"GREATEST PLAYS I EVER SAW," AS MIGHT BE TOLD BY FAMOUS MEN.

During the baseball season of 1911 story after story of "The Greatest Play I Ever Saw," by well known ball players, was published by numerous newspapers. Now some baseball humorist has come across with a few remarks on this subject as they might be told by diamond celebrities as follows:

Joe Cantillon—John Anderson's slide to second with the bases filled.

John McGraw—Fred Merkle's failure to touch second.

Bill Finneran—Sherwood Magee's strikeout when he made a hit off the umpire.

Clark Griffith—Jack Chesbro's wild pitch which cost New York a pennant.

Rube Marquard—Frank Baker's home run off Mathewson.

Christy Mathewson—Frank Baker's home run off Marquard.

Fleider Jones—When the ball hit Dave Altizer's head and was caught, giving Dave an assist and putout.

Silk O'Loughlin—When a Philadelphia policeman prevented Sam Crawford catching a fly ball in a seventeen inning game in 1908.

Bill Donovan—Schmidt's passed ball in the Detroit-Cub series, 1907, which cost us a game.

Bill Klem—Larry Doyle's failure to touch the plate in the fifth world's series game. No one else saw it.

Tim Hurst—Kid Elberfeld's attempt to score from second through the pitcher's box.

Connie Mack—Ames' throw in the last world's series game. The ball hit Barry on the head, and four runs scored.

STAFFORD.

This vicinity has been sadly afflicted in the past 10 days. First Albert Turner died after a long illness, an account of his death appearing in last week's Enterprise, then after a few weeks of sickness and when all thought he was better and had been out of bed that day, his brother, Herbert, suddenly died Monday night and the sad news had just reached the neighbors the next morning when the news came that Perry Sharp had committed suicide. He left the house before dinner Monday which was the last seen of him alive. When he did not return that night it was thought he had gone over to see Herbert Turner and had stayed to sit up with him.

On Tuesday, Walter, a brother, just happened to stroll through a thicket beyond the barn, when he came upon the dead body, about 24 hours after he was last seen alive. He had taken off his coat and vest and hung them on the fence and shot himself under the chin, blowing off the whole top of his head. A number of years ago he had a severe sick spell when he exhibited signs of some affliction of the brain and after he was able to be up and out of doors and since has had numerous spells of appearing absent in mind, and at times not physically well, but nothing of this kind was ever thought of. He was this year appointed as road supervisor. At first he refused to accept but friends who did not know how he was mentally and having a great respect for his honesty and integrity, urged him to accept, which he finally did, and from that time he was troubled for weeks at a time with piles of brush, sled loads of wood, loose plank with upturned spikes and other debris of various sorts. What's the matter with our road commissioner?

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Motts, who have been spending the winter with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hoffman, have returned to their home in Minnesota.

The McGoogan 140-acre dairy ranch has been sold to Contractor Shipley, of the Bull Run power plant.

Some of the main public highways are obstructed for weeks at a time with piles of brush, sled loads of wood, loose plank with upturned spikes and other debris of various sorts. What's the matter with our road commissioner?

A very successful parent-teachers' meeting was held at the Kelson school house on Monday afternoon. Quite a number of parents attended. A short program was given by the school, and instructive talks by Supervisor Anderson, which were followed by remarks from the parents present. The sentiment expressed was in favor of a High school at Sandy. There was also an excellent display of school work.

EAGLE CREEK.

Roy Douglass and Miss Rosa Moehnke were married last Wednesday in Oregon City and on Thursday Roy returned to the home of Ed. Douglass with his bride and that evening about 10:30 a crowd of seven-teen men and boys gathered near the house with dynamite, guns, bells, cans, etc., and gave them a noisy reception. They used so much dynamite in creating a noise that four large window panes were broken. Roy treated the charivari crowd to oranges, bananas, cake, pie, and cigars.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass are living on the E. L. Palfrey place.

Mrs. H. H. Hoffmeister is on the sick list.

Mrs. L. A. Woodie spent a couple of days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howlett, last week.

R. B. Gibson butchered four hogs the first of the week, shipping them to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Douglass and Ed. Chapman were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. DeShazer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Udell and children took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gibson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cook, of Damascus, were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Howlett the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass were Barton visitors Tuesday.

SPRINGWATER.

Miss Elvada Schmidt, who accidentally shot herself four weeks ago, is improving and will soon be able to be out again.

Last Tuesday evening the Springwater Social Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bard to hold their semi-monthly meeting.

The two basket ball teams went to Estacada Saturday night and two interesting games were witnessed. The boys game scored 23-27 in Estacada's favor; the girls scored 45 in favor of Springwater. Those who played in the boys' team were Howard Smith, C. Harold Horner, r. f.; Roy Wilcox, l. f.; Fred Horner, r. f.; Earl Kilgore, l. f.; Guy Wilcox and Ernest Genserowski, substitutes. The players in the girls' team were Margaret Wilcox, c.; Grace Closser, r. f.; Mary Harvey, l. f.; Ethel Keller, l. f.; Ethel Closser, r. f.; Susie Reid and Pearl Smith, substitutes.

Charles Kandle, who is attending the Gresham high school, was home on a visit last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guthridge are proud parents of a baby girl, born February 13th.

Special violin music next Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church by Mr. and Mrs. Awe. Some new Latin quartets are being taught at singing school on Friday evenings and an invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

The County Local Institute will be held here March 9th at the school house.

MOUNTAIN VIEW.

Claude Baty, of Vancouver, was visiting his parents who live on Duane street, Tuesday.

James Shelly and wife have moved into Frank Bullard's house with Mr. Etchison and family.

E. T. Beverlin and family are moving into the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Shelly.

FIRWOOD.

Among the Firwoodites who attended the Educational Rally at Sandy Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, J. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. A. Malar, Jr., A. Malar, Sr. and Mrs. Wm. Bosholm, Miss Ida Stucki, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hart, J. G. DeShazer, A. C. Milliron, Amiel Motell, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilkins, Miss Mary Motell, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fischer, Mrs. Alt, Mrs. Eva R. Hart, John Sinclair, Mrs. A. J. Moxley and J. Lamper. The meeting was very interesting and no doubt a deeper interest will be taken in the schools hereafter.

The Misses Bachman and Muir of the Sandy schools, attended the debate Saturday evening and were entertained by Mrs. A. Malar.

Mrs. Kell, of Lents, visited the Stucki family the latter part of last week.

A good crowd attended the debate Saturday evening regardless of the rain and all seemed to enjoy the evening exceptionally well, perhaps on account of the effort made to get there. Those speaking on the affirmative side were Mrs. E. D. Hart, leader, Mrs. A. Malar, Charles Howard and A. C. Milliron; on the negative side, Raymond Howe, leader, J. G. DeShazer, J. Howard and A. Malar, Jr. The question was decided in favor of the affirmative. Some very interesting points were brought out on the subject of "Prison Reform and State Support of Prisoners." The valentine box which was opened at the close of the debate, caused considerable amusement as each one was called upon to read aloud the verses on their valentines.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Co-operative Creamery Co. was held at Sandy Tuesday afternoon. The officers elected at the previous meeting for the ensuing year were C. W. Canning, president; E. D. Hart, vice president; F. L. Mack, secretary; A. J. Morrison, treasurer; J. G. DeShazer, M. Kleigle and Mr. Keiser, trustees. The Sandy Commercial Club has offered to donate two hundred dollars toward a lot for the building providing it is within the city limits.

Godfried Stucki was on the sick list the first of the week.

T. W. Leekley, of Portland, made a business trip to E. D. Hart's Tuesday.

A. C. Milliron was a Portland visitor the first of the week.

Charles Howard came out from Portland and spent Sunday with his brother at Hood View Orchard.

Since the new creamery is sure of being built a number of people are waking up to the necessity of keeping a good grade of cows.
