MAY FORM PRO HOCKEY LEAGUE

Game to Be Given Trial in Boston This Winter.

WEALTHY MEN ARE INTERESTED

If Plan is Successful Regular International Circuit Will Be Formed Next Season Composed of Eight Cities. Will Play in February at Boston.

If professional hockey is received with favor in Boston this winter a coterie of wealthy Canadian promoters, headed by Samuel Lichtenheim, president and owner of the famous champion Wanderers and president of the Montreal baseball team of the International Baseball league, formerly the Eastern league, will endeavor to organize an international hockey league next season.

Efforts will be made to induce men of wealth to finance teams in Cleveland, Chicago, Boston and New York, with Montreal, Quebec, Toronto and Ottawa forming the Canadian quartet. Manager Chauncey Elliott of the Toronto team in the National Hockey Association is enthusiastic over the proposed circuit. He was in conference recently with Messrs. C. C. Abbey and W. T. Lougee, representing the management of the Boston arena.

As the arena gardens in Toronto will not be completed until late in February, the Canadian promoter proposed that the home games of both Toronto teams be transferred to Boston. He argued that it would give the hockey enthusiasts a chance to see some fast hockey and would feel them out on how they stood toward the professional game. A partial promise was made Mr. Elliott, in which the rink was offered him for eight contests.

The National Hockey Association is composed of eight clubs, two in Toronto, two in Montreal, including the famous Wanderers of Ottawa, and Quebec.

The Boston arena seats 5,000, and the infusion of the professional game into Boston circles will be watched with interest.

COUNCIL DISAPPROVES DIMICK APPOINTMENTS

Livy Stipp was elected Recorder and F. J. Meyer was elected President of the council by unanimous votes. George L. Story was re-named City Attorney by a vote of four to three.

The only member of the board to stand by the Mayor was Charles W. Pope. Those who opposed him were the following:

First Ward—John F. Albright, R. L. Holman.
Second Ward—F. J. Tooze, F. C. Burk, J. A. Roake.

Third Ward—F. J. Meyer, William Beard, W. G. Hall.
The council chamber was crowded long before 8 o'clock when the Mayor rapped for order. It was evidently the belief of all present that there was going to be a lively fight on the appointments. After the transaction of routine business and the election of Mr. Stipp, Recorder, there was tense silence when the Mayor announced he would make his appointments.

"There is nothing vindictive in my attitude," said the Mayor. "I served four terms as Mayor of this city and I don't think any city of its size and nature was ever run better for that period of time. I realize that it is a good feature of city government to retain competent men. There were two factions in the party, one headed by T. F. Ryan, and as a result Mr. Burns was let out as Chief of Police. I have always felt that Burns was not given a square deal. He worked the greater part of his life at $60 a month, and as an officer always did his duty faithfully and well. I have always felt that it was unfair to let him go."

"I realize that Ed. Shaw also is a capable officer—he is one of the best officers I ever saw. But Shaw told me soon after his appointment as chief that he did not want Burns' place. I want to say again there is not a man I think more of than Shaw."

Mayor Dimick hesitated for a moment and then said: "I appoint Charles E. Burns Chief of Police, and E. L. Shaw head of the night force. I shall assure the council that all ordinances and laws shall be observed, and if they are not, you may depend upon me to get a new police department."

"Personally I like Burns better than Shaw," said R. L. Holman, "but I don't think he made as good a chief of police as Shaw."
"I shall appoint from week to week or month to month," declared the Mayor, "if I find that action necessary."

"I move the appointment be confirmed," said Councilman Pope. "There was a pause of more than a minute. No one seconded the motion."

"I understand," said the Mayor, his voice trembling with emotion, "a combination exists to do me. I want to assure you that you have not gray matter enough under your hat to do me on this proposition."

The Mayor said after the meeting that the allusion about gray matter was directed only at Mr. Holman. Several members of the council said they thought it was intended for all the members who opposed the Mayor.

"I am in favor of giving Shaw the day shift," declared Councilman Hall. "I would be willing for Burns to have one of the night places."

"Shaw is one of my closest friends," said Councilman Pope, "but I think the Mayor's appointments should be approved. The people elect him and he should be held responsible for his administration. We should have confidence in him. The police force is directly responsible to the Mayor."

"Shaw and Burns are both friends of mine," asserted Councilman Meyer. "Shaw has served only one term and has made a capable officer. He is entitled to one term. The Mayor said in his introduction that capable men should be retained. I am willing Burns should have a night shift. Shaw is entitled to the position of Chief of Police."

Councilman Holman said he was willing that Burns should have one of the night places, but he would fight to the last for Shaw for the position of chief.

"The charter makes it mandatory on the Mayor to look after the police," said the Mayor with some heat, "and I am going to have what I want. The council shall do as it pleases. I name E. L. Shaw for a place on the night force."

No one made a motion that the appointment of Shaw for night work be approved.

"I don't see how Shaw can hold two jobs at once," declared Councilman Holman. "He is the present chief of police."

"There are a great many things you can't see, Mr. Holman," said Mayor Dimick sarcastically.

Mr. Burke declared that the present chief would hold on until the appointment of another man had been approved by the council. "If another man is put on we will cut out his pay," continued Councilman Burke. "We are going to have Shaw and nobody else."

"You have let out other good men, too," declared Holman. "Henry Cooke is one of the best men on the force."

Mr. Burk declared for the retention of Policeman Cooke.

Mayor Dimick named John Green for Superintendent of Streets, but before a motion could be made that the appointment be approved, Councilman Albright was on his feet.

"It is against the wishes of the majority of the people that Mr. Green be appointed," said the new member from the First Ward. "The majority of the people do not want Mr. Green in Mr. Babcock's place. I was elected by the people and I am going to stand by them."

Mayor Dimick then named Mr. Story for city attorney. For the first time something like harmony prevailed. Councilman Hall moved that the appointment be approved, and Councilman Burns seconded the motion. Burk, Albright, Pope and Hall voted for confirmation, and Beard, Meyer and Roake voted against it. Tooze and Holman did not vote.

Henry Meldrum was then appointed City Engineer by the Mayor, but by agreement a vote was deferred until the meeting January 10.

Councilman Meyer moved that votes be taken on all the appointments so as to get them on record.

"This is an unfortunate situation," declared Councilman Tooze, addressing the Mayor, "I am sorry that it has occurred."

"It is not unfortunate or surprising to me," said Mayor Dimick. "I know the slick hand of the fellow who is doing this."

"I want to make it plain that I am not in any combination," asserted Councilman Tooze. "I believe in voting for that individual who gives the best service. I have said that was my position from the start and it shall be my position to the end. I have tried quietly to settle upon my procedure in this matter. The taxpayers want the best service for the money spent. They want the best service in all the offices. It isn't whether we like this man or that man, whether this man or that man is our friend, it is which is the best man. In looking over the records I find that under Shaw more than $1,500 has been turned into the city treasury through fines in one year. It is a great deal more than was ever received from the same source before. I have never heard that the fines of the recorder have been questioned. A very large percentage of the people, including the honest tax-payers, want Shaw and it is on the basis of doing what the people want me to do that I shall act. I deny emphatically that I am in a combination."

Motions were not made to confirm the appointments of Jack Frost and W. W. Bradley as night policemen. Their appointments, it is expected, will be considered at the meeting to be held January 10, or a special one which the Mayor may call.

The council committees appointed by the Mayor were the same as published in the Enterprise Wednesday morning.
