

ANOTHER BUSY DAY GONE BY AT LEVITT'S STORE

The second day like the first day has broken all records in the history of this store. Like a swarm of bees, busy buyers can be seen coming and going from this selling out sale. It is not a question of money with us, it is a QUICK DISPOSAL of the DRY GOODS, LADIES SUITS, FURNISHINGS and SHOES. TO CLEAN UP FOR our early opening of an up-to-date exclusive mens' and boys' store. They all go at most any price. Don't delay, get there with the crowd and hurry as everything goes quick at very low prices.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

Morning Enterprise.
To the editor:—The Woman's Club of Oregon City have landscape designs for McLoughlin Park that require all the present ground for development, a rustic bridge across the gulch, and the rocky point for a statue of McLoughlin looking down on the city and river he loved. This will be dwarfed and ruined in effect by any larger structure close by, and the building rather than the statue will dominate the park. Since the women have done so much, better let them have that park for a beauty spot in which all will delight, a point of pride and memorial to the founder not only of the city but of the state as well.
On the other hand the Seventh Street Park, is yet without a name, the location is ideal and will give the library spacious setting of extraordinary beauty. In time those trees will become large, and the library, vine embowered will give Oregon City a second beauty spot, with its fountain and cool rustic spots where students may linger and villagers gather on summer evenings at Carnegie Park. I have seen libraries in many eastern cities, the center of parks precisely like that, the main feature and not secondary to any other building, scheme or statue whatever. Carnegie Park is the place for the Carnegie Library, in the center of population, accessible to all the schools, in fact a part of the Oregon City school system.

Park the tennis court could remain as at present and an ornamental band stand would find an appropriate location on the Seventh Street edge of McLoughlin Park, far enough away not to disturb the quiet of the library.

The library steps should be wide enough to serve for a rostrum for speakers and the union Sunday evening services in summer time with seats under the trees in front. A lecture room in the library should by all means be a feature of the Carnegie centre, to be used at all and any seasons of the year, free to the public. In time this would develop into a great intellectual center for young and old to listen to illustrated lectures on art, science and subjects of popular interest.
Yours truly,
EVA EMERY DYE.

OREGON CITY SCOUTS HEAR BADEN-POWELL

About twelve members of the Boy Scouts of the Congregational church in charge of Major Noble attended the big meeting conducted by General Baden-Powell of England, who originated this society, at the Gipsy Smith tabernacle in Portland Saturday. Other boys from the various churches of this city also attended. The boys enjoyed the meeting and are more enthusiastic than ever before over the work.

The gymnasium in the basement of the Congregational church has been opened to the Boy Scouts. After the regular business session Friday evening the boys indulged in gymnastics. It is planned to organize Young Men and Girl Scout Clubs. The basement of the Congregational church has been renovated, and it is planned to have all scout organizations meet there. It is well heated and well lighted.

HOP CONTRACTS HAVE FURTHER ADVANCE

Hop market contracts are showing a further advance of 10c a pound for one year's growth. Bids as high as 27c a pound are now confirmed. The higher offers are coming from legitimate sources which are really after the supplies and therefore do not represent the interests that always try to create artificial values. Bids at 26c a pound for the 1912 crop are numerous and there has been a gradual stiffening of quotations during the past week. Both domestic and foreign interests are negotiating for 1912 hops and all are seemingly anxious to take hold.

The market for spot goods is quiet but rather firm. A nominal amount of business is said to be passing at full prices previously paid, but the exact transactions are being kept secret. Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:
