Stories from Out of Town

STAFFORD.

It is not very cold for January weather. Mercury ranges around the 50's, and spring flowers, notably daisies and sweet violets, are in bloom.

Men have been conferring with the powers that be in regard to our telephone service, which has been remarkably poor for time know how long, and we are all in hopes something will be done.

Mrs. O. Z. Holton came home for a visit Friday of last week, as there was no school this week in Portland, it being the end of the winter term, and Miss Fradenburg came from Salem to visit at Mr. Gages.

Little Willie Powell has again been under Dr. Mout's care with a throat trouble, but is better again. Albert Turner seems to be about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dickinson installed the officers of Tualatin Grange at Frog Pond last Saturday. Mrs. Brink has had an acetylene light plant put into the house, with 18 burners. It makes a splendid light.

A new minister, that is, one who had not been to Stafford before, preached at the Chapel last Sunday and also in the evening to a large and attentive audience.

Messrs. Powell, Weddle and C. Tickelman sold potatoes this week, some for $1.05 and some got $1.10.

WILSONVILLE.

Supervisor Calavan was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Say, on Tuesday evening.

Ed. Baker arrived home Monday evening, having gone Thursday to Portland with his little son, to St. Vincent's hospital.

The leap year dance given Saturday evening was a very enjoyable social event.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Epler visited the Ridder family recently. They are very much pleased with their new home at Cornelius.

Miss Mary Bataglia visited her parents Sunday.

Mrs. Pope, recently from the East, is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Reiner.

H. Aden left Saturday for a visit to the home of his uncle at Washington, on his way to Idaho to claim his bride.

Mary Brobst, Connie Thompson and Harold Say enjoyed a few days' visit at their various homes last week, being exempt from examinations at high school, on account of high markings for the school term just ended.

Gerald Baker, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baker, was taken to St. Vincent hospital in Portland on Thursday and was operated upon for appendicitis. At this writing the little fellow is doing as well as could be expected, and the many friends here wish for him a speedy recovery.

Lloyd Jones entertained the scholars of Corral Creek school at a delightful birthday party Saturday, January 27th. Games were played, dainty refreshments were served and a very enjoyable time spent by the merry guests. Mrs. Jones was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Aubrey Wood and Mrs. Alison Baker.

A parent-teacher association meeting of the joint districts of County Superintendent Gary and Supervisor Calavan will be held at Wilsonville in the near future. This will be an all-day session, and the ladies interested from the different districts usually serve lunch to the visitors, and doubtless the Wilsonville ladies will not be lacking in this hospitality, for although there is no association at our village, an effort is being made to organize here, where there is plenty of talent for a first class parent-teacher association, and this getting together of teachers, parents and persons interested in school is proving a great factor in raising the standing of the schools, not only in Oregon, but all over the United States.

STONE.

People in this part of the county are on the "go," even if it does rain part of the time.

Some of the Logan country people have what they call a railroad over-wagon road to Portland and Oregon City. There is another railroad scheme for transportation and the Clackamas river railroad to ship cordwood to Portland. A company has about a 300 acre tract of land on Clear Creek and cutting cord wood, intending to ship the cordwood down the Clear Creek railroad to the Clackamas river railroad. This company has secured Grant Mumpower's log holder to hold cordwood. This company expects to sell this 300 acre tract in small tracts. So old Clackamas county is being out people will have homes to live in, and Clackamas county will be one of the richest counties in Oregon. There is one other institution in Clackamas county that is a money-maker and that is the Clear Creek Creamery, and Mr. Smith holds onto his butter job well, and most of the cream haulers hold onto their jobs well. Five dollars per day is not to be grinned at. There is another institution here that seems to be doing considerable business—that is Grant Mumpower's pole saw-mill.

The school taught here by Miss Verhus is doing well, as all the students seem to get down to studying.

Paul Mumpower and G. Houk are clearing up some of Grant Mumpower's stumps. Dynamite raises stumps easier than the Oregonians were formerly used to.

The oil well is standing still up on the Vierhus place.

Mr. Edrin, a colony man, has sold considerable of the Vierhus place in small tracts at a good price.

It is reported that Mr. Mendenhall has sold a 20-acre tract of land which he purchased from Walter Shepard for $2,000, and sold it for $4,000, so that land is on the raise in prices out here, even if we do only have a wagon road transportation.

CLACKAMAS.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church was held Friday of last week at the church. The board of trustees was filled by the election of three new members, C. C. Sargent, Mrs. Florence Shearer, Walter Mundhenke. W. F. Haberlich was retained to serve two years. J. R. Landes, as deacon, and Mrs. A. M. Spurgeon as deaconess, were elected to serve an-

Sent Her Something Pretty.
A Russian grand duke was visiting Paris and chanced to dine in Rosa Bonheur's company. They got on very well, and at dessert they ate philloppa together—that is to say, they snared a double almond. But the duke when next they met lost the philloppa and asked the artist what present he should give her. She replied laughingly, "Any animal that will do to paint; something pretty, you know." The duke smiled and departed. Nothing more was heard of him, and the lady had quite forgotten the affair when the ducal forfeit arrived in the shape of three enormous polar bears.

How Animals Feed.
The squirrels carry their food to its mouth by means of its paws, while the elephant uses its trunk. The giraffe, ant eater and toad employ their tongues, but spiders masticate their food with horny jaws. The caterpillar is provided with saw edged jaws and uses them so well that every day he consumes at least three times his own weight in food. Toads, turtles and tortoises do not possess teeth. Frogs have only an upper row of teeth, and lobsters and crabs have a set of teeth in their stomachs. The tiger and lion do not grind their food as we humans do. As a matter of fact, their teeth only work with an up and down movement much like chopping knives.
