in favor of all persons doing their shopping early. And, by the way the Clackamas Southern railway line, in my opinion, the biggest thing that ever happened in Clackamas county. See what fertile territory it will bring near to Oregon City, the finest city in the world. Why one man, a millionaire, has given us a contract for twenty years to haul twenty carloads of timber daily. And the demand for bonds is increasing every minute. Our road will pierce the rich Molalla Valley, and millions of dollars will be brought to this city."

Then Judge Dimick, fondled, yes caressed, a big stack of telegrams and letters received from friends congratulating him upon his election.

"Don't you know," mused the Mayor-elect, "it is a great thing to have friends." He probably was thinking of that 112 majority.

"It's a great victory for the Republican party," read one telegram. The sender lived a long way from these parts.

"Anything doing in the gubernatorial line?" asked the reporter as he seized his hat and started for the door.

"All I can say," answered the Mayor-elect, "is that Henry Watterson is one of the finest Democratic conversationalists with whom I ever conversed. But I have to go to Salem tonight."

M'NAMARAS CALLED MURDERERS AT HEART

JAMES B. GIVEN LIFE TERM IN PENITENTIARY AND JOHN J. IS SENTENCED TO SERVE FIFTEEN YEARS.

HALL OF RECORDS, LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—The McNamara brothers soon will be mere convicts hidden away somewhere within grim old San Quentin—James B. McNamara for the rest of his natural life, and his elder brother, John J. McNamara, for fifteen years.

They were sentenced by Judge Bordwell just as if everything had been cut and dried for months. The sentencing passed off quietly. The courtroom was deathlike in its stillness.

All the bravado, swagger and confidence was gone from their manner and James B. McNamara especially was in a very bad way. He shook and trembled when he first stood up to hear his doom, but later partially regained his composure.

After asking him whether he had not at first tried to get dynamite of a higher explosive character than 80 per cent and receiving a negative answer, Bordwell then said:

"There is no comfort in the assertion that you did not intend to take life. The widows, orphans and the parents of the Times' victims would look upon that statement-at this time as a mockery.

"The circumstances are against you in making any such claim. A man who would put 16 sticks of 80 per cent dynamite in a building, which was filled with combustibles and which was known to you as a printer to be such, meant only murder and nothing else. It is no extenuating circumstance to this court to hear you say that you didn't intend to kill anyone. There is no question in the mind of the court that you are a murderer and as such should be punished.

"James B. McNamara, you are a murderer at heart, and well deserve the gallows, but in view of the recommendation of the state the judgment of the court in your case is that you be confined in the state prison at San Quentin for the balance of your natural life."

James B. McNamara was in a state of collapse as he sat down. There was not an instant's delay. As James B. McNamara sank into his chair Frederick was on his feet moving the sentence of John J. McNamara.

The latter stood up as Judge Bordwell began to read the indictment, which charged him directly with having set off dynamite at the Llewellyn Iron Works on December 25, 1910, with intent to destroy property and "intimidate men and women."

Judge Bordwell immediately imposed a sentence of fifteen years in San Quentin prison, repeating much of his exhortation in the sentencing of the other brother.

ETHEL JEFFERSON AND H. L. JOHNSON WED

Information was received in this city Tuesday by Mrs. Bruce Zumwalt that her cousin, Miss Ethel Jefferson, formerly of this city, and daughter of the late Oscar Jefferson, was married at her home in Chico, Cal., to H. L. Johnson, formerly of Parkdale, but now of Chico. The young couple are well known in this city, where they resided for some time. The Jefferson family moved to California about one year ago, and the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the former being a contractor, moved with his family to Chico, some time ago.

BABES COUGHING SAVE FAMILY FROM FIRE

J. Williamson's residence at Gladstone was completely destroyed by fire Monday night, the blaze being caused by a defective flue. The building was owned by Mr. Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson and their two children were asleep, when Mrs. Williamson was awakened by the sound of her children's coughing. The family escaped with some of their clothing, a few bed clothes and a lamp.

DIMICK URGES DOCK FOR STORAGE

Main Trunk of Live Wires Suggests Plan For Having Portland Buyers Come Here To Trade.

"There has not been a load of hay, straw, oats nor a load of anything else brought into Oregon City during the last year by a farmer that has not been able to sell," declared A. L. Beatie, of the Oregon Commission Company, at the weekly luncheon of the Live Wires Tuesday.

Dr. Beatie was somewhat "ried" when Mayor-elect Dimick urged the construction of a free public dock with storage room so that farmers might store their produce in such quantities that Portland buyers would be induced to come to Oregon City and set a price on it. While Dr. Beatie favors the building of a public dock, he is quick to resent a statement reflecting on the buyers of Oregon City. His assertion passed unchallenged.

One Mayor and two Mayor-elect graced the Live Wires luncheon on their presence Tuesday. Mayor Gary, of Willamette; Mayor-elect Cross, of Gladstone; and Mayor-elect Dimick, of Oregon City. They occupied seats of honor and brief speeches were made by Mr. Gary and Mr. Cross, the latter calling the attention of the Live Wires to the need of a fruit canning establishment at Oregon City. He said a cannery was in operation here in 1891 and the demand for labor was so great that it had to be imported from Portland, but that I. Lang, who owned the concern, became "peevish" over the failure of some of the people of this city to pay their stock subscriptions and he dismantled the cannery and removed the machinery away.

M. J. Lazelle, secretary of the promotion department of the Commercial Club, was named a committee to promote the establishment of a cannery here, and he called the attention of the Live Wires to the condition of the cannery at Canby, where the establishment is not in operation and where vain efforts have been made to secure people to operate the plant, though he had not ascertained the reason.

Postmaster Randall read letters from members of the Oregon congressional delegation and was directed to prepare information relative to the need of a Federal building at Oregon City requested by Senator Bourne, who wrote a long epistle to the postmaster, including his belief that the Senate committee on public buildings would have to be shown.

- The menu for Tuesday was:
- Roast Young Calf
 - Dressing
 - Corn Got Stewed
 - Salad—You Shrimp
 - Dill Pickles
 - Staff of Life
 - Butter
 - Apple Pie
 - Mince Pie

HOSE COMPANY FIGHTS FOR BIGGER BUILDING

Believing that due recognition has not been accorded them by the City Council of Oregon City, members of Green Point Home Company No. 5, at a mass meeting Tuesday night adopted resolutions which in effect will demand that the civic authorities acknowledge that there is a body of men in this city willing to risk their lives when disaster threatens.

In fact a committee was named to plead before the City Council which was accused of being "non receptive" of prior petitions asking for recognition. The committee consists of T. J. Myers, chairman; William Weismandel and J. F. Gleason. An active campaign is promised.

The men are housed in a little home just large enough to hold their records and a few of their friends when they wish to give a smoker. All they ask is that the council investigate and see whether their demands as fire fighters warrant the call of attention they make as a body.

At the election Tuesday night the following officers were elected:

- M. Long, president; J. T. Gleason, secretary; T. J. Myers, vice-president; William Weismandel, treasurer; William Hoose, foreman; A. J. Haas, first assistant foreman; William Knopp, second assistant foreman.

Benjamin Baxter presided over the meeting. Songs and speeches from well wishers of the club, including attorneys and men prominent in civic affairs, comprised the evening's program. The minutes of the past meetings show an increase in membership and three new members were added to the rolls: William Maddox, Ward Baxter and William Craig.

MRS. EDNA MILLER SUES FOR DIVORCE

PROMINENT YOUNG WOMAN ALLEGES HUSBAND TREATED HER CRUELLY.

$50 MONTHLY ALIMONY IS ASKED

Defendant Charged With Threatening To Force Wife From Home—Called Her Burden, She Says.

Alleging that he has treated her cruelly for about four years, Mrs. Edna B. Miller, one of the best known young women in the city Tuesday filed suit for divorce against Ralph D. Miller, also a member of a prominent Oregon City family. The plaintiff asserts that her husband, October 2, 1911, ordered her to leave his house and threatened to throw her out.

The couple were married August 22, 1906, in Oregon City, and have one child, Marion, three years of age, whose custody the plaintiff asks. She also asks $50 a month alimony alleging that her husband earns $25 a week as manager of the clothing department of a department store and owns a house and lot in block 54, Oregon City, valued at $2,500.

Mrs. Miller avers that beginning January 1, 1907, and continuing until December 4, 1911, the defendant was unkind to her and found fault with little things. She avers that he assumed a jealous disposition and intimated that she associated with other men. The plaintiff says her husband frequently told her she was a burden to him, and charged her with extravagance. She avers that he finally refused to let her have an account at the store where he worked.

After the birth of the child, according to Mrs. Miller, her husband refused to split and carry wood into the house and build the fires. She says she was compelled to do these things in addition to caring for the baby and attending to her household duties.

She asks that the alimony of $50 a month continue until the child is twenty-one years of age, and that $150 be allowed for attorneys' fees. The suit was brought by George C. Brownell and William Stone.

Mrs. Miller was formerly Miss Edna B. Tabor, being a daughter of R. H. Tabor, of this city. The defendant is a son of Thomas Miller, a retired contractor.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED HIS LIFE

Charging that her husband carried cyanide of potassium and frequently threatened to kill himself with the drug, for no other reason than to harass her, Mrs. Grace Jossa Tuesday filed suit for divorce against Carlos A. Jossa. They were married in Colorado City, Col., August 13, 1905, and soon thereafter the plaintiff avers he began making the threats to end his life with the poison.

Mrs. Jossa alleges that January 1, 1907, her husband, displaying a revolver threatened to shoot himself, for the purpose of harassing and frightening her from their home October 1, 1910, having previously threatened to choke and strangle her. The plaintiff declares that the defendant while they were riding on a train from San Francisco to Stockton, Cal., accused her of flirting with a man on the train.

The court has announced that the general road fund has been overtaxed by repeated demands from all parts of the county, and it has arrived at a stage where the court will not permit any over expenditure of that fund.
