MORNING ENTERPRISE. SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1912.

Pilot of Pirates Gives Reasons For Becoming Bench Manager.

When Pitcher Sallee Sent One of His Fast Ones Crashing Into Fred's Temple It Marked the Beginning of the End of His Active Days.

When lanky Harry Sallee shot that fast one crashing flush against Fred Clarke's right temple in St. Louis July 2 last it marked the beginning of the end for Clarke as one of the greatest player managers of all time.

It didn't mark the veteran pilot's fiuish so far as he personally was concerned. Persons nearer and dearer to him than any fan long had begged him to quit. Fear that some day his daring and aggressiveness would meet with serious injury had caused his family to plead with him that he give up playing-that he take his place among other old masters as a bench manager and that, like Jennings, Griffith, McGraw, the central figure in American history Chance and Dahlen, he wear his uni- during the nineteenth century, should form for bench privileges only.

"beaned" Clarke in that memorable Voorhees at the White House, "Doesn't Sunday clash with the Cardinals it was It seem strange that I should be herethe coin that flipped the future destiny I, a man who couldn't cut a chicken's of the Pirate boss. It was just such a head off, with blood running all around trick of the baseball fates that Mrs. me?" Full of humor, he was usually Fred Clarke and her two young daugh- sad. An obstinate opponent, he never ters often had feared. For years the hated one he opposed. Brave himself, great leader of pennant contenders and he had the utmost sympathy with the winners smilled and laughed away timid. This was one of his most pethese occasional fears and bore in- culiar traits. Yet was it peculiar? jury after injury with apparent good Was it not that with that farseeing grace

Figures It Time to Quit.

But the inevitable came. It wasn't it has always been considered? In his Sallee's fault. It was the misfortune of both that Clarke, crowding the plate as usual, was caught by the fast "insider" and dropped senseless in the loam. It troubled the Pirate manager for two weeks, but there was no lasting ill effect. Probably then, if never before, Fred Clarke figured that in seventeen years as a major league ball player he had had enough. The close of his seventeenth year showed him to have a grand batting average with Louisville and Pittsburgh of .326. He was keep ing up that gait late last season, hav ing .324 for the year that marked his last.

Wins Big Championship. True, he had accomplished great things, but not until 1909 did he suc ceed in fulfilling his most cherished ambition-a world's championship. They looked for him to take off the spiked shoes in the following year, but Fred thought he could repeat

Mrs. Clarke during the past year declared that one of the happiest days of her life would be the day that her husband declared he would give up the game for all time. He met with frequent injuries early in the last playing season; then came the distress ing rap from Sallee.

Recently Fred was quoted as have Epigrammatic Dinner Bell. "What's an epigram?" asked Mr. "An epigram is something that sounds meaning."

place where 1 worked as a boy."- to fighting. On his face was the res-Washington Star.

The Resemblance.

Knicker-Which side of the house loes the baby resemble? Bocker-The nortgage; he costs so much .-- Judge.

President Lincoln and the Quaker Soldier Boy

A LINCOLN DAY STORY

By Captain F. A. Mitchel Čeeseeseeseeseeseeseeseesee

The following story is a true one. The words in it attributed to Mr. Lincoln were actually spoken by him.

Singular it is that Abraham Lincoln, have contained so many contradictions. It is said by many that when Sallee On one occasion he said to Senator intellect of his he looked into humanity and saw it as it is rather than as he natural makeup of the man stands forth. There are some who flinch, some who girt their teeth and march up to death supported by a strong will good, but doesn't convey any reliable and a few who seem rather to enjoy the principles that had been instilled "I get your idea. It's something like into him from babyhood, would have the dinner bell they used to ring at a been one of those who take naturally olute look of the man who was forcing himself to endure the test to which be was subjected, but it was there from a different cause. He was bracing himself against not only the effort on the part of his officers to make him fight, but against that hot blood which sooner or later comes to most men on the field of battle. Pardon feared to break away from the religion of his forefathers that had been taught him by his gentle mother, but he did not fear the enemy.

The regiment was kneeling behind a stone wall waiting a charge of the enemy. On came a line of brown, like dead leaves and dust rolled forward by a gust of wind. The captain of Pardon Lawrence's company stood, his eyes darting first at this death whirl then along the line of his men, whose guns were pointed horizontally, all except one that was inclined upward. It was Pardon's. "Hi, you, there-lower that musket!"

Pardon's musket sank to a level, but when the order came to fire it bobbed up as if worked by machinery. The captain saw and remembered. Thrice the brown line was driven back before It failed to come again, and every time Private Lawrence's gun, just as the word "Fire" was given, went up, the charge going toward the sky. Not only the captain saw, but Pardon's comrades, and there sprung up against him a flerce antagonism. "Traitor!" "A Confederate sympathizer!" "A Ouaker!"

"Quaker be hanged! That don't ount when we're fighting." "The next time I'm behind him in a fight I'm going to shoot him." Pardon heard these comments, but did not ruffle him-indeed, a they faint flush of satisfaction came upon his cheek, for he was thinking of the placid bosom of his native Lake Champlain and of his little mother in her prim dress when she had said to him at his departure

"Thee will find it hard, Pardon, to do the will of the Lord, but he will give thee strength." When the fighting was over the captain called Private Lawrence to him and asked him why he had fired in the air instead of at the enemy. Pardon told him." "Why did you enlist?" asked the aptain. "I didn't; I was drafted."

"Corporal of the guard!" cried the aptain. him there till he was called for. Then the captain went to the colonel and reported the singular case. An orderwas sent to direct the corporal of the guard to bring Pardon to the colonel's headquarters. "I have called for you," said the colonel with all the sternness he could command, "to tell you that unless you will promise me that there shall be no more of this failure to fight, this their flinching, this cow"-

"Does thee think I don't shoot be- At this celebration names of young am afraid?" cried Pardon.

Valentine For Papa

party.

SECRETARY GIVES PRIMARY RULES

(Continued from page one.)

ing and opposing candidates) shall be handed to the State Printer by the Secretary of State, properly compiled, edited, prepared and indexed for print-be filled by the State at large or by any district consisting of more than Courts and for District Attorneys in thereof to each county clerk.

retary of State.

clerk

county and for Judges of Circuit

March 29 .- Latest date on which

Photo by American Press Association

See what this little lady fair has drawn upon her slate-a heart for papa's valentine. He'll surely appreciate it very much when he sees the picture. It was pretty hard work to get the lines just right, but you can see how well she succeeded. And little brother helped some too. He didn't bother a bit while the artist was at work. He just looked on and wondered at his talented sister's skill. He would have made a valentine, too, but somehow the pencil wouldn't go right and kept sprawling all over the slate. Perhaps by next year he'll be able to draw a beautiful valentine.

Lincoln's Kind Heart.

One cold winter day Abraham Lincoin came upon a poor man who had been filred to chop up an old hut into firewood. The poor fellow was barefoot, thinly clothed and shivering from the cold, and he was so weak that he could hardly raise the ax.

Lincoln stopped the man in his work and said, "How much are you getting for this job?"

"A dollar," said the woodchopper, "and with it I must buy myself a pair of shoes." "You go inside and warm yourself for a few minutes," said Lincoln as he took the ax from the woodchopper. Then he swung the ax mightily and soon had the old hut split up into kindlings. He had done it so quickly that the man could hardly believe his eyes. The poor woodchopper received his money and bought his shoes and never

About St. Valentine.

How our simple valentine customs ever came to be connected with so sober and revered a person as St. Valentine has ever been a mystery. There are many theories as to how this came about, but the most probable one is that the custom descends from the anfestivals of the Lupercalia, which came on the 14th of February.

person who has filed a nominating petition by the electors of a political party, and who has removed from his TO GIVE BIG DANCE or the county clerk or clerks with One of the social events of the sea-son will be the dancing party at Busch's hall next Wednesday evening April 18.—Last day on which any committee in charge of the affair is composed of H. E. Draper, Clyde Mount and M. D. Latourette. The may be filled by the committee which parties given by this club have al-ways been most enjoyable affairs, and there is no doubt that there will be stantially as provided in Sections 3345 a large attendance at the coming and 3346, Lord's Oregon Laws.

nating election. Polls open at 8 a.m. and continue open until 7 p. m. Judges at their discretion may adjourn at clerks shall proceed with the canvass for posting in public places in the respective precincts. of vote: Sec. 3377. Make copies of each abstract of vote and transmit March 20 .- Latest date on which same by mail to the Secretary of

> Behind the Scenes "What's the trouble?" asked the im-presario's friend. "I can't keep my people down to their own lines of work. The prima petitions for nomination for offices to donnas will kick and the ballet won't." -Exchange

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

districts consisting of a single county shall be filed in the office of the Secson. 25 acres of sections 4 and 9, township 5 south, range 1 east; liam R. McAffie to Willamette Pulp March 20-April 1 .-- Dates during $1,900 which Secretary of State must arrange names and information and certify same to the county clerks for primary sections 7 and 18, township 3 south, nominating election, filing one, posting one, and registering one copy Isabel and Julia Rosenfeld to Louis Jermulowske, 41.84 acres of D. L. C. of William H. Fordyce, township 3 ship 5 scuth, range 2 east; $1. A. E. Sparks and Elizabeth Sparks March 30-April 4 .- Time within which State Printer shall commence to E. and Laura Baker, 10 acres of A. B. and Lola Craft to George M. and Ella A. Laughlin, 80 acres of section 29, township 3 south, range 4 east; $10. Caleb and Alice Richey D. L. C., sec-Charles Kenknight and Frank E. Dodge, 108 acres of sections 21 and tions 19, 20, 29, 30, township 1 south, L. Gray, 40 acres of section 28, town-ship 3 south, range 4 east; $4,000. G.

district shall be filed with the county county clerks of the counties shall arrange the names and other information concerning all the candidates and parties named in the valid petitions for nomination which have been filed with them and those which have been certified to them by the Secretary of State, forthwith certify same, under the seal of the county file same in office and also post a dup licate thereof therein and proceed forthwith to have official ballots print-

April 9 .- Date on which county clerks close registration books before

The corporal came, and the captain ordered him to take the refractory private to the guard tent and keep coln. The corporal came, and the captain forgot the kindness of Abraham Lin-state a certified copy of the numbers and totals of the electors for each

April 9.-Immediately on the close tered. April 10 .- Latest date on which Sec retary of State shall forward by mail cient Romans and can be traced to to every registered voter of the several political parties required to nomi nate their candidates at the primary election a copy of the pamphlet of his

Three Reasons electoral district before the day of the direct primary nominating election may cause his name to be withdrawn WHY YOU SHOULD USE by a writing, duly acknowledged, by filing same with the Secretary of State Howard's Triumph

by the Willamette Dancing Club. The nomination by petition of the electors April 19 .- Date of primary nomi-

p. m. for one hour. April 22.-Date on which county statements and portrait cuts (endors- State.

of allowing your money to go away from your interests.

Tell your Grocer you

Edward Hinderlie to C. A. Han-

& Paper Company, land in Clacka-H. A. and Rosa A. Kruse to Mar-ion and Minnie R. Sumner, land in mas county; $10.

range 1 east; $10.

and complete delivery of pamphlets to south, range 3 east; $10 > range 3 east; $18,300. D. N. and Phebe Bridenstine to C.

William Pierce Johnson, Ira Pierce, S. B. McKee, F. G. Wight and Wil- $10.

> NOT EXPENSIVE Treatment at Hot Lake, including medical attention, board and byths, costs no more than you would pay to live at any first class hotel. Rooms can be had from 75 cents to $2.50 per day. Meats in the cafeteria are served from 20 cents up and in the grill at the usual grill prices. Baths range from 50 cents to $1.00.

We Do Cure Rheumatism

Hot Lake Mineral Baths and mud given under scientific direction have cured thousands. Write for illustrated booklet descriptive of Hot Lake Sanatorium and the methods employed. Hot Lake Sanatorium is accessible as it is located directly on the muin line of the O.-W. R. & N. railway, and special excursion rates are to be had at all times. Ask

Patent Flour

FIRST-A high patent flour

which is in a class by itself,

milled from Bluestem exclusive-

SECOND - Manufactured by the only mill in Clackamas county which makes a hard

THIRD-You should patron-

nize a home institution instead want HOWARD'S

TRIUMPH

Lewis C. Dunton and Sarah Dun-ton to Victor Dunton, part of W. D.

Woodcock D. L. C. No. 38, town-

Myrtle A. and Oliver Frost to 28, township 3 south, range 1 east;

G. F. and Molly Brocha to F. M.

Chance, trace 5, Multnomah Acreage;

wheat patent flour.

HOT LAKE SANATORIUM WALTER M. PIERCE. Pres.-Mgr.

the Secretary of State. April 2 .- Latest date on which coun ty clerks shall mail lists of registered voters of the respective counties to the Secretary of State. April 3 .- Latest date on which petitions for nominations for offices to be voted for in only one county April 4-6 .- Dates during which the ed as provided by law.

primary election. April 9 .- County clerk shall im-party registered in the county.

of registration for the primary nomi nating election the county clerk shall deliver to the Secretary of State the postoffice address and party registration of every voter who has regis women were put into a box, from and the party containing the names ing bet nineteen suits of clothes that he will never participate in another sympathy with the noncombatant the Pittsburgh hopes he developments of the half century since game of hall. loses every bet he made, and the Pi his death have borne him out. rate fans simply can't imagine such a thing as Clarke sitting on the bench when a ninth inning pinch wallop is from the south and settled on Lake needed. He probably never again Champlain. Any one who looks upon will play the outfield or any other field. Its placid waters will at once recognize but the knack of slapping out a hitit's in the wood and in the bloodit will be mighty hard for him to resist.

GOTCH GIVES ADVICE.

"Be Underdog With Good Grace." Says Wrestler.

Here is something new and interesting in its line. Frank Gotch made a curtain address after a wrestling match in Cleveland not long ago

and gave

some good

the young men present after

this fash

"Learn to bear the burdens of the under-advice to dog with good grace and fight

your way to the top of the heap. I happen to be one of those champions that have been defeated. Back in my younger days I lost a number of matches, but they were only incidents which went to pave the way to a championship.

"I was the underdog with the determination, and I set out to win my battles, trying to be a gentleman every inch of the way, and I extended myself to give my friends and backers a good deil in every bout. Every man should learn to fight. By that I do not mean that he is should be a pugilist or a wres-tler, but I do mean that he should be able to fight out his wrn Hfo's problems " own life's problems."

เรื่องใหญ่หน้ามาข้างไหว่างไหว่างไหว่างใหว่างไหว่

Saw No Difference. "People who seek books from the fiction section make some funny breaks," says a librarian of the Library of Congress. "I have made note of a numher of these, but none of them amused me more than the request of a sour looking spinster. She sternly demanded of me a copy of 'The Recollections of a Liar.' I told her that I didn't know it, but that I could give her 'The Recollections of a Married Man."" "That will do,' said she acidly. 'It's practically the same thing." -- Lippincott's.

Patronne our advertisers

"HI, YOU, THERE-LOWER THAT MUSKET!"

During the latter part of the eighteenth century a Quaker family came it as a place of peace, one fitted for those who shrink on account of conscience or preference from contention. This family occupied the largest of the islands in the lake and for three-quarters of a century pursued their peaceful avocation there. Then came to their native land a gigantic struggle, such as up to that time the world had never seen and for length and breadth and intensity may never see again. When the war drums beat in 1861 Two years passed, the end was not in home disabled. Then came the draft. Among the descendants of this Quakon Lake Champlain was Faithful Law- it." rence, a widow with one son. Pardon Lawrence had been brought up by his all, Mr. President," replied the colonel, mother in the Quaker faith that it was sinful to fight. He was a boy of strong in his regiment who wouldn't fight character, and that character had been molded by his mother under the influence of her peaceful religion and in a peaceful location.

Pardon was but little more than do. him that their principle of nonresistance directed him to obey the government. So he submitted and was reforming in the region in which he Hyed. "Though I am forced to bear arms against my fellow beings," said the boy, "I shall never injure any of them." "What do you mean by that?" asked the recruiting officer. "My mother has taught me it is a sin to fight. It is her religion and my father's, and his father's to the third generation. I shall never raise my hand to kill any one." "How do you propose to help it?

sked the officer, amazed.

"Thee may place a gun in my hand, but thee cannot compel me to fire it or I may fire up in the air where there is no one to be injured."

The recruiting officer laughed and made no reply.

For the ordinary duties of a soldier Pardon Lawrence was found to be an excellent man. He was quick to learn those duties and submitted readily to discipline. While the other boys, used to the far different life of the farm, were slow to acquire that respect due an officer by a private, Pardon fell into it easily. Where they would now and again prove refractory the Quaker boy was always subservient to military discipline.

Then came the day of battle when finshing. "No, not that, but"- The colonel was puzzled. "Take him away," he said

Not long after this scene Mr. Lincoln was sitting in his office, when it was announced to him that the colonel of a regiment had visited Washington to (by chance) was made one St. Valenconsult with the president concerning a matter of life and death to a private soldier. Mr. Lincoln was busy, but gave orders that the officer should be admitted at once. When he came in Mr. Lincoln began to rise from his chair, and the colonel thought he would never stop rising. "Another leg case, colonel, I suppose?" said the president wearily. Many cases of cowardice and conse quent death sentences came before Mr. Lincoln, and he always called them thousands of young men on both sides | leg cases. "You can't get me to shoot flocked voluntarily to the standards. a man for running away in battle. I wouldn't do it. A man can't help besight, the enthusiasm among the ing a coward any more than he could youth had cooled, or, rather, many of help a hump back if he were born those who had sprung to arms had with one. I have been scared myself been killed, died of disease or sent and know what it is. In any contest or controversy arising between the head and the heels I never knew the er family who years before had settled heels to get anything but the best of

> "This is not that kind of case at and he explained that he had a Quaker and wouldn't run. Mr. Lincoln was much relieved.

"Why, that's plain enough, colonel." he said. "There is only one thing to Trump up some excuse and send cighteen when the draft came, and his him home. You can't kill a boy like was one of the names drawn. He con- that, you know. The country needs all sulted with his mother, who counseled her brave men wherever they are. Fend him home.

The colonel returned to camp, and the next day Pardon was ordered to ceived into one of the regiments then the surgeon's headquarters. There he was subjected to a rigid physical examination, at the end of which the officer certified on a discharge blank that Private Pardon Lawrence was physically incapacitated to do the duties of a soldier. When the papers reached the surgeon general he was about to send them back disapproved, since there was no disability specified, when he remembered that he had received an order from the president to pass them when they came in.

> ered with the glory not of a military but of a moral hero.

unpleasant habit of rattling at all asked him? times of the day and night when there is the least wind. In such a case an ordinary clothespin is most effective. It must be split in half and one half inserted on each side between the framework and the window or between the sashes. A good plan is to paint the clothespeg the same color as the window frame and secure the pieces by a cord and screw to the frame so that they will be in readiness when which they were drawn by young men. The fathers of the church put their veto on these personal drawings and in place of the young women's names substituted the names of the saints, each person thus choosing a patron saint for the coming year. This change tine's day, the anniversary of the martyrdom of Valentine, an old time saint,

A Lincoln Story.

A young sergeant distinguished himself by his gallantry at Donelson and was recommended for promotion. He was summoned to appear before a military board at Washington and closely questioned by West Point graduates. None of his answers was satisfactory. When the report reached President Lincoln he fidgeted for a moment, laid the paper on his desk, then, taking one gaunt knee, in his hands, said: "I don't know what to do with this case. Here's a young fellow who knows nothing of the science of losing battles. He doesn't even know the technical name of the fortification on which he ran up the stars and stripes in the face of the enemy." He thought a moment, then indorsed the report, "Give this man a captain's certificate."

Conundrums.

When may a man be said to breakfast before he gets up? When he takes a roll in bed.

What is the difference between a tunnel and a speaking tube? One is hollowed in; the other is hallowed out. When is a sick man a contradiction? When he is an impatient patient. What is taken from you before you get it? Your portrait. When is a horse a victim of the inquisition? When it is fastened to the rack.

A Happy Valentine. If I could be a valentine I know what I would do-I'd get into an envelope And travel straight to you.

And if the postman didn't know Your name is Baby Dear And where you live I'd shake his bag As soon as he was near

And then with all my might I'd jump And run across the street. I'm sure that he'd jump too to find A valentine had feet I'd ring the bell and ring the bell A minute and a half. And when you came and saw 'twas 1. Oh, my, how we would laugh!

Not Much. Jess-What did papa say when you

Jack-Not much. Jess-But what was it? Jack-Just that. "Not much!"-London Mail.

I ne nesemplance. Marks-That Mrs. Gabbleigh is a perfect amazon of a woman. Parks-She hardly suggests the amazons of old to Marks-Oh, I mean the river me. She has a large mouth, and she runs on incessafily .- Boston Transcript.

April 18 .- Last day on which any

PRIDE

IN OUR FACILITIES GROWTH BUSINESS WE HAVE ALL THAT

Our modern printing and binding establishment would interest you. We would be glad to have you inspect it.

Oregon City ENTERPRISE

Maker of BLANK BOOKS LOOSE LEAF SYSTEMS

