appears on the scene for Mayor of Oregon City. The slot machines and gambling had not been closed three months before the expiration of Dimick's administration. Dr. Sommer gave instructions to the police the last day of Dimick's administration that the slot machines and games must be out at 12 o'clock that night and they were. Mayor Latourette was offered five hundred ($500) dollars per month to permit slot machines and other gambling games to run. No slot machines or gambling was permitted during his administration. Mr. Dimick succeeded Mr. Latourette as Mayor. Slot machines and other gambling games were run openly in violation of the law during Mayor Dimick's four years of administration. Were the saloonkeepers and gamblers willing to pay as much during Dimick's administration for the Mayor's protection as they offered Mayor Latourette? C. SCHEUBEL.

PARDEE INSISTS HE IS TREASURER

(Continued from page 1) to begin their term. They did this to save any possible question and J. K. Pardee, himself virtually construed the charter to mean that the terms of all officials expired on the last day of December, 1911, by signing the nominating petition for the election of G. C. Paddock to succeed him.

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE.

Martha E. May filed a suit for divorce Friday against Henry W. May. They were married April 4, 1880. The plaintiff charges her husband with intoxication.

Aged Woman Insane. Hannah C. Krause, seventy-three years of age, of Wilsonville, was adjudged insane in the County Court Friday. She was taken to the State Insane Asylum.

The Japanese Juggler. A man who has traveled in Japan says of the feats of a native juggler: "He took an ordinary boy's top and spun it in the air, then threw the end of the string back toward it with such accuracy that it was caught up and wound itself all ready for the second cast. By the time it had done this it had reached his hand and was ready for another spin." The paper butterflies he made by help of a fan to alight wherever he wished. The spectator requested that one might be made to settle on each ear of the juggler. "Gentle undulations of the fan waved them slowly to the required point and there left them comfortably settled."

A Poor Job. "My wife made me what I am!" "Have you forgiven her yet?"—Saturday.

POULTRY SHOW TO BE GIVEN HERE

(Continued from page 1.) at his place are a plate of wheat, a few bread crumbs and glass of water. He relishes his luncheon with Mildred at his side. The rooster is one and one-half years old, and in asking him his age he will tell it by nodding his head. Mildred will be at the show with "Dollar." There will be an incubator filled with little White Orpingtons, an exhibit of one of the prominent poultrymen of this county. There also will be good music by the Oregon Philharmonic Band, under the direction of R. V. D. Johnston and selections from the opera "Chanticleer," by Mr. Johnston, who will be attired in Chanticleer costume. Mr. Johnston is one of the leading soloists of this city, and this will be his first appearance in solo work. He has a rich baritone voice and has had much experience in concert work. There will be two moving picture shows, one of which will be of interest to the farmers, while the other will interest the poultrymen. P. M. Hart will be the official photographer of the show, and Elmer Dixon will be the judge. All entries will have to be made on or before January 25. All fowls entered for the show will be fed and cared for during the two days by the management. In addition to the regular cash premiums, appropriate ribbons will be given as follows: First, blue; second, red; third, yellow. Birds suffering from disease will be removed from the show room and the entry fees will be forfeited. Varieties not listed may be exhibited, but will not receive cash prizes. A pen shall consist of one male and four females. Birds entered in the single classes can compete in pens. All birds should wear leg bands and the numbers on same should be marked on the entry blank. Prizes will be given on the following: White Plymouth Rock, Barred Plymouth Rock, White Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Brahmas, Cochins, Langshans, White Leghorns, Brown Leghorns, Black Minorcas, Hamburgs, White Orpingtons, Anconas, Games, Bantams, Pigeons, Bronze Turkeys, Pekin Ducks, Indian Runner Ducks, Toulouse Geese. Special prizes will be given the best pair Belgian hares, also the best Angora cat.

Ruskin's Boyhood.

Ruskin's mother was an extraordinary woman. She was an evangelical Puritan of the strictest type and held strong views even on the sinfulness of toys. An aunt once bought the boy a Punch and Judy, but his mother immediately put them away, and he never saw them again. "My parents," Ruskin once said, "debarred me from all exercises but walking. They would not let me ride lest I should be thrown; boating was dangerous because I might be drowned, and boxing my mother thought vulgar exercise."
