Heart to Heart Talks.
 By EDWIN A. NYE

BLESSED ARE THE MERCIFUL.
 Judge Porterfield of Kansas City, presiding in the famous Hyde murder trial, asked this question:
 "Has any man on this jury ever been convicted of felony?"
 There was no answer.
 Afterward, however, one of the jurors sought the judge in chambers and said:
 "I am an ex-convict, convicted twenty years ago. Since then I have been leading a square, honest life. I couldn't stand up in the courtroom and confess: I couldn't for my family's sake."
 The jurymen explained he had been given two years in prison for a shooting scrape.
 Said the judge:
 "I know you. You are a good citizen. You shall not have to tell your story to any man, and it shall not pass this door."
 And that is how this Jean Valjean found a judge with bowels of mercy.
 "But," you say, "would any one hinder the reform of such a man or hurt his prospects, a man who has suffered his punishment and now is living an upright life?"
 Listen to this tale. I personally know it is true:
 An ex-convict of exemplary record was paroled by the state board of pardons and went to an Iowa town where he had lived in all good conduct and joined a church. He was asked to take part in the program of a church entertainment.
 Now, there was a certain woman. This woman learned by some means that the man had served time in prison, whereupon she withdrew from the entertainment committee.
 Well.
 Learning the woman's action, the poor man said he would step aside. It was in vain the best people urged him to stay, averring they preferred to let the woman go out of the church rather than lose him. He was firm.
 What else could he do?
 He wrote to the parole board, told the story and asked to be permitted to move to another town in the state, which was granted.
 Somebody ought to thunder in that woman's ear, "if ye forgive not men their trespasses," how will God forgive you?
 Merciful Judge Porterfield!
 Hard hearted woman!

One View of Modern Children.
 Children are never children to themselves. From the standpoint of the grownup the real children we meet in these days are few and far between. To be a real child implies unconsciousness of one's superiority. The trouble with many of the children of today is that they have discovered that they are superior. Their advantages are much greater than ours were, and they know it and they rub it in. The old fashioned liking has gone out and with it the child. In his place is a vastly superior creature who is affable on being approached, condescending under continued contact and capable of any degree of enmity if his dignity be ruffled.—Life.

Essence of Good Cooking.
 The essence of good cooking lies in four things—the ability to preserve, develop, improve and vary the flavor of foods. The French excel particularly in the art of varying the flavor. A small piece of meat suffices them to make a whole pot of vegetables redolent of it. Conversely, they use all sorts of vegetables to impart their unique flavor to meats—in soups, steaks, sauces and the water in which meat or fish is boiled. The combinations and variations are endless. An English epicure declares that the secret of the excellence of French cookery lies in the lavish use made of vegetables. "Where we use one kind French cooks use twenty."—Century.

SNAPSHOTS OF THE MODE.

Style Features of the Newest and Smartest Blouses.
 Among the special points observed in many of the new blouses are the long sleeves and the gimbles and the frequently higher collars.
 There is a distinct tendency to make the skirt a trifle wider. The lines are straight and in some instances are very slightly flaring from the knees to the hem.

Shakespeare's Plays.
 "Hamlet" is the longest of Shakespeare's plays and the "Comedy of Errors" the shortest.
Curious Mode of Catching Turtles.
 A curious mode of catching turtles is practiced in the West Indies. It consists in attaching a ring and a line to the tail of a species of sucker fish known as the remora. The live fish is then thrown overboard and immediately makes for the first turtle he can spy, to which he attaches himself very firmly by means of a sucking apparatus arranged at the top of his head. Once attached to the turtle, so firm is his grip that the fisherman on drawing the line brings home both turtle and the sucker.

to the company in place of the blank franchise that they sought.
 Ordinance Passed Later.
 "I was re-elected Mayor the following month by an overwhelming majority. Immediately after by term of office expired the O. W. P. Railway Company came to the City Council and Mayor Sommer asking for the franchise that we had refused and after a long fight during Sommer's administration the franchise was granted by the Council, and the Grand Jury made an investigation which caused Mayor Sommer to think seriously that his motives might be questioned and he then vetoed the ordinance that had been passed by the Council.
 The ordinance above referred to was the one presented during my administration and refused.
 "The only ordinance granted during my administration was a continuation of the existing franchise and the company agreed in addition to additional compensation to the city to make suitable provision for housing the merchants' freight. This is the first time I have ever heard any opposition to the little express and freight franchise granted November 5 1902.
 "This is another soap-bubble that has burst and I am compelled to believe that Schuebel's mental faculties are greatly impaired.
 "Mr. Schuebel says that when Mayor Sommer was elected to that position that gambling was rampant in Oregon City. Now can you assure me that I have not spoken to R. L. Shaw regarding that matter, but I am certain that he will tell you that no gambling or even slot machines were running at that time and had not been for more than three months prior to that time. All of those who were interested in slot machines and other sports requested Mayor Sommer to allow them to play poker in the event of his election and he did so, provided, however, they would conduct the game upstairs and not on the ground floor and they did so for more than one month thereafter he ordered them to cease on account of a sermon preached by Rev. Bollinger, and not on account of any word or demonstration made by Mr. Schuebel.
 "Mr. Schuebel imagines that by calling the franchise asked for by the Oregon City Council, and I may add that the fight on that franchise was more on account of the opposition to South End road than it was on the franchise itself and in order for Mr. Schuebel to convey his false accusations in hopes that they will be believed, he can create prejudice in the minds of the people and lead them to believe that I was active in its passage. As a matter of fact I never asked a living soul to support that franchise not even a member of the Oregon City Council, and I may add that the fight on that franchise was more on account of the opposition to South End road than it was on the franchise itself and in order for Mr. Schuebel to convey his false accusations in hopes that they will be believed, he can create prejudice in the minds of the people and lead them to believe that I was active in its passage.
