HELP BOOST CITY.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to visit Portland from Eastern cities during the Elks Convention in July. Oregon City is nearest to Portland and the Publicity Committee of the Commercial Club intends having a large percentage of these people visit Oregon City, some of whom, it goes without saying, will be sufficiently interested to stay with us, either business, professionally or otherwise.

Oregon City like all other western cities, needs continual installments of new blood in order to keep the wheels of progress moving. The city is now in an era of advancement beyond the expectancies of even the most optimistic members of the Publicity Committee. There are more things being done, expected and promised than ever before in its history. Everyone seems to place his shoulder to the wheel and do his part. That is what is bringing the results which are now sure to follow.

When the Elks and their friends come we should be ready to receive and entertain them.—To show them Oregon City wants them. That we have more natural advantages than any other place on the Coast, if not in the country. All we need is new blood, new capital and the resulting new industries, need for labor and pay roll. Anyone who has friends in Eastern cities looking toward the west can have literature sent them without charge by leaving addresses with the Publicity Department.

Men of families are needed daily at the paper mills and it is the desire of the Publicity Committee as also the mill managements to get for these vacancies men of proper calibre to be an aid in the advancement of the city.

NAGLE DEFENDS TAFT'S POLICIES

"It was conceivable fifty years ago that as result of our internal strife there might be two republics," he said. "It is conceivable today that if some of the suggestions put forward at this time are to prevail the question may arise whether or not there shall be one republic." "Against such a contingency it behooves every citizen to set his face in absolute disregard of every other consideration, personal or political." The efforts of President Taft to carry out the pledges of the party, he said, had brought no aid from his Republican detractors.

MEHRLICHT CLUB HAS ENTERTAINMENT

Bay view work was the feature of the regular meeting of the Mehrlicht Club held at the home of J. M. Hamilton Monday evening. The club is studying Africa and Australia this season. Following was the program: "Cairo on the Nile," Mabel Toose; "Some types of Egyptian Women," Mamie Burrows; "The Egyptian Universities and Revolution in Egypt," Gladys McCoy; Scotch songs, Mrs. A. Matheson. Miss Gertrude Fairclough played "Paderewsky's Minuet." Dainty refreshments were served. The following were present: Misses Alma Moore, Florence Moore, Mamie Burrows, Gladys McCoy, Gertrude Fairclough, Mabel Toose, Gertrude Hamilton and Myrtle Hamilton, and Mrs. A. Matheson.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID MISS MARTHA GROSS

The funeral of Miss Martha Gross was held at the Willamette church Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. A. M. Dart. The church was crowded with friends of the young woman. The interment was made in the Stafford cemetery, many friends following the remains to the grave. The floral tributes were beautiful. Henry Bowers, George Bowers, Edgar Miller, Gus Miller, Pearl Overton, Herman Lavancher were the pallbearers. Miss Gross was born April 24, 1887, in Sputh, North Dakota, and came to Oregon with her parents, Gottlieb and Christina Gross, when she was about one year old. The family first settled at Stafford, where they remained un-

Corporations Today Do Not Form Monopolies to Raise Prices

By Judge PETER S. GROSSCUP of Chicago

WHEN more than two centuries ago our ancestors ripened into a capacity for FULL PERSONAL FREEDOM competition was the law of the land. When more than a century ago they ripened into a capacity for SELF GOVERNMENT it was the law of the land. In 1896, when we became a COMMERCIAL WORLD POWER, the law of the land had to be brought up even with the march of industry with the adaptation of the world's monetary standard. We are again in the midst of a period where the law is behind in both human and economic aspects, the moving column of the nation's life. In the proceedings against the harvester trust in Chicago it was shown that the trust sold machinery CHEAPER to the farmers; that it was better machinery and that repairs, a very important consideration, were much EASIER AND CHEAPER than formerly, but that in spite of this the courts held that it was objectionable for the manufacturers of harvesting machinery to get together and act in concert. That was GOOD law two hundred years ago. It was good ONE HUNDRED YEARS BEFORE WASHINGTON. Then it was generally assumed that men got together for the sole reason that they intended to form a monopoly and raise prices. They do not get together for these purposes now.

ENJOY WHAT YOU CAN. To be soured by poverty or to be hardened by it is a mistake, an error of thought. Instead of enjoying our life we are cramping ourselves. It is as if we were set at a feast and sulkily refused to enjoy a few dishes because we could not reach everything on the table and make ourselves sick, like foolish children that we are.—Bliss Carman.

His Conscience. Fierce as he was, the infamous Chief Justice Jeffreys did not always escape the sting of a reprobate. He went to a country assize once where an old man with a great beard came to give evidence, but had not the good fortune to please the judge, so he quarreled with his beard and said, "If your conscience is as large as your beard you'll swear anything." The old blade was nettled and briskly returned, "My lord, if you go about measuring consciences by beards your lordship has none."

til about four years ago, when they moved to Willamette. Miss Gross had been ill for several months. She is survived by her parents and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Minnie Fallinger of Sacramento; Mrs. Pauline Teskie, of North Dakota; Mrs. Louise Chapman, of Winters, Cal.; Ferdinand, Adolph, Mike, Guy and Edward Gross, of Oregon City; Samuel Gross, of Hartman, Wash.

HOLIDAY FAVORS.

St. Valentine and Washington Birthday Novelties.

SENTIMENTAL AND PATRIOTIC FAVORS.

A pretty table set for a valentine luncheon has a centerpiece formed of a low bowl of Boston buds, the small, fragrant pink roses which because of their short stems are less expensive than most kinds. In this asparagus fern is thrust plentifully. A pink ribbon is tied around the bowl, with a big bow at one side, and from this come out narrow strips of pink ribbon to each place, where they are attached to a place card. If the luncheon is a small one four candles—if large, six—are used for lighting, shaded with fancy pink shades.

If possible have original sketches in ink or water color on the place cards, or they might be made of pink cardboard, cut heart shape, with the name and an appropriate verse printed on them. They should be made to look like valentines as much as possible. A tiny pink envelope addressed to each guest might be found at the places, with a valentine inside. If the place cards are place cards only more fun and interest will result if a valentine is tucked away at each place also. The heart shaped valentine illustrated is provided with a cardboard back so that it may be used as a dinner or luncheon place card. The patriotic candle shades are especially made for Washington's birthday parties and are in the form of cherry tree trunks with openings at the top for the tall candles.

Ribbon Trimmed Hats. A hint of what may be expected in hat trimmings may be gleaned from the chic model pictured. This is a between seasons model. It is said that ribbon of soft and beautiful colorings and combination of colorings will adorn the smartest of the early spring hats.

Not a Bad Precedent. Some of the beauties of ancient Rome had marble busts sculptured of themselves, on which were placed different wigs corresponding to the change of style and coloring. If modern woman followed suit there would be fewer atrocious coiffures.

A mirror should reveal unbecomingness, but it does not seem to do so. A bust of oneself, bedecked with chignon, Psyche, Greek coils or the present dauntless type disfigurements, could not fail to be a convincing proof of ourselves as others see us.

The greatest beauty cannot afford to trifle with her hairdressing. It is only the plain woman who boldly defies looks to be in the style.

New Fancy Work. A new and engaging set of fancy work is the crocheting of chain mesh bags in gold, silver or other metal threads. The top of the bag is finished in a shell or picot stitch, and if a very elaborate affair is desired the same decoration is used at the sides and lower edge. It is doubtful, however, if the extra frills are an improvement. The finished product is lined with satin and drawn up by a cord and tassel.

Candle shades and other Frenchy little things are evolved in the same way, and those who have become adepts in the art are never at a loss for gifts.

Killing a Robin. There are persons at the present day—and not all old women, either—who believe that killing a robin will bring bad luck. According to ancient belief, the storm cloud was a huge bird. The Arabians represented his wings as measuring 10,000 fathoms. This bird lived on worms, the latter being the streaks of lightning accompanying storms. The Germans remodelled the fiction by creating the god Thor, whose bird was the robin. Consequently to kill a robin first meant death by lightning, then bad luck.

"Hylo" Economical Turn Down Lamps Save 85 per cent. of current when the small, one-candle-power filament is burning. Useful as an all-night light in hallway, bedroom, bathroom, or elsewhere in the house. Fit any ordinary socket. A gentle pull on one string gives the full 16 candle-power; on the other, the low light or out as desired. Save their cost the first month. PORTLAND RAILWAY, LIGHT & POWER CO. RALPH ROSE IS TRAINING.

World's Champion Shot Putter Expects to Be Member of Olympic Team.

Can he come back? Ralph Rose, the greatest sixteen pound shot putter the world has ever seen, is in training for the Olympic trials in San Francisco May 18. The Rose of today is hardly a faded Rose of yesterday; but, on the contrary, his former well known figure was but a shadow of what he is at the present time.

Today the mighty Rose weighs 310 pounds. His chest measurement is fifty-five inches, while his waist is a mere trifle of fifty inches. When in his prime Ralph always tipped the scales at over 250 pounds, and he stated recently that with the severe course of training that he intends to go through he can make his old weight without any trouble.

If Rose gets back into shape and is able to come near his world's record with the sixteen pound shot there should be no doubt that he will be named on the Olympic team to represent this country in Stockholm. The Right Form For Dinner Invitations. The following is the proper form for a formal dinner invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Everett request the pleasure of your company at dinner on at o'clock.

The blanks are to be filled in with the name or names of the invited guests, the date and the hour.

An invitation to luncheon is in all most the same wording:

Mrs. Thomas Russell requests the pleasure of Mrs. Palmer's company at luncheon on Monday, May 4, at 1:30 o'clock.

The name of the guest and the town and date are filled in, as in the dinner invitation. For a musicale the same form may be used, but the at home card is preferred:

Mrs. Sutherland At Home Tuesday evening, May the first, at nine o'clock.

This card may be ordered of the stationer, leaving the date, hour and form of entertainment to be filled in in writing, or it may be entirely engraved. Women who entertain a good deal always keep a supply of these cards on hand. Visiting cards are used for teas or small afternoon musicals:

Mrs. John Smith, Tuesday, May 4. Music at 4:30. 15 F street.

Points to Remember. When the luncheon guests are ladies exclusively the hostess leads the way to the dining room, where places are chosen at will or fixed by dainty plate favors with the names inscribed on one side.

Many hostesses prepare for an informal musical and literary program following luncheon.

The hostess driving with another woman in a closed carriage allows her guest to take the choice of seats by giving her precedence in entering the carriage.

Nearly all new coats have large collars, and the newest have the long only shoulder width and almost hidden by an immense white fur skin. Cutaway coat effects are meeting with considerable favor.
