Torture.
"Do you mean to tell me that you believe women are able to bear up more heroically than men under torture?"
"I do. Where is there a man who could wear a tight corset even for a day?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Balked.
Lawyer for Defendant—Now, sir, you say that my client disappeared in the darkness after knocking you down. What time of night was this? Complainant—I can't say exactly. Your client had my watch.—Life.

Merely a Look In.
"I'm not getting a fair show," growled the one night stand operatic comedian.
"Ah, cheer up!" said the prima donna. "Meditate on what the audience is getting!"—Puck.

THOMASON EXPLAINS CONTEST TO PUPILS

Calvin C. Thomason, field manager of the Children's Industrial Contests, addressed the pupils of the high school and the higher grades of the other schools Friday on the competitions in agriculture, horticulture, etc., arranged by the State Superintendent of Schools Alderman. Merchants and professional men have donated prizes for the children in this city and county. Mr. Thomason explained the work in detail and the children became enthusiastic over the proposed plan. The children will have exhibits at the state and county fairs.

Mr. Thomason also spoke at the Gladstone, Parkplace and Willamette schools.

KENT WILSON HOST OF KNIGHTS OF KING

The Knights of King Arthur, of the Presbyterian church, were entertained Friday evening by Kent Wilson at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson. The evening was devoted to the Shakespearean plays and the following program was presented: "Life of Shakespeare," Clyde Green; "Macbeth," Gilbert Morris; "Julius Caesar," Ray Morris; "Merchant of Venice," John Beadle; "Hamlet," Kent Wilson; "Twelfth Night," Joe Hedges.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wilson.

DIMICK'S POLICE CHIEF TO SUE CITY

Charles E. Burns said Friday that he would file suit for his salary as chief of police for February. Burns was appointed chief by Mayor Dimick but the council refused to confirm the appointment. Burns has employed and attorney and the papers are being prepared. The council, which is behind E. L. Shaw, for chief, will pass an ordinance appropriating $100 for the payment of Shaw's salary for each month he works.

NOVEL COSTUMES OBTAINED FOR IRISH MASQUERADE

The Irish Masquerade Ball to be given Saturday evening, March 16th, in Busch's Hall is attracting considerable attention. Portland costumers have been levied upon wholesale, and in some instances Chicago has been called upon to supply the costumes of persons determined to be original.

A contingent from Milwaukee has arranged to appear in early colonial dress, while those from Aurora and Canby are planning to appear as Indian characters from Fenimore Cooper's novels. Manager Price is arranging for several novel stunts in dances, both before and after unmasking. All indications point to a bigger attendance than ever before.

"Father Of Oregon"

Rev. A. Hildebrand, pastor of St. John's church, is in receipt of a poem written by P. F. McGee of Salem. A letter accompanying the verses says: "Thoughts beside Dr. McLoughlin's grave in St. John's church yard at Oregon City. 'My dear Father Hildebrand you have labored well and lovingly to enhance and perpetuate the memory of that great and good man, therefore I enclose these few lines expressing my feelings in relation to his worthy life in Oregon City, Oregon. I know the tribute is unworthy and do with it as you will.'"

It was a glorious Sabbath day,
All nature whispered God's good will;
Bright sunshine chased the mists away
From lowly vale and wooded hill.

All spoke of peaceful joy and love,
Most beautiful the varying scene;
The vale below and hills above,
And the great river down between.

I saw the bluff's gigantic walls,
That mark the railroads curving way;
I heard the murmur of the Falls,
Where trembling waters turn to spray.

I stood beside the humble grave,
Where vines entwine and flowers grow,
And saw the sunlight kiss the wave
Of loved Willamette far below.

The silent clay here, once could call
From many a stream and distant wood,
The wandering red man to his hall:
Their hearts all knew him just and good.

God bless the soul whose dust is here,
Oh! many, many yet will pray;
The brave kind soul that had no fear,
But fear of God least it should stray!

Oh! "Great White Chief" your memory thrills
All Christian souls through future years:
Your monument these rock bound hills
Your grave made green by nature's tears!

No thirst for power nor greed for gold
E'er stained the thorny path you trod;
Your generous heart did ever hold

Most ardent love for man and God.

Dear land of mountain hill and plain,
And highest hopes of sons all free;
May love with justice ever reign,
And his great life be guide, for thee!
