"I was helpless from the giant disease Rheumatism. I managed to make my way on crutches to the Everett Theater, when Dr. Madison called for crutches. I went to the platform and he treated me for 30 minutes, after which I walked off the stage and went home without crutches. I went to work for B. H. Vollans on March 1, and feel fine. I was treated February 25, 1909.

"C. E. SMITH, Everett, Wash."

"I was on crutches for four and a half years. Dr. Madison treated me at the Everett Theater on Thursday night, February 26, 1909, and he broke my crutches and I walked out of the theater. I continue to walk without the aid of the crutches and am feeling fine.

"MRS. E. C. DEAN, 2035 Wetmore, Everett, Wash."

"Dr. Madison treated me for deafness, seven days ago. I am improved and hear as good as ever.

"GEORGE WADELLE, Everett, Wash."

The voice of the skeptic is now hushed, for they must now believe this man is a wonder, for they now can see what he really can do, and what the eyes see the heart must believe.

Freedom of London. The freedom of the city of London carries with it, nominally at any rate, the right to keep pigs in the parish of St. James, Piccadilly. But even were any one disposed to avail himself of this liberty and if the sanitary authorities failed to object (and in that part of London is somewhat too costly for profitable pig farming.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO A MOTHER.

Dear Madam— Do you realize that it is a great mistake on your part to overindulge your daughter? Naturally you try to shield your child and save her from hardships. Naturally you sacrifice yourself and efface yourself for her sake. That is the mother of it.

Which is all right provided the self inflicted martyrdom does not work harm to the daughter. But it may. I knew a mother who starved and pinched, hardened her hands and bowed her back and shortened her life in order to send her daughter to a fashionable "finishing school."

When the girl came home she was out of touch with her mother's ways. Instead of broadening and sweetening the girl her education had simply fitted her with appetites and ambitions that could not be realized, and she became a torment instead of a blessing.

The sequel? In sheer desperation the fretting, discontented girl ran away with a smooth adventurer who ruined her. An extreme case, you say. Certainly. But—

The outcome was the legitimate result of a false maternal policy that made the girl believe she must have whatever she wanted and that mother must be sacrificed for the sake of the daughter's "career."

She is a rare child who may be unduly indulged without harm. The tender solicitude of a dotting mother is noble in its self abnegation.

but none the less it may work the daughter's undoing.

Let the daughter share her mother's burdens. Let her face the realities. Give her sane views of life. Teach her how to overcome obstacles and grow strong thereby. Put responsibilities on her shoulders and teach her how to carry them.

Ease you may deceive her. Ease you may make her narrow and selfish and weak and ungrateful. Ease and luxury and freedom from work will not make character. The fiber of womanliness is wrought into life by burden bearing.

Of course you want your daughter to grow up a strong, useful and noble woman. That goes without saying. Then put the load on her young shoulders and teach her how to carry it obediently and cheerfully and gracefully.

COMING SPORT EVENTS

The international motorboat show will be held in New York Feb. 17 to 24.

The Philadelphia Cricket club intends to send an eleven to England next summer, sailing July 26 and returning in September.

The eighteenth annual sportsmen's show and second annual indoor international trap shooting tournament will be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, from March 1 to March 9, inclusive.

A match for the professional sculling championship of the United States has been arranged by Eddie Duran of Canada and William Haines of Boston. The race will be rowed on Toronto bay next June.

An Interruption. Gerald—With that end in view— Geraldine—Stop looking at my feet— New York Press.

When the revolution had ended and he was on his way to Mount Vernon, impatient as he was to reach home, he tarried long enough in Philadelphia to buy gifts for his wife and her grandchildren.

The Hatchet Protests.

"It seems to me," the hatchet said, "Quite time this little farce was dead About the cherry tree. The tale oft told in prose and song About a boy who once did wrong Assisted, please, by me."

"Now, truth is strange in many ways, And telling stories never pays. As proved in that old tale, And so I cannot understand Why this old tale spread o'er the land And caused my fame to pale."

"I'm sure if Georgie ever chopped The tree before his father stopped His son's rude forestry He must have used a lusty ax, With many long and strenuous hacks, Which, please, excuses me."

POTATO DEMAND SHOWS INCREASE

There is better selling of potatoes at country points and the outward movement is again increasing.

Some seed American. Wonders are almost equally divided between the three selections. Some extra fancy potatoes are going toward San Francisco but the bulk of the table stock destined for California is for the account of Los Angeles and central state interests, outside of the Bay City.

Some seed American. Wonders are almost equally divided between the three selections. Some extra fancy potatoes are going toward San Francisco but the bulk of the table stock destined for California is for the account of Los Angeles and central state interests, outside of the Bay City.

As a rule dealers are offering from $1 to $1.05 for choice table stock. The fact that the markets elsewhere have not improved in price during recent weeks has caused many growers to change their opinions regarding the future and this class of potatoes is being offered much more freely than formerly.

Extra fancy stock is only available in small lots. There was a small stock of fancy potatoes grown here this season notwithstanding the big crop. Far the greatest per cent of the crop was rough owing to changing growth with various weather conditions.
