Nielsen & Lindberg HIGH CLASS TAILORING 308 Selling Bldg., Portland. Phone Main 5151.

Mrs. Rachel Pursfull has gone to Mount Angel, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. G. G. White. Miss Helena Chamberlain, who left here some time ago for California, for the benefit of her health, is much improved from the letter received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chamberlain, of Gladstone, Thursday. Miss Chamberlain was for some time at Los Angeles, but is at present at San Diego, Cal., where the weather is most delightful, but states she is homesick for old Oregon.

C. A. Larsen, of Dassano, Alberta, Canada, who has been in this city for the past month visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Larsen, left for his home Thursday morning. Mr. Larsen has charge of a large irrigation project, having under his charge 500 men. The work has been abandoned for several weeks owing to the weather being unusually cold, with the thermometer being many degrees below zero. Justin Lageson, who has been at Nessa, Idaho, where he took up a claim of 160 acres, has arrived in this city to make his permanent home. His wife and son, Gilbert, arrived here several weeks ago, and are visiting at the home of Mr. Lageson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lageson, of Twelfth and Main streets. Mr. Lageson was delayed three days at Huntington, owing to the snowslides. At La Grange the snow was unusually heavy. Rev. A. H. Mulkey, of Gladstone, will not be in his pulpit next Sunday, but Rev. L. F. Stephens, of Portland, will preach morning and evening. E. H. Parks, connected with the Boyer Printing Company, and a suburbanite of Melburn Station, was in town Thursday afternoon.

YOUNG PORTLAND R. R. CLERK INDICTED PORTLAND, Jan. 11.—(Special).—Two indictments against Temple W. Alexander the O.W. R. & N. clerk, charging forgery, were returned by the grand jury at noon today into the Circuit Court. Bench warrants were issued for his arrest. One indictment charges he received $388, and the other charges he obtained $604 upon forged vouchers. No blame was attached to any other members of the office in which young Alexander was employed. The money he received came through the Lumbermen National bank and it is charged, his defalcations extend over the last two years. The witnesses who signed the indictments are Ralph Blaisdell, general auditor for the company, F. M. Morgan, W. N. Abel and G. W. Stearns. Alexander was employed as a clerk in the purchasing department. His chief duty was in handling timber and ties purchased by the road. In many of these bills, he would raise the figures, and collect all over the amount awarded to the persons selling the material. It is estimated that during the two years of such work, the young clerk forged vouchers amounting to $15,000. Alexander was married two months ago to Mrs. John S. Maginnis, who was recently divorced.

Origin of the Cat. In Arabian legends the cat is traced back as far as Noah and the ark. It is one of the animals that came off the ark, but did not go on. Puss' origin is accounted for in this way: During the time the ark was floating about over the tall mountains mice and rats became an intolerable nuisance to the people on the great vessel, and they complained to Noah that everything was being literally devoured by the pesky vermin. That august personage forthwith called the male lion to his side and began to stroke his back, whereupon the great beast sneezed, and, lo, a full sized cat was blown from his nostrils!

Smaller Tips. First Walter—This paper says the wrist contains eight bones, the palm five and the fingers fourteen. Second Walter—Well, I never found five "bones" in my palm.—Yonkers Statesman.

Burns' Best Room. It is said that a boy was once asked in the poet's presence which of Burns' works he liked best. After taking thought with himself for a little he declared that he liked the "Cotter's Saturday Night" by far the best, "al though," he added, "it made me greet (cry) when my father bade me read it to my mother." This statement seemed to impress Burns, for presently he said to the lad, "Weel, my callant (boy), it made me greet, too, more than once when I was writing it by my father's fireside."

The fall grain looks fine in this locality since the snow.

FIRWOOD.

The sleet and silver thaw struck this part of the country Saturday afternoon by evening telephones were out of commission, many poles were broken and the wires nearly all down.

Old orchards are badly damaged but young trees are not hurt to speak of. People here were fortunate in being able to stay inside by good wood fires and only realize what was going on outside by hearing trees and limbs crackle and bang on the ground.

Sunday morning the bright sun on the ice covered trees, fences, etc., made a picturesque scene. A warm rain Monday night cleared everything of ice and things dropped back to their normal condition. This was the first storm of this kind to strike our section of country. The similar storm of five years ago that struck Portland, did not reach us.

The annual meeting of the Firwood-Dover Telephone Company will be held at Firwood Saturday, January 13.

S. A. Armistead, of Portland, made a business trip to E. D. Hart's Tuesday.

J. J. Wurfel went to Jefferson Monday.

Uncle Harry is quite suspicious of a young couple who were in our midst Tuesday and seen talking with the Judge, but the Judge was mum and Uncle Harry could not find out if his surmises were correct or not.

Mr. Peterson Geo. Gilbertson went to Portland Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Erickson went to Portland Tuesday.

WILSONVILLE.

The weather has been so bad for the past week that there has not been much travel, and practically no shipping here. Something unusual for our little burg.

Mrs. Roy McKibbins, of British Columbia, accompanied by her two children, are visiting here with Mrs. Wm. Baker, at their farm near Wilsonville.

The village correspondent was misinformed with regard to the basket ball game between the Wilsonville Athletic Association and the Columbus Club, of Portland, at which time the W. A. C. was defeated by the visiting team. We reported W. A. C. as being the victors which was an error but our boys are not often defeated and have been victorious in most of their games.

Mrs. Howard was injured by a severe fall in Portland a short time ago and has been quite ill in consequence.

Inside of 24 hours the river rose 14.9 feet at Wilsonville, reaching a stage here of 23.3 feet above the low water mark between 5 o'clock Sunday and 5 o'clock Monday morning. This rise was so unusual that the weather man was loathe to believe the report until informed the second time.

The oil well has been shut down for some time on account of the weather but operations will begin again soon, so we are informed, and the indications are still good for oil.

The W. A. C., of Wilsonville, is keeping up a steady practice and is composed of the following members: Elmer Seely, Andy Hasselbrink, forwards; Doris Young, center; George Stangel and George Murray, guards. The boys will probably be in good form and be ready for the next game.

We are pleased to note that our county superintendent, T. J. Gary, has been elected president of the Association of County Superintendents and Supervisors in Oregon. Our county superintendent is surely a man of whom the residents of Clackamas county may feel justly proud.

Some of the farmers of this vicinity have been selling timber for ties to the railroad company. Timber for piling also seems to be in great demand and Wilsonville has a good share of piling timber near at hand.

MARQUAM.

We are having all kinds of weather here—snow, sleet, ice, wind and rain, and the weather man wondering what will come next.

Perd Mortenson has finished sawing and calculates to move to his mill.

A large crowd attended the telephone meeting here Monday, Jan. 8th. The directors for the ensuing year are: F. J. Hiddings, O. N. Hammond, J. B. White, John Daws, Frank Whitlock.

Earl Greshong, son of Monroe Greshong is sick, of typhoid and pneumonia.

Mrs. Bert Hubbard of Gladstone, and Mrs. Brown, of Southern Oregon, were visiting with their father, Rev. Stockwell, for a few days this week.

Band practice every Friday night at Professor J. Parvin's home.

Dolph Meyers is getting along fairly well with his broken leg.

Mrs. Ackerson and her son, from Needy, were up the first of this week calling on the former's daughter, Mrs. Hattie Myers.

Mrs. Katherine Jones, who has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Wes, of Woodburn, has returned home.

STAFFORD.

Mercury went down to 16 degrees above at Gage's government volunteer weather bureau station and four inches of snow fell and nearly three inches of rain since the write-up last week. For three days every tree, brush, blade of grass, fence or telephone wire was covered with ice and but few were the neighbors who could stand on slippery places.

Many have had and are still afflicted with a kind of an epidemic cold, but when old Oregon returns to normal style of rain and then a little more rain, all will feel better.

We are sorry to hear that Albert Turner is not much better.

Mr. Powell had a very sick horse last week but the ice and wind demoralized the telephones so we have not heard this week how it is, but trust it is better.

The great question of road supervisors is presumably settled by this time to the satisfaction of some and disappointment of others but if the present ones want to hang on I suppose we will have to have two for each road district. Why not, as well as two chiefs of police for Oregon City? Personally, I would be for Shaw, but why not let go gracefully, Mr. Shaw. When a mayor works for nothing, boards himself and goes to the river to drink why kick up a bobby about his ears at every move? Nobody appeared to want the office, possibly because they did not want to be set up for Daws to peck at.

PRaises COLLEGE COURSE.

A. C. Newell Tells of Fine Work in O. A. C. at Corvallis.

The completion of the agricultural building there is room for many class rooms to hold lectures and demonstrations; also some well equipped laboratories where many specimens are had, that comparisons of insects and diseases of plants can be studied at close range. The fruit methods of all horticultural results are very complete. The classes of different departments are getting settled, better arranged each year, so that it is easy for one to select what is desired and follow up with but little delay.

Two investigations have well paid me for the time I have taken, as now I will know just what to do at the right time.

GRANDMA IN THE OLD ARM CHAIR.

Come here, my boy, and a story I'll tell, Grandma will tell story, will make the bump well; And up I climb upon her knee, and in the old arm chair she cuddles me. Listen! Once there was—O, you must keep quiet—A quaint little mill and a brook which ran nigh it.

A tiny maid came down to the brook, Sat on the bank and cast in a hook; Pretty soon, a jerk! out came a fish; Listen! Then came a boy with a nice little dish; But my peepers were closed, I'd gone with the fish, And lived o'er the scene, much as Grandma would wish.

While in Grandma's arms in the old arm chair; So many, many things happen there. I see the maiden, I see the brook; I see the fish caught on the hook; And the quaint creaking of the old chair Gives a feeling of safety one only gets there, In the arms of Grandma in the old arm chair.

And when I awake and rub my eyes, Look around and wonder, wonder where; Why it's only me and Grandma in the old arm chair. Tenderly she puts me upon the floor, And watches me toddle to the open door. Presently I come back, and up the stair, The same old story over, in the old arm chair. How often the times that when I fell, She kissed the spot and made it well, Just like the story books would tell, I ran to Grandma with each tale of woe, I'd toddle as fast as I could go; And I'd have a good cry if I found her not there— My dear old Grandma in the old arm chair.

So, one day they told me to be very quiet; Grandma's chair seemed so lonesome when I came nigh it, O! Grandma, where are you? O, tell me where! I will ever see Grandma in both me and the chair. But she never came back—she'd left me there, So sad and lonely, everything seemed bare, For they'd carried her out of the old arm chair.

In a grave on the hillside, 'neath a green willow tree Sleeps the dearest old Grandma, ever was, to me. When at the side of her grave I oft wonder where I will ever see Grandma in the old arm chair. I guess 'twill be in heaven, and I guess I'll go there; Indeed I'd go now if they'd tell me where; I'm so lonesome for Grandma in the old arm chair.

REFRAIN.—Dear Grandma where are you? O, tell me where! Come back to me from that lost somewhere. I am lonely tonight—so lonely tonight For my Grandma in the old arm chair.
