SHAW'S RETENTION URGED BY PEOPLE

During the present year the town has been well governed. Nowhere is this more emphasized than in the police department, which has been a revenue-producer. In the eleven months ending December 1 the city has received from fines and bail forfeitures more than $1,400, which exceeds the salary of the Chief of Police. The people of Oregon City are probably not familiar with this branch of the municipality's finances, but the City Recorder's books show that during the twelve months of 1910 the total revenue from the police department was $350.50.
It has been whispered that the "free and easy" population of the town are looking forward to what is commonly known as a "wide-open" town, and that wretches have already been laid for games, slot-machines and all of the other money-getting devices that flourished in Oregon City in years gone by.

The check-rein, however, to these prospects, will probably be found in the city council, which will no doubt be opposed to a change in the present administrative policy, so far as it relates to the day-light hours. The Enterprise has even been informed that five of the nine councilmen have agreed to refuse to confirm the nomination of Mr. Burns as Chief of Police, should his name be sent to the council, and that these same five councilmen are unanimous in their opinion that Chief Shaw should be retained.
Chief Shaw feels his position keenly. For seventeen years he braved all sorts of danger in long night shifts, and obtained his sleep when other people were up and abroad. He made such a fine record on the night force, that Mayor Brownell offered him a place as Chief, and Shaw took it only after earnest solicitation on the part of Mr. Brownell and certain of the law-loving people of the community. He has made good and he knows it.
The Enterprise wishes that Mayor-elect Dimick would do himself the justice to speak out and forever set at rest the ugly rumors that have been placed in circulation relative to the executive attitude in the new administration.

PORTLAND ELEVEN FAILS TO APPEAR

Notwithstanding it was ideal football weather in both Oregon City and Portland, Sunday, Weather Forecaster Beale admits that a very cold wave passed over that section of Portland known as Rose City Park at 2:30 p. m. Eleven young men not counting substitutes, are still suffering from frozen pedal extremities, caused both directly and indirectly by that insensible, undefeatable aggregation of blizzard blasters known as the Oregon City football team.
When Manager Ternan and Captain Gale of the so-called Rose City Athletics dickered for a game with the local boys and were told to bring their "children" along, they gathered a bunch of "stars" well known in Portland for the express purpose of wiping the Oregon City team off the map. Nay! Nay! Genevieve! Seven times aspiring aggregations of gridiron fame have journeyed to the city up the Willamette this season and "nary" a one has been able to get the pigskin across the local's goal line.
This is the second time this season that "picked" teams of "all stars" have failed to show.
Manager White and Captain Carothers have requested local firms to bid on the installation of a steam radiator system laid just under the sod on the Canemah Park Field.

Hereafter only teams with a reputation will be considered in bids for games. A petition will also be presented the Weather Bureau requesting warm wind and sun on Sundays.
Couple Granted License.
A marriage license was issued Monday to Christina McInnes and Reginald John Lewis.

LIVE STOCK MARKET GROWING WEAKER

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows:
Receipts for the week were 477 calves; 61 calves; 1813 hogs; 2755 sheep; 211 goats and 11 horses.
The light receipts in the cattle division gave the packers and butchers an opportunity to cut into their feed lots and gave the cattle market a steadier tone. There was little or no difference in the demand, price or quality as compared with the previous week's offerings. Butcher cattle sold steady to strong, but taken as a whole there was not a great amount of snap or activity in the cattle end of the market.
The hog market showed an advance of 15c to 20c for the week and there was an active, snappy tone for the entire offering.
The sheep market developed considerable strength and anything like good quality brought a fair price. There was nothing tippy in the offerings. One lot of goats, averaging 208 pounds, sold for $2.25.
Representative sales are as follows:
3 Steers ..... 1126 $5.65
