FASHION VAGARIES.

What is Doing in Hand Bag Fashions. Revived Fashions. Illuminated leather in Austrian designs, rich in gold tracery, is going to be a leader among the materials for hand bags this year. This leather is by no means inexpensive, so there need be little fear of its becoming common, and cheap imitations, even if they appear, are easily detected. Corsetlet waist belts are worn again, but no longer are used to stiffen them. They are merely shaped to the figure and must be quite soft and pliable. This means that the corset beneath the dress must be a perfect fit. In line with the revival of quaint old styles in fabrics, one of these, which enjoyed some vogue as an alternative with velvet last winter, is corduroy. This year the wale is wider. Challis is another material that will be popular this winter in the all wool varieties. It comes in quaint little figured patterns and in many bordered designs. The corset cover with the straight upper edge that may be cut from embroidery is one that is well liked. In the illustration the cover is cut with seams at the center back and under the arms; consequently there is little fullness at the waist line. JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for misses of fourteen, sixteen and slightly over years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 713, and it will be promptly forwarded. Two cent stamp haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery.

UP TO DATE HOLIDAY HINTS

A Dainty Reticule Will Please Most Any Girl.

A linen hand bag to carry with the summer gown may be made up at little cost and will be a gratifying gift to the girl who is fond of stylish dressing. The washable hand bag will be carried as much next season as it was last summer. The bag illustrated was stamped with an oriental pattern and worked with delft blue silk. Any style hand bag will be acceptable. Some of the most expensive oriental effects in silk may be duplicated at home by the use of old fashioned brocade silks, tapestries and the addition of a little judicious embroidery. Silk bags ornamented with oriental embroideries are also fashionable. Heart shaped, shield shaped, square and oval bags and variations of these shapes are stylish. Bags of striped silk or satin with the flap fastened down by a fancy tuck and a cord in two colors (made by twisting together two cords of the desired colors) are also modish souvenirs.

Hand Embroidered Belt. Hand embroidered belts cost so much in the store and are so easy to make that they are well worth taking up when one approaches the question of what to give one's friends for Christmas. The belt illustrated here was of white grosgrain washable ribbon, adorned with sprays of foliage. Belts of stamped linen are also liked and may be embroidered in similar style. The belts may be finished with buckles as expensive as one chooses. Wrapped in tissue paper and packed in a pretty box, tied with Christmas ribbons, they are useful and attractive souvenirs. Guest Room Towels. The housewife will always welcome with delight handsomely embroidered towels as a Christmas gift. The illustration shows something particularly new and smart in towel designs. These designs are carried out on a fine quality of huck toweling. The little guest towel is finished with a beaded hem, above which is a dainty design of pond lilies damped in blue mercerized cotton, with the leaf and flower petals outlined with white thread. The larger towel has a butterfly motif mingled with a design worked

The Stepmother in the Classics. The ancients were as bitter on the subject of the stepmother as any modern could be. Their metaphorical uses of these words for a stepmother are cruelly significant. Thus the Romans had an expression "to complain to a stepmother" (nocere), meaning to complain in vain, and "nocerena," beginning no doubt as slang, came to be a recognized term for rough pieces of land or for ditches which drained off the water imperfectly and slowly. The Greeks were as bad with their word "metrylx." Hesiod spoke of lucky and unlucky days as "mother and stepmother days," and Aeschylus brands a dangerous sea-coast as "a stepmother to ships."—London Chronicle.

WILDING NOT TO PLAY.

Australia's Tennis Star Will Not Assist in Defending Davis Cup. A. F. Wilding, who was a member of the Australasian defending team two years ago and who last July retained the British tennis championship title by defeating H. Roper Barrett at Wimbledon, announced recently that he would be unable to return to New Zealand to assist in defending the Davis cup this year. Wilding is one of the greatest tennis players Australia ever produced. His absence will surely weaken the team.

Sharks and Death. There is an old yet still operative superstition among sailors that when a shark persistently follows a vessel it is a sign that some person on board is going to die, the alleged reason being that the great fish can scent death.

CORRESPONDENCE

CANBY.

Roy Knight and Jewel Marquam were married last Wednesday at Oregon City. Roy is one of Canby's well known young men and we wish him and his bride every success in life. The boys gave them a jolly reception Friday night by hunting up all the old tin cans and bells they could find. The boys also called on Rile Garrett and bride, and gave them a surprise. R. R. Bratten was visiting friends at Canby and Barlow this week. Hattie Irwin of Barlow was visiting in Canby this week. W. A. Butterfield is a Portland visitor this week. Mr. Preston who lives south of Canby was found dead Monday. Heart failure was the cause of his death. John Graham left last Wednesday for McMinnville to spend Thanksgiving. John Betts, who lived here about two years ago, has returned and with his wife will make Canby his future home. J. E. Southerland, is in Eastern Oregon this week. C. H. Carlton was in Canby Tuesday. Mrs. Jack Zeek who has been visiting relatives in Portland for a week has returned home. Miss Anna Galbraith and Eric Murray were married last Wednesday. Miss Galbraith is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Galbraith of Aurora. Mr. Murtz is the son of Rev. Murtz, who is preaching in Canby at the present time. Mrs. Jos. Beatty and her sister, Miss Effie Wallace, went to Portland last week to hear Gipsy Smith. The Ladies Aid of the Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Ruth White. The afternoon was spent in making aprons and piecing quilts. Next meeting, December 7th, will take place at Mrs. Ruth White's. Lots of work on hand and all members are urged to be present. Wayne Gurley was an over Sunday guest of Louis Mitts of Needy. David Pope has moved into Mrs. Sophia Koehler's house east of Canby. Mrs. L. T. Batten was in Portland Tuesday buying holiday goods. The Methodist Aid cleared about ninety dollars, on the cantata given last Thursday and Friday. Following is the program. "Queen," Mrs. J. L. Ashton; "Kink," A. H. Knight; "Hamant," W. S. Maple; "Zerish," Mrs. C. F. Romig; "Mordedal," L. C. Green; "Mordedal's Sister," Miss Nellie Hampton; "Prophetess," Miss Alma Knight; "Eight Priest," J. S. Hiner; "Captain of the Guards," F. Bryant; "Pages," Champ Vaughn, Norman Eld; "Haman's Child," Lorraine Lee.

SANDY.

R. E. Esson has moved his family into his new bungalow, and Geo. Odell will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Esson. Weather around these parts is fine for digging spuds. More new side walks have been built on both side of Main street. An ordinance will soon be brought before the city council providing that every property owner maintain a good sidewalk in front of his premises.

OAK GROVE.

County school superintendent T. J. Gary paid a visit to our school Thursday and gave a talk to the pupils in different rooms.

FOR STORE LIGHTING MAZDA Lamps are Unrivaled They enable any store to use electric light at a cost which is less than would have to be paid for any other illuminant on the market. We Furnish Mazda Lamps to our central station customers at very liberal terms, in all sizes suitable for all lighting needs. Every merchant should look into this question of more light for his business. We have several interesting propositions for merchants. PORTLAND RAILWAY, LIGHT & POWER CO.
