DICKENS AND AMERICA.

Disraeli put an old idea into few words when he said: "You know who the critics are?"—the men who have failed in literature and art." Charles Dickens was one of the world's most successful men in literature and, at the close of his days, more in demand on the lecture platform than any other man in history. He can not be dismissed curtly as a critic who had missed the mark in a creative field, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. What he wrote about the United States after a few months of observation has been disproved in some respects, but there was enough of wholesome truth in his presentment to call for an acknowledgment sixty years later. He was scornful on the subject of negro slavery combined with boastful claims of devotion to liberty. Slavery is gone, though the cost of ending it was frightful. Some of the critical points of Dickens were well taken. Martin Chuzzlewit's first day in a boarding house in New York was filled with amazement on the subject of spittoons, and the desperate rapidity with which a meal was dispatched. "Great heaps of indigestible matter melted away as ice before the sun. It was a solemn and awful thing to see." To some extent it is still visible.

Revolution Portends End of Chinese Empire

By Rear Admiral ROBLEY D. EVANS, U. S. N., Retired

THE revolution in China, whether successful or not, is liable to involve the powers in a conflict, proposed peace treaties notwithstanding. It is probable that this revolution will prove to be the BEGINNING OF THE END of the Chinese empire, just as the taking of Tripoli by Italy is in all probability the beginning of the end of the Ottoman empire.

I think that England WILL SOON RESENT the interference with her trade in China and tell the Chinese authorities if they don't stop making trouble in her market place that she will stop it.

The United States does not want to fight China or any one else for that matter, but if Uncle Sam's boys are shown disrespect the Celestials may be called upon to change their tactics, AND CHANGE THEM QUICK. Then there are Germany, Japan and Russia with interests in the orient.

The Japanese, unlike the Chinese, understand the meaning of PATRIOTISM. The Chinese in Hankow have absolutely no feeling of relationship for their brothers in Peking. There is little or no NATIONAL SPIRIT in China. I believe the revolution will fail.

American Consulate in Tripoli; Italian Soldiers Pitching Tents

—BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

WHILE many observers have given testimony as to the cruelty of the Italian troops in punishing what the Italians term the "treachery" of the Arabs who sought to retake Tripoli by a guerrilla attack, some of the same correspondents praise highly the courage of the soldiers of the invading force. "For sheer, cold, unemotional daring," says one of them, "I have never seen anything to equal it. I saw some fine sights and steady coolness in the South African campaign, but everything has been eclipsed by what I saw in Tripoli." This tribute is from an English correspondent too. Whatever may be the truth about the situation in Tripoli, couched in large part, as it doubtless is, by the rigid censorship enforced by the Italian military administration, there can be little doubt that the city is not now a desirable place of residence, with the terrors of cholera added to those of war. Yet the American consul, John Q. Wood, refused to leave his post when the commander of the United States scout cruiser Chester put into the harbor and offered to take him to a place of safety. Instead he declared himself willing to forego his annual month's leave of absence. The photograph above gives some idea of the surroundings in which Mr. Wood has chosen to spend his vacation.

Primogeniture.

The law of primogeniture sends back its roots to the most ancient times. Away back in the patriarchal ages the first born son had a superiority over all his brethren and in the absence of his father was in every important sense the head of the house. Upon the death of the father he became the unwritten law, which could not be questioned, the priest and lord of the family, and naturally to him fell the property as well as the honors of the household. Primogeniture wherever it is found today is the lingering remnant of the ancient custom, a custom which common sense and justice pronounce to be as unfair as it is superstitious.—Exchange.

Divers' Madness.

An Australian pearl diver says that one of the strange effects of diving is the invariable bad temper felt while working at the bottom of the sea. As this usually passes away as soon as the surface is reached, it is probably due to the pressure of the air affecting the brain. The exhilaration and good temper of the mountain climber are contrary feelings from an opposite cause. A diver becomes so angry at some imaginary wrongdoing on the part of those in the boat above that he gives the signal to be pulled up, "with the intention of knocking the heads of the entire crew," only to forget what he came up for when the surface is reached.

A Lesson in Music.

A household music given to music comprised three daughters, who played the piano well and slowly. At the regular Sunday afternoon gathering a musician of retiring manner was present, and after the daughters had galloped for a while he was asked to play. He chose one or two compositions designed to show the feeling of the pianist rather than the resources of technique. When he had finished one of the young women said: "You play very well. Who was your teacher?"

With a modesty that was almost painful he answered:

"My last teacher was the Abbe Liszt."—Chicago Post.

Common Sense.

To act with common sense according to the moment is the best wisdom I know.—Wainwright.

CHASTITY.

Chastity enables the soul to breathe a pure air in the foulest places. Continence makes her strong, no matter in what condition the body may be. Her sway over the senses makes her queenly; her light and peace render her beautiful.—Joubert.

AN INVITATION

With ample capital, accurate accounting, excellent modern equipment and a genuine desire to render helpful financial service, we are in position to give business men and individuals the best there is in banking.

Your interests will grow if you have a financial headquarters, and we cordially invite you to feel at home here, using our facilities to the fullest possible extent.

The Bank of Oregon City

OLDEST BANK IN THE COUNTY

D. C. LATOURETTE President

F. J. MEYER, Cashier

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of OREGON CITY, OREGON

CAPITAL, $50,000.00

Transacts a General Banking Business

Open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

The Progress Edition of The Enterprise will contain facts and figures; stories on each of the substantial industries of Clackamas County, including:

Horticulture.
General Agriculture.
Dairying and Stock Breeding.
Vegetable and Truck Gardening.
Lumber.
Manufacturing.

Will also contain illustrated articles covering the Educational Facilities of County.

Climatic conditions.

Increase in taxable wealth for past ten years.

Street improvements.

Transportation—including new railroads being projected and water transportation.

Articles from individual fruit and grain growers giving figures on production.

Illustrated writeups of each town in county.

Interviews with two score or more prominent business and professional men setting out in a concise way and in their own words their impressions of Oregon City and Clackamas County and why they think it offers good opportunities for homemaking and investment.

Printed on a good quality of book paper in attractive magazine form, profusely illustrated, this handsome souvenir number will be one that you will be proud to mail to your eastern friends, as it will tell the story of life, progress and opportunity in Clackamas County forcefully and accurately.

The Commercial Club of Oregon City alone has arranged to mail 1500 copies East; the other commercial bodies of the county will doubtless make similar arrangements.

The fact that it will be circulated all over Clackamas County as a part of the regular edition of the Enterprise also makes it a splendid medium of local publicity.

The indications are that the progressive business firms not represented in this issue in some form will be about as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

Has your firm arranged for representation?

If not, telephone the Enterprise office and our solicitor will call on you and explain the plan in detail. DO IT NOW.

Brazil.
Agriculture is now and will for a long time remain the principal source of wealth in Brazil.

LOWRY IS AERIE PRESIDENT.

Oregon City Aerie No. 992, elected the following officers at the regular meeting held at the Knapp hall Monday evening: John Lowry, worthy president; Edward Stovall, vice-president; Scott McArthur, chaplain; A. L. Sinnott, secretary; John T. Smith, treasurer; Clyde Dollar, conductor; George Fromong, inside guard; Paul E. Drake, outside guard; Dr. C. A. Stuart, physician. There was a low attendance and after all business had been transacted the remainder of the evening was devoted to a social and refreshments were served.

Electric Christmas Gifts Are Popular

They still possess that element of novelty dear to the American heart and thus solve the problem of giving Christmas gifts that are 'different.'

Imagine how pleased most men would be to receive an electric shaving cup or electric cigar lighter, instead of neckties, socks, and handkerchiefs, "as usual."

A tea kettle for grandmother, a samovar for Madame's five o'clock teas, a chafing dish for the college girl or bachelor maid, a disk stove for the bachelor, a flat iron or sewing machine motor for the practical housewife—all these novel and useful gifts will be appreciated by whoever receives them.

It should not be forgotten that these electric Christmas gifts are all USEFUL gifts. Each of these devices is designed to do some one thing better than it can be done any other way, whether it is to percolate coffee, toast bread or furnish the power for running a sewing machine. The line of electric Christmas gifts is so complete that in it will be found a suitable gift for every member of the family.
