Dec. 10 in American History.

1832—Andrew Jackson issued his proclamation against the "nullifiers." 1862—The Federal army, led by General Ambrose E. Burnside, crossed the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg, Va., one of the brilliant and daring achievements of the war.

Italy seems to be having her hands full in Tripoli and but small sympathy will be given her by other powers. As a matter of fact, in spite of all the sentimental talk about the Cross displacing the Crescent, and the opportunities that will now be open for Christian work, the seizure of Tripoli was not made in the interests of humanity and religion, but as a part of the vicious system of grab to which most of the great powers are addicted.

When a proud father boasts that a "pair of twins" has been born to him he means two children and not four. But a pair of twins means four children just as surely as a pair of teams means four horses or four mules. Yet the phrase, "pair of twins" will probably continue as an error of speech just so long as twins come into the world. Still it is as well to remember that two children at a birth means twins and just twins only.

Ideals of character are not always as broad and high and positive as they might be. Some people think that because they do not lie, steal, or break the law their character is about perfect. That is nothing but a negative character. True character is positive; positively generous in its attitude toward others, positive in its sympathy with what is right and true, positive in the matter of citizenship and of religion.

Most people will agree that Dr. Cook, the explorer, has done wisely in turning to farming. His recent experience in Copenhagen has probably convinced him that people generally take no stock in his north pole assertions.

What is overwork for one person may be nothing but healthful activity for another. So much depends upon the bodily and nervous condition that no set rule can be applied to govern all workers alike.

It is a queer thing that monarchs and presidents usually make a big army or naval review an occasion for preaching peace. To most people such reviews are suggestive of the chip on the shoulder.

It is a pleasing sight to see old men retaining a buoyancy of spirit, but they have to be careful not to overdo the thing and display childishness instead of youthfulness.

BURBANK POTATOES IN STRONG DEMAND

Burbank potatoes are finding more eager buyers as high as $1.15 per cental, f. o. b. country shipping points. The high price is being offered for selected Gresham and other eastern Northwestern and Clackamas holdings. Only a small amount of business is passing because growers want more money. There is a slight increase in offerings of ordinary to poor potatoes. Good ordinary shipping stock is commanding from 75c to $1 per cental, f. o. b. shipping points. Arizona continues the principal purchaser of potatoes in the Willamette Valley. Sales to date this season for that account are said to be heavier than during any recent year for the same period. While there is a somewhat increased call from Texas the volume of business passing for that account is still comparatively small. Practically no table stock is going to San Francisco from this section, owing to the higher prices demanded for fancy goods.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

Fruits, Vegetables. DRIED FRUITS—(Buying)—Prunes on basis of 6-14 pounds for 45-50c.

Hay, Grain, Feed. HAY—(Buying)—Timothy, $12 to $15; clover, $8 to $9; oat hay, best, $9 to $10; mixed, $9 to $12; alfalfa, $13 to $16.50.

OATS—(Buying)—Gray, $27 to $28; wheat, $28 to $29; oil meal, $37; Shady Brook dairy feed, $1.25 to $1.30 per 100 pounds.

FEED—(Selling)—Shorts, $27 to $28; rolled barley, $37.50; process barley, $38.50; whole corn, $37; cracked corn, $38; white, $26 to $27; bran $27 to $28.

BUTTER, Poultry, Eggs. FLOUR—$4.50 to $5.25.

POTATOES—Best buying 85c to $1 per hundred.

CATTLE—Oregon, $1.25 to $1.50 per hundred; Australian, $2 per hundred.

Livestock, Meats. BEEF—(Live weight)—Steers, 5c and 5 1/2c; cows, 4 1/2c; bulls, 3 1-2c.

Prince of Wales, Midshipman, And His Mentor, Captain Campbell

THE education of Edward Albert, prince of Wales, has thus far been decidedly nautical. He was sent to the Royal Naval college at Dartmouth when he was thirteen and there, according to British gossip about royalty, was treated much as any other cadet would be, both by masters and classmates. It is hinted that the latter even "put up their hands" with him and kept quiet about it. Now, at the age of seventeen, he has closed his naval career, including three months' service on the battleship Hindustan and will be a midshipman no longer. On the Hindustan was under the special care of Captain Henry Hervey Campbell, an old friend and messmate of King George, who was officially appointed his guardian during his time at sea. It is expected that after he has completed his studies at Oxford, which he will enter next spring, the prince will be granted to the Tenth Hussars, the crack regiment of which his father is colonel in chief.

YOUNG WOMEN SELL RED CROSS SEALS SANTA CLAUS WILL VISIT POOR CHILDREN

For several years we have heard more or less about the sale of Red Cross Seals, as they are now called. At one time the familiar name for them was "Red Cross Stamps," but Uncle Sam's postal department made the request to have them called seals instead of stamps so as not to confuse them with the regular United States stamps.

At the same time the government gave the permission to have these seals placed on sale in all postoffices. This alone should be enough to show the public that they are for a good cause.

Several young ladies assisted Saturday in selling these seals in the different stores as follows: Huntley Drug Company—Misses Edith Aldredge and Maude Moore; Jones Drug Company—Misses Roberta Schuebel and Virginia Shaw; J. Levitt—Mrs. Walter Wentworth. At the Kings Daughters' bazaar Miss Ruth Brightbill was in charge. The seals are on sale at all times at McAnulty's Cigar Store, White's Cigar Store and the C. C. Store, and they will be placed in other stores in a day or so.

SOUTHERNERS BUY FARMS NEAR CITY

Elliott & Son have sold a ten-acre tract to John F. Charlton, a contractor, who has just arrived here from New Orleans. His brother-in-law, Henry Dannenmann, formerly of New Orleans, purchased a five-acre tract just opposite that of Mr. Charlton. Bert Baxter, through the same real estate firm, purchased a house and lot on Center street, and John F. Loder, the attorney, purchased 200 acres of fine land in the Molalla country.

Heart to Heart Talks. By EDWIN A. NYE

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS. "I shall retire from business when I am fifty years of age," said a friend of mine.

"Why?" "Because if my plans do not fail I shall have enough money by that time, and I shall be entitled to the enjoyment of the leisure which I shall have earned."

Now—Most likely when my friend is fifty he will postpone his retirement. He will find no place where he may let go. Or—If he should retire at that time he will learn a lot of things. He will find that he is like a fish out of water. He will see that he is not adapted to an atmosphere of activity. In that atmosphere he finds satisfaction. When he quits his sphere of activity he goes against nature.

Moreover—One who is able to work and whose product is useful contributes to the world's output. When such a one loafs he adds to the world's waste and subtracts from the world's happiness. Instead of being an asset, he becomes a liability.

Besides—He who quits his labors while he is yet liable to do his task runs a personal risk. His machinery, physical and mental, is set to the grinding of a grist. When the hopper becomes empty the machinery is apt to wear itself out in the grinding of the parts upon another.

When a man who has labored long has nothing to do he is apt to go to work digging his grave. Work is not the normal curse. It is man's great blessing.

The people that do most of the world's work are the strongest, the longest lived and the happiest. My friend who wants to retire at fifty has been a hard worker. If he quits his labors arbitrarily he is likely to die prematurely.

Remember what Robert Louis Stevenson, himself a worker to the last, said about drink? He said, in effect, that instead of dribbling away one's life one should go over the precipice of eternity in full stream like a roaring Niagara.

Detained. Cain had returned from the fields alone. "Where is your brother Abel?" asked Adam. "Oh," replied Cain, careless-like, "Abel has become a charter member of the Can't Come Back Club."

Whereupon he established a reputation as the village jester.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Pretty Fair Proof. "Are they very much in love?" "I guess so. They send kisses to each other by telephone and stand waiting with their lips puckered if the report is that the wire is busy."—New York Press.

The College Bred Girl Is Not a Failure as a Wife. By JAMES MONROE TAYLOR, President of Vassar College. SHE COLLEGE GIRL MARRIES AS EARLY AND HAS AS MANY CHILDREN AS ANY OTHER GIRL OF THE SAME SOCIAL SET. She does not come from the class which marries early and without any thought of the future because it has nothing to lose and because it is just as easy to support two persons on nothing as it is to support one. While it should be no concern of the woman's college whether or not its graduates marry and have children, it is pleasing to be able to refute the charge that the college woman FAILS as a WIFE AND MOTHER.

Electric Christmas Gifts Are Popular. They still possess that element of novelty dear to the American heart and thus solve the problem of giving Christmas gifts that are 'different.' Imagine how pleased most men would be to receive an electric shaving cup or electric cigar lighter, instead of neckties, socks, and handkerchiefs, "as usual." A tea kettle for grandmother, a samovar for Madame's five o'clock teas, a chafing dish for the college girl or bachelor maid, a disk stove for the bachelor, a flat iron or sewing machine motor for the practical housewife—all these novel and useful gifts will be appreciated by whoever receives them. It should not be forgotten that these electric Christmas gifts are all USEFUL gifts. Each of these devices is designed to do some one thing better than it can be done any other way, whether it is to percolate coffee, toast bread or furnish the power for running a sewing machine. The line of electric Christmas gifts is so complete that in it will be found a suitable gift for every member of the family. PORTLAND RAILWAY, LIGHT & POWER CO. MAIN OFFICE 7th and Alder Streets
