SATURDAY CLUB TO GIVE SILVER TEA

The Saturday Club met at the Congregational church parlors Monday evening, the hostesses being Mrs. Don James and Mrs. Walter Wentworth. The assembly room was prettily decorated with evergreens and carnations. Delicious refreshments were served. Among the business transacted was the arranging for a silver tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Latourette the latter part of the month, she to be assisted in entertaining them by Mrs. H. O. Stevens. Mrs. F. S. Follansbee, Mrs. A. B. Wilnot, Mrs. W. A. White and Miss Muriel Stevens. A play entitled "The Burglar Alarm" will be given. It was also decided to purchase a carpet for the church, the committee appointed to select it being composed of Mrs. Charles D. Latourette, chairman, Mrs. Ralph McGetchie and Miss Muriel Stevens. The carpet will be bought before Easter Sunday. The next meeting of the club will be held April 1, with Mrs. W. A. White and Mrs. Melvin McCord, the latter of Portland, the hostesses. Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. W. A. White, Mrs. Ralph McGetchie, Mrs. John McGetchie, Mrs. James Roake, Mrs. John Crawford, Mrs. Richard Freytag, Mrs. John Lowry, Mrs. Don James, Mrs. Walter Wentworth, Mrs. Charles Blum, of Portland, Miss Jean White, Miss Muriel Stevens, Miss Clara Caulfield, Miss Edna Caulfield, Mrs. Melvin McCord, Miss Belle Mattley, Miss Orpha Freytag, Miss Porter, Miss Romie, Miss Clarissa Zumwalt, Mrs. William McLarty, Mrs. Charles D. Latourette, Rev. Edwards and Don James, Jr.

HOP MARKET SLOW; PRICES GOING UP

The hop market is showing one of the queerest situations known in many years. While some interests are extremely bearish regarding spot goods, they are boosting contracts for futures. On the other hand, those that are holding aloft the price of hops are swearing that the contract market is lower. The situation abroad is causing some concern to the hop trade. Labor troubles in England have reached an acute state and this has a direct effect upon the buying of both spot and contract hops by foreigners. Labor troubles at home are likewise serious, and American brewers are therefore moving rather slowly in their purchases for the future. On the other hand, stocks of hops held by beer makers are very small everywhere, and it therefore appears as if the brewers will be forced into the market again against their will. Present indications are that they will hold out as long as possible, in the hope of unfavorable affecting values.
