MRS. HENNINGSEN POCAHONTAS HEAD

Pocahontas, Mrs. Henry Henning; Wagon, Mrs. Mike Gross; Proprietor, Mrs. Richard Bitter; Keeper of Wampum, Mrs. Sophia Phillips; Collector of Wampum, Mrs. Walter Byres; Keeper of Records, Mrs. Clarence Osborn; Trustees, Mrs. Jack Frost.

Bates, representing Wagon Council of Medford, was also in attendance. Mrs. Bates gave a talk on the work of the lodge.

Wachemo Tribe, No. 13, Improved Order of Red Men extended an invitation to the Degree of Pocahontas to a joint installation at Knapp's hall, January 2. The invitation has been accepted, and a big time is being planned by the two orders.

Festival parade. I had to pass the Hill place to get to my home. I have passed it thousands of times. There can be nothing suspicious in that. "I desire to correct some statements that have been made in regard to my family. Daniel Harvey, my brother, and my mother, Mary Ann Bunnell (she was married a second time) were found dead in our home at Milwaukee, in June, 1890. It was said that my brother killed my mother and committed suicide. My father died a natural death at our old home in Iowa. There were no suspicious circumstances in connection with his death. Albert Clark, of Portland, father of Claude Clark, the missionary in China, for the Portland Young Men's Christian Association, attended my father's funeral. Mr. Clark and I were schoolmates.

"My brother William Corwin Harvey, was drowned July 7, 1877, where Johnson Creek runs into the Willamette River and not in two feet of water as has been published. Charles Wilson did not kill Mamie Welch in my strawberry patch, but on another farm in the neighborhood. The girl was picking blackberries for a short-cake when she was attacked. Wilson did not confess to my brother Daniel, for Daniel had been dead three years when the crime was committed.

"My entire life has been an open book, and I want Sheriff Mass to have my entire record. I have done nothing that I am ashamed of. I may be a little worse than some men, but I know that I am a great deal better than a majority of them." The prisoner seems to be little concerned regarding his predicament. He says he realizes that he will have to remain in jail sometime, but is not worrying because he is confident of acquittal. He has his meals sent to him from a restaurant, and spends his time chatting with three other prisoners in connection with him in a big cell. Harvey gave the sheriff a check for $10 immediately after his arrest with which to buy meals.

Justice of the Peace Samson said today that the lawyers virtually had agreed to have the preliminary hearing next Tuesday. Sheriff Mass says he will introduce only enough evidence to hold the prisoner to the grand jury.

SANTA WILL VISIT ST. AGNES CHILDREN

The babies in St. Agnes Baby Home will not be forgotten Christmas. The Sisters of Mercy in charge of the institution are spring no pains to give the children a good time. There are many little folk in the institution who have no home where their stockings can be filled with candy or toys by Santa Claus. There will be two large Christmas trees in the play room of the big building, and each child will receive its share. Many of the big hearted people of this city and of Portland are making donations, which will not be forgotten by the children or the Sisters. There are seventy-two children ranging from the ages of two weeks to thirteen years at the Home, many of them being of Protestant families. An excellent program will be given by the children, who have been instructed by the Sisters. There will be recitations, solos and choruses by the children. The youngsters are looking forward to the event with great pleasure. The room where the exercises are to be held will be prettily decorated.

Among those making generous donations are Mr. and Mrs. James Petty, of Seaside, formerly of this city, who are at the Brunswick Hotel here for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Petty have sent an order to one of the meat markets here for five turkeys, and have also sent to the Home a box of oranges, box of apples, fifty pairs of allipers, large amount of candy and toys. They also sent $10.

Electric Christmas Gifts Are Popular

They still possess that element of novelty dear to the American heart and thus solve the problem of giving Christmas gifts that are 'different.'

Imagine how pleased most men would be to receive an electric shaving cup or electric cigar lighter, instead of neckties, socks, and handkerchiefs, "as usual."

A tea kettle for grandmother, a samovar for Madame's five o'clock teas, a chafing dish for the college girl or bachelor maid, a disk stove for the bachelor, a flat iron or sewing machine motor for the practical housewife—all these novel and useful gifts will be appreciated by whoever receives them.

It should not be forgotten that these electric Christmas gifts are all USEFUL gifts. Each of these devices is designed to do some one thing better than it can be done any other way, whether it is to percolate coffee, toast bread or furnish the power for running a sewing machine. The line of electric Christmas gifts is so complete that in it will be found a suitable gift for every member of the family.
