

Ladies' Conversation

MRS. B.—Did you notice the distinct styles and patterns in those Ladies' Plain Tailored Spring Suits shown at LEVITT'S Store.

MRS. J.—Yes, I have heard much praise of those suits; on their Fit, Style, Quality, and on my personal investigation found them to be the very latest from New York's best fashion shops.

MRS. B.—I must call at MR. LEVITT'S and see about getting my new Spring suit, as I want something different from the common suits that you find everywhere.

The Long and Short of It.

Shorty McWade—Shure ye are twice as high as meself, an' I kin do more wurruk than ye kin.
Tall Tim—Nothin' strange about that. Ye're neap'er yer job.

CHORUS GIRLS WITH HENRY WOODRUFF IN "THE PRINCE OF TONIGHT" AT HEILIG THEATRE
The Favorite Actor, Henry Woodruff, Will Present His Latest Musical Fantasy, "The Prince of Tonight," at Heilig Theatre, 7th and Taylor Streets, for Four Nights, Beginning Sunday, March 3. Special Price Matinee Wednesday.

One of the most lavish scenic productions ever sent out of Chicago or New York is that of "The Prince of Tonight," the Adams, Hugh and Howard musical fantasy in which Mort H. Singer will present Henry Woodruff at the Heilig Theatre, four nights, beginning tonight. It consists of four gorgeous scenes, contained in three acts. The first act shows the famous resort, "The Breakers," at Palm Beach, Florida, which is later changed in a wonderful transformation effect into the beautiful Delft Forest in the mythical land of Lunlania, where Henry Woodruff as the prince, reigns for the night. The second act shows a magnificent house-boat during the progress of the water fete, and the third act the shore at Palm Beach.

THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S.

THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S.
Famous Farce Opens at Baker Theatre Sunday Matinee.
"The Girl From Rector's," which enjoyed a run of over 300 nights in New York, will be seen at Baker Theatre all this week, opening Sunday matinee.
The work is by the author of "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge," whose stay at the Circle Theatre was second only to that of "The Girl" at Weber's Music Hall.
The New York Herald declared it to be the most entertaining vehicle ever presented at Weber's and that it would probably live for many years to come.

The New York Herald declared it to be the most entertaining vehicle ever presented at Weber's and that it would probably live for many years to come.

"The Girl" broke every record at that play house, surpassing by many thousands of dollars the figures reached by Weber and Fields when theirs was the most popular music hall in all America.

EDITOR WORKS FOR HOME INDUSTRIES

SCENE FROM "TWO WOMEN" AT HEILIG THEATRE MARCH 7, 8, 9.
Mrs. Leslie Carter Will Present Rupert Hughes' Drama, "Two Women," at the Heilig Theatre, Portland, for Three Nights, Beginning Next Thursday, March 7, With a Special Price Matinee Saturday.

Mrs. Leslie Carter comes this season to the Heilig Theatre for three nights, beginning Thursday, March 7th, her first engagement here in two seasons, with a play that has served her well, as this is her second season in it. The play is "Two Women" and will present Mrs. Carter in the dual role as Jeannette Moreau and Jeannette Bartet, two distinct types to which Mrs. Carter gives the distinction of her incomparable art. She has received praise as exalted as any she has received for her impersonations of Zaza and Mme. Du Barry and the role of Jeannette is not unlike them. Jeannette is the same type of woman as Zaza. Jeannette, on the contrary, is from a better station in life and is good, true and pure, but dies of consumption. The other woman is her physical counterpart and is reclaimed by the reflection of Jeannette's goodness and nobility of character, being brought in contact with the good surroundings of Jeannette's life.

GRANGE TOLD HOW TO CARE FOR FRUIT TREES

The Maple Lane Grange held one of its most successful meetings Saturday. The morning session was devoted to business and the election of delegates to the County Grange Convention to be held in this city March 5, when delegates will be elected to the State Grange Convention to be held at Eugene on the second Tuesday of May. The delegates will be: A. J. Lewis, Miss Emma Roman, Mrs. Louise Beard, and the alternates are G. W. Dimick, Mrs. D. F. Adcock and Mrs. O. A. Swallow.
At noon a delicious dinner was served by the women. O. E. Freytag, county fruit inspector of Clackamas county, and A. C. Goodrich, of Yamhill county, commissioner of the First Horticultural District of Oregon, gave excellent talks on the spraying, pruning and caring for fruit trees. The speeches were followed by one of the best programs ever given by the grange. The program was as follows:
Song, "Bud and Bloom."
Roll call and response, "Does Borrowing Money Pay?"; recitation, "The Farmer Men," Dottie Swallow; "Commission Form of Government," William Beard; recitation, "Two Little Kittens," Annette Adcock; recitation, "Baby Adcock," speech, "Civil Service," G. W. Dimick, leader, and followed by A. J. Lewis, William Beard, who also talked on this subject; recitation, "My Big Sisters Beau," Sammy McLarty; "Does Woman Invasion of the Business Field Improve Home Condition?" this being introduced by Mrs. Myrtle Barto, and the volunteer speakers being Mrs. Nellie Gardner, Mrs. D. F. Adcock, Mrs. William Beard, G. W. Dimick and A. J. Lewis; recitation, "The Razor Back Hog," Miss Emma Roman. The roll call for next meeting will be "The Most Noted Woman."
