BUSINESS TEST FOR 1912.

By figures fresh from a government bureau it is seen that the exports of manufactured articles from the United States in the year 1911 passed the billion-dollar line for the first time. The increased demand for the things produced by American manufacturers, artisans and inventors extends to all continents. In the last ten years the gain in this respect has been 36 per cent in Asia 64 in Africa, 70 in Europe, 158 in North America

Cleveland's Birthplace May Become a Memorial Museum

THE movement looking to the preservation of the "Old Manse" at Caldwell, N. J., the birthplace of Grover Cleveland, as a memorial museum and repository of relics of the ex-president is making progress. The plan involves the raising of $50,000, one-tenth to be subscribed by the citizens of Caldwell, the remainder by the people of the country at large. Title to the parsonage property has been taken by the Caldwell memorial committee, the members of which are hopeful of securing the necessary subscriptions in the near future. The plan contemplates the acquisition of an adjoining plot of ground and the erection of a memorial library. The house is the one in which the future president lived with his parents until he was four years old, his father, a Presbyterian minister, then removing his family to Fayetteville, N. Y., a village near Syracuse.

and 248 in South America. The old Democratic claim that a protective tariff breaks down our foreign trade has been knocked out so hard that it is offered no more in intelligent debate. This subject is of great importance in the United States, whose population in the last decade increased at the average rate of 1,600,000 a year. Opportunities for employment must keep pace if good industrial conditions are to be preserved. An enlarging foreign market for what our workmen make is one of the best assurances of prosperity.

This year Republican policies are upon trial with the judgment in the hands of 16,000,000 voters. Any form of protection in a tariff is condemned by the Democratic party. Tariff is likely to be the paramount issue. During the last fifteen years a Republican protective tariff has been in force, first the Dingley law, and now the Payne law. What has been the result in the foreign demand for our manufactured productions? In 1896, the last year of a Democratic tariff, our exports of manufactures amounted to $228,000,000. They have more than quadrupled in the last fifteen years. The increase began with the return of the Republican party to power and has been steadily augmented. The total is twice as large now as in 1902. It is a showing that appeals to every American workman who wants to use the ballot in behalf of good times and good wages.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

LAUGH EARLY AND OFTEN.

Mirth is God's medicine. Everybody ought to bathe in it.—O. W. Holmes.

Mirth a medicine? Certainly, and a good one—better than most of the prescriptions of materia medica. It is one of nature's real tonics, a balm for life's bruises, a salve for sorrows, a liniment for grousches, a panacea for worry.

Dr. Sanderson says: "Mirth, cheerfulness, is a better stimulant for the tissues of the body than drugs, which react. Laughter is an actual life giving influence." Another physician says, "Fun is a food and as necessary to wholesomeness as bread." Therefore—laugh.

We take life too seriously. We do not laugh enough. Or we indulge in a stinging sort of mirth. Some of us laugh so seldom we lose the habit of it. A laugh is a massage.

Figures of speech aside, a good laugh is a real massage treatment. When you laugh heartily your diaphragm gets busy. In moving rapidly up and down it massages the liver, stirring that organ up to its duty. It affects other organs also.

"Laugh and grow fat" is the shrewd observation of many generations. The old kings were wise. They hired jesters to make them laugh. And Lycurgus, able lawmaker, set up the god of laughter in the public dining rooms of Sparta.

Laughter is a good buffer. It is like the shock absorbers folks put in the springs of their automobiles. It helps to carry one easily over the knobs and "thank-you-ma'ms" of life's rugged road. And it reduces friction everywhere.

Laughter is normal. Good health and physical and mental harmony require that the funmaking propensities should be released. Laughter does that. If these natural propensities are kept back one has an attack of "the blues;" if totally repressed—insanity.

Laugh and succeed. If you bottle up your visible spirits you paralyze your personality. A cheerful spirit and a hearty laugh smooth out many wrinkles of business. Men and women go every year to premature graves because they have forgotten how to laugh.

Laugh—and stay above ground.

The Secretary.

This is a good pencil game. The players sit at a table with square pieces of paper and pencils, and each one writes his own name at the top of the paper and, folding it over so that the name does not show, hands it to the secretary, who redistributes the papers, saying, "Character." Then each one writes some imaginary character description, folds the paper again and hands it to the secretary, who says, "Future," and shuffles and distributes the papers as before.

Some forecast for the future is then written. The secretary may suggest as many other subjects as he chooses or can think of and when ready may call in the papers and read them aloud. They are often curious and very amusing. This is on the order of the old game of "consequences," but with more chance for originality and variety.

Washington's Etiquette.

Every action in company ought to be some sign of respect to those present. In the presence of others sing not to yourself with a humming noise nor drum with your fingers or feet.

Speak not when others speak, sit not when others stand and wait not when others stop.

Turn not your back to others, especially in speaking. Be no flatterer; neither trifle with any one that does not delight in such familiarities.

Read no letters, books or papers in company except when necessary; then ask to be excused.

Come not near the books or writing of any one so as to read them unasked. Let your countenance be pleasant, but in serious matters somewhat grave.

They Didn't Like Games. Shelley's view of games was approximately Swift's view—that "games are the recreations of people who do not think." The world he felt was so "full of a number of things" that it was absurd to waste time on such trivialities as peptops and marbles. Elderly gentlemen might appropriately play with marbles or peptops just as elderly gentlemen nowadays play golf in order to divert their minds from anxiety as to the price of stocks and shares, but why should a boy do so when life lay like a fathead, mortgaging at its door and bidding him to explore? Profit Sharing Spirit a Cure For Strikes —HARTLEY. In Labor's Interest Lawful Regulation of All Combines —HAYES. Eat Rice; Lower Cost of Living —BARRETT. Plenty of Work For All Who Are Willing —VAUGHAN.

By Rev. BERNARD VAUGHAN, English Jesuit

THERE is plenty to do in the United States for every newcomer provided that newcomer is WILLING TO TAKE OFF HIS COAT AND TACKLE THE JOB WITH A MAN'S WILL.

WHAT THE WORLD NEEDS TODAY IS NOT AN ARISTOCRACY OF IDLERS, BUT AN ARISTOCRACY OF WORKERS.

Before Christ came the three things most dreaded by men were WORK, SORROW AND SIN. But Christ, the liberator, revolutionized society. He lifted the yoke that was crushing the human heart. He met labor on the threshold of Nazareth. Folding labor in his arms, with the sweat on his brow, he BAPTIZED LABOR AND CONVERTED IT FROM A CURSE INTO A BLESSING.

By F. N. BARRETT, Publisher of the American Grocer

THE American workman need not feel alarmed over the high prices and seemingly short supply of potatoes, because the SUPPLY OF RICE IS AMPLE FOR ALL DEMANDS, and rice is a much cheaper and at the same time more nutritious article of diet than potatoes.

ONE POUND OF RICE COSTS VERY LITTLE AT RETAIL. IT CONTAINS AS MUCH NOURISH-MENT AS SEVERAL PECKS OF POTATOES.

American grown rice from South Carolina, Louisiana and Texas is the best in the world, and the supply is immense.

By JOHN W. HAYES, General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor

THE Standard Oil and tobacco decisions convinced the American people that large industrial combinations are now here to stay and that it is not the size of the corporation, but the control and regulation of it, that will in the future occupy the attention of the courts of the country.

OUR DUTY, THEREFORE, IS TO INSIST UPON A LAWFUL REGULATION OF ALL COMBINATIONS WHETHER THEY BE OF LABOR OR BUSINESS.

By Sir W. P. HARTLEY, English Manufacturer

I DO NOT SAY THAT PROFIT SHARING IS THE CURE FOR ALL LABOR TROUBLES, BUT THE SPIRIT OF IT IS AN ABSOLUTE CURE.

There has been a succession of strikes during the past year and general labor unrest. What is needed on both sides is a REASONABLE ATTITUDE. Labor is often highly organized, and organized labor unless it is carefully guided can be as despotic as the most selfish capitalist.

MAZDA LAMPS MAKE LIGHT WORK

"I find that kitchen work is a pleasure rather than a drudgery," says the housekeeper, "now that this wonderful MAZDA LAMP brightens the room like sunshine. This new lamp certainly is a blessing to the housekeeper. It COSTS NO MORE to burn than the ordinary incandescent lamp and radiates nearly THREE TIMES as much light. And the quality of the light is ever so much better—it is so restful to the eyes."
