OREGON CITY ELEVEN TO PLAY OLD RIVALS

Still feeling the sting of defeat addnistered to them by the Wabash team of Portland, two years ago, the Oregon City football eleven has been hard at practice the past week its preparation for the game next Sunday on the Canemah Park Field

The local jads expect to turn the tables on their old rivals and it will undoubtedly be the hardest fought game of the season.

So far the visitors have suffered out one defeat this season and at the hands of a team Oregon City trimmed to a nicety, the Vancouver Athletic Wahash has also played a tie game with Holladay. The Holladay team $1 per hundred. held Oregon City to a no-score game early in the season. The home team has been putting up a great article of ball this season, having won six games and tied one with score yet show against them. The winner 10%c. Sunday's game will in all probab. ility be the runner up for the chartpionship of the state for teams averaging 145 to 155 pounds.

Main street, it is charged, has been in a worse condition the past week than at any time since the brick pavement was laid. The mud has been two and three inches deep even at the crossings, and automobiles have had a delightful time making skidding records. But the citizens objected to the quagmire, if for no other reason than Christmas is approaching, and it was decided to clean the street.

Large halls in the building also make excellent play rooms for the children. These children are allowed the freedom of many of the rooms in the building, and are not only confined to one room.

On the second floor are the dormitories, one of which has forty little white beds with white coverlets, only two of these beds containing two children at night. The children for this dormitory range from two years to fourteen years. Another dormitory is found on the third floor, this being for the younger children, and will accommodate about thirty children. St. Agnes' Baby Home is large and roomy, making it a most desirable home for children. There is the reception hall opening from the main entrance, and from this opens two reception rooms, these two rooms being for the accommodation of visitors or for relatives of the children, who call on reception days, which are Thurs-day afternoon and Sunday afternoon, the hours being from 2 until 4 o'clock. As it takes considerable of the Sisters' time to prepare the little ones for their beds, the younger ones are prepared about 4 o'clock, while the elder ones are allowed to remain in o'clock, and by 8 o'clock all are tucked away in their snowy-white beds. The kitchen is on the lower floor, and substantial food is prepared by an experienced cook. ### A Great Big Wish (Communication.) That every person in Oregon City have a merry Xmas is the wish. But, also, there are the sick, the disconsolate, the bereaved. However, many persons are co-operating with the following plan: Santa Claus should visit every poor child in Oregon City. This is a very simple plan, initiated by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in St. Paul's church. Christmas, telling us of the birth of Jesus Christ, makes all men brothers one great family in God. Therefore the brotherhood unhesitat-ingly appeals to every man and woman to aid in making a Merry Christmas for the poor little brothers and sis-ship. Church and Sunday school is tle. Some do not know of any little held regularly, Rev. F. S. Beck being ones who otherwise would have sad hearts because of an empty stocking,
