MANAGER ATZ SELLS PLAY- ER FOR 15 CENTS.

A queer deal was pulled off by Jack Dunn and Jakey Atz, the Baltimore and Providence managers, recently. They were talking about Pitcher Pierce. "How much would you give for him?" asked Atz. "Oh, I wouldn't go higher than 15 cents," came back Dunn.

"Taken," said Atz, and he made out an agreement, which both managers signed. Dunn handed over the 15 cents. Atz looked at it for a moment and then said: "Here, Jack; I've never skinned any one yet. Take this back and I'll give you a bonus of 15 cents." The Providence owners, however, refused to ratify the agreement.

CHISHOLM GOING OVER THE STICKS.

Pittsburgh and is not going to let athletics interfere with the opening of a lifetime.

There was not the least doubt that he would have been one of the American team to go to the Olympic games this year, for James E. Sullivan picked him some time ago as the best hurdler in the country. In the meeting in England last summer, where Harvard and Yale competed against Oxford and Cambridge, Chisholm won the high hurdles in 15.25 seconds, which is a new record for the event at meetings between those colleges. He graduated from Yale last year.

OUR STAR JOCKEYS ABROAD.

Yankee Riders to Receive $156,000 While in Europe Next Season.

The restriction placed upon racing in the United States has caused our greatest jockeys to go abroad. The knights of the piskin were unable to make a living here and they migrated across the pond to the turfmen that were eager to pay them princely salaries. This season there will be on the race tracks of England, France, Germany, Austria and Russia the following American jockeys:

Danny Maher, Skeets Martin, Frank O'Neill, Johnny Reiff, Winnie O'Connor, J. Archibald, J. Sumpter, D. Winfield, Guy Garner, Eddie Dugan, Milton Henry, Nash Turner and Willie Shaw. The average sum that each jockey will receive will be $12,000, or an aggregate amount of $156,000.

TO BUY 6,000 DOZEN QUAIL.

California's Game Commission Plans to Ship Birds From Mexico.

California's game commission will buy 6,000 dozen of quail from Mexico at a cost of $15,000, which will be placed in the Folsom state farm and propagated for distribution throughout California.

When placed on the state farm they will be cared for by convicts and as they reach the proper age will be liberated in different sections with bands of native quail.

Cricketers Abandon Trip.

The proposed trip to England by the University of Pennsylvania cricket team has been abandoned owing to the expense involved. Instead the cricketers will tour Canada late in the term, and a more extensive schedule of games will be arranged than ever before.

Lacrosse Popular Abroad.

Lacrosse will jump into popularity in Europe should the projected visits of the Young Torontos, Vancouver athletes, and perhaps St. Catherine squad, all of Canada, make the trip next year for exhibition purposes.

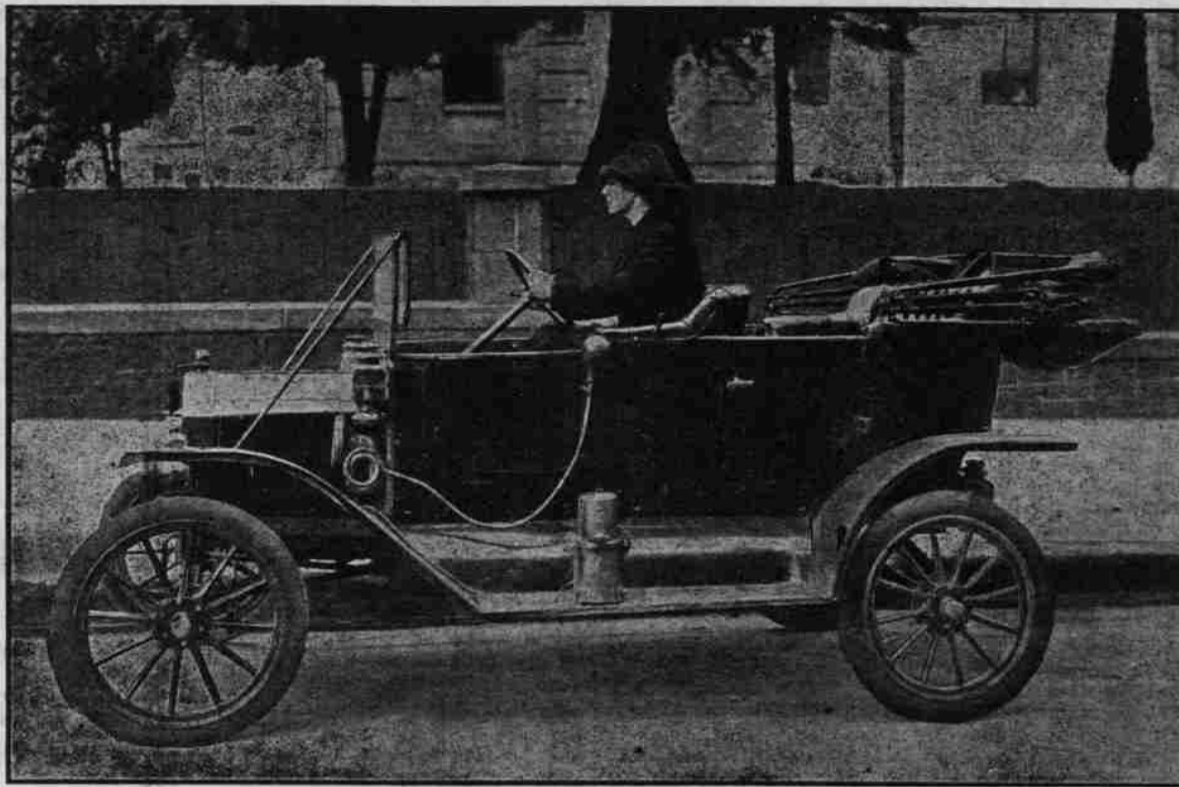

Where the Minister Was Wrong.

"The minister prayed at my bedside," said the gentle old lady. "He thanked the Lord for giving me so much patience to bear my afflictions, but I told him I didn't have a spark of patience. What I did have were friends and kindly visitors and flowers and fruit and tender messages sent in every day to tell me that folks cared about me still. It wasn't my patience that carried me through; it was the goodness of other people."—Newark News.

THE GREATEST MAN.

The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution, who resists the sorest temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms, most fearless under menace and frowns and whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching.—William Ellery Channing.

The Riato.

The architect of the famous Riato bridge, in Venice, was Antonio da Ponte. The bridge is a single arch, ninety feet in length, and is exceedingly strong and graceful. It is crossed by means of ascending and descending steps, while on the top are two ranges of shops, dividing the structure into three parallel streets.

POTATO DEMAND INCREASES DAILY

As a result of the continued good Southern demand and a more general disposition to sell on the part of the farmers, Oregon potatoes now are moving more freely than was the case a week or a month ago. Buyers for the distant markets report trade in the country still lighter than usual at this time of the year, but the outlook now is for a more active movement from this time on to the end of the season.

"The growers are beginning to realize that it would be poor policy to hold off the market altogether now and later unload in such a way as to break it altogether," said a dealer. "The farmers can now get fair prices for all the good stock they care to dispose of—from $1 to $1.25 a hundred for Burbanks, according to quality—and there is no doubt that by moderate selling they can take care of the market.

"On the other hand, if the growers were to maintain their bullish attitude and refuse to sell, and a month or two later suddenly decide to let go, the chances are that the market would go completely to pieces. We would not advise too free selling at this time, but it is clearly the course of wisdom for the farmers now to dispose of a part of their holdings in order that the surplus toward the end of the season may not be so heavy as to overburden the market."

Practically all the potatoes now going out are being sent to California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. California, however, is taking only strictly fancy stock, for that state is still well supplied with the cheaper grades of home-grown products. In the states on the Mexican border the prospect is for a continued fair demand for Oregon, and local dealers say there is no doubt that the surplus in this state can be disposed of in the few months that remain of the present season, if the crop is wisely marketed. In some quarters the belief prevails that prices will gradually improve as the season advances.
