DESPISE NOT THE BANANA.

Time and the physicians have brought the once avoided "ripe" banana into its own. Forty million bunches of bananas are brought into this country every year, and the amount would be much greater, we are told, but for the erroneous assumption that the fruit is difficult of digestion and may give rise to alimentary distress. The average purchaser avoids the banana with the dark brown skin and eagerly selects the fruit with the bright appearance. The first is the green and the latter the ripe fruit. The green banana contains, according to the Journal of the American Association, about 1.5 per cent of protein, and 20 to 25 per cent of carbohydrate, almost entirely starch. The ripe banana, with the yellow-brown peel contains something like 16 to 19 per cent of carbohydrate, but that which remains now is almost entirely in the form of soluble sugars. In other words, the ripe banana is about one-fifth sugar, the green one-fifth starch. Green bananas are like green apples in unwholesomeness, because the starch has not been adequately converted into sugars in the ripening process. The banana is richer in nutriment and far more delicious than some of its more expensive competitors in our dietary and should be consumed to a greater extent.

REMARKABLE midget. If the stories of her which come across the Atlantic be true, is "Lady Little," who has been filling an engagement in a London music hall. She is nineteen years old and her height is said to be only twenty-three inches. Recently at a dinner given in the metropolis a large pie was brought to the table, and when it was opened the stool revealed in all the glory of a smart green velvet walking costume and presently tripped about among the wine glasses and coffee cups, shook each of the guests by the finger, sang several songs and made herself very popular with her audience. She is said to be the smallest woman in the world.

RED MEN TO GIVE WAR DANCE TONIGHT

Busch's Hall will be crowded to its capacity this evening, when the Improved Order of Red Men will give a great war dance and grand ball. Many tickets have been sold by the members. The music will be furnished by Parson's orchestra of Portland, this orchestra being composed of eight pieces. The hall is to be elaborately decorated for this occasion, the order of Peabodias to assist in this work. The war dance will be participated in by about forty members of the Improved Order of Red Men, this to be true to tradition and full of color derived from the works of Fennimore Cooper, the greatest of all delineators of Indian tribal customs. Among the leading characters are the following: Chief Tauna, Edward McFarland; "Uncus," George Chambers; "Lena," Miss Bunny Owenby; "Multnomah," Henry Matsum; "Hooky Jim," Al Cox. There will be warriors, and braves also taking part in the war dance. There will be many beautiful costumes, these being brought from Portland for the occasion.

FORTY MUSICIANS TO PLAY AT BIG DANCE. What promises to be the most brilliant social affair ever held in Oregon City is the grand ball to be given by R. V. D. Johnston, leader of the Philharmonic Society, and this musical organization. No pains are being spared to make it one of the most successful dances of the season. Busch's Hall is to be prettily decorated for the occasion, and the latest selections will be played by an orchestra of about forty pieces. Many invitations have been issued to residents of Portland and other outside cities, as well as in Oregon City. Many new features will be introduced. The patronesses of the evening will be the ladies of the Philharmonic Society, and Dr. Clyde Mount will appoint aides, and have charge of the floor. Each lady attending will be presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations, she to choose from the three colors, red, white and pink. During the evening punch of the most delicious flavor will be supplied by J. W. Cole. The grand march will take place at 8:30 o'clock. The full military band will be stationed in the balcony which is to be decorated. Unclaimed Letters. Following is a list of unclaimed letters at the Oregon City postoffice for week ending February 9, 1912: Woman's List—Smith, Garetta. Men's List—Doyle, Tom; Olson, David; Young, Malcolm.

MAZDA LAMPS MAKE LIGHT WORK. "I find that kitchen work is a pleasure rather than a drudgery," says the housekeeper, "now that this wonderful MAZDA LAMP brightens the room like sunshine. This new lamp certainly is a blessing to the housekeeper. It COSTS NO MORE to burn than the ordinary incandescent lamp and radiates nearly THREE TIMES as much light. And the quality of the light is ever so much better--it is so restful to the eyes."

Safe and Sane Politics We Must Stop Taxation and Legislation Iniquities

By Bishop WARREN CANDLER of the Southern Methodist Church

HERE is too great a disposition to look to the government, for everything that some classes want and to lay taxes for the relief of every popular demand. There are many representatives at Washington who boast of their ability to get things for their constituents or, in other words, who are proud of USING THE PUBLIC FUNDS TO BUY POPULAR FAVOR with the thoughtless and the venal. IN THE LEGISLATURES OF THE SEVERAL STATES WE SEE THE SAME TREND. ALL SORTS OF PROPOSALS ARE BROUGHT FORWARD TO SPEND THE MONEY WHICH IS FORCIBLY TAKEN FROM THE PEOPLE BY TAXATION. CORPORATIONS BEING BOTH IMPERSONAL AND UNPOPULAR, THEY PROCEED TO LEVY TAXES ON THEM TO THE LIMIT. IN THE END THAT SORT OF POLICY DISCOURAGES ALL INDUSTRY AND INJURES BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR.
