Oregon City ENTERPRISE

Maker of
BLANK BOOKS
LOOSE LEAF SYSTEMS

The Morning Enterprise is the best breakfast food you can have.

Well Trained.
Hub (angrily)—What! More money? When I'm dead you'll probably have to beg for all the money you get.
Wife (calmly)—Well, I'll be better off than some poor woman who never had any practice.—Boston Transcript.

The Mexican Letter Writer.
As many of the lower classes in the City of Mexico can neither read nor write, the Mexican letter writer does a thriving business. He writes letters of all kinds—love letters, begging letters—it matters little to him so that he is paid for his work. These men are found in the Plaza of Santo Domingo, a sort of market place, where secondhand articles are for sale.

Milk and Butter.
Milk and butter, so a book called "Good Cheer" tells us, were not always daily necessities, as with us. Our fifteenth century ancestors in England seldom used either. They used great quantities of spices, however, in their food and apparently did not care for the more delicate flavors that suit our palates.

DR. WILEY, PURE FOOD EXPERT, QUILTS OFFICE

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the "pure food man," who is chief chemist of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture, resigned today. Wiley handed his resignation to Secretary Wilson. "Wiley has resigned," said Wilson, "that is all I can say or know."

A powerful manufacturers' lobby has been attacking Wiley but his friends have been standing staunchly by the "pure food man." On learning today that Wiley had resigned, Congressman Murdock of Kansas said:

"No single individual in the country has stood so long, so persistently and so successfully against the special interests. Special privileges have hampered him more than any other individual in the history of the nation. His retirement is a personal loss to almost all of the population of America."

It developed that Wiley a week ago delivered an ultimatum to Secretary Wilson that either Dr. F. L. Dunlap, associate chemist, who was Wiley's antagonist, must quit before today or that Wiley would resign. Wilson would not discharge Dunlap, who refused to resign, and Wiley made good.

Wiley's determination to rule in his department or to get out took form at the time his employment of Dr. H. H. Rusby of New York was investigated. Attorney General Wickersham then recommended that Wiley "merited censure and punishment," but a congressional committee and President Taft exonerated the pure food man.

Wiley's resignation was effective today. Of it he said: "After 29 years in the government service I have had all I want. I have received a dozen offers from all over the country, but have not as yet fully decided which I shall accept. I have promised to deliver a few lectures in Colorado and Nebraska. Then I will consider my future. It will take time."

Dr. D. O. Doolittle, associate chemist of the department will act temporarily as Wiley's successor.

able race. They have now settled down to an established pace and their totals are bound to come up, possibly slowly, but surely.

The third special contest starts this morning, and every entrant in the contest for the big black touring car starts alike in the race for another $15 merchandise certificate on one of the principle stores of the city. This contest will run till March 30, thus giving each entrant a little larger time to win first honors.

Today is the day for those new candidates to enter the game and now is the time for the entrants a little ways down on the list to get busy. Everyone starts out alike for the special prize today, and your chances are as bright as the "other fellows"—Look at Wilson's record. He entered the race just a week ago today and now he stands third on the list for the big automobile. The first day put he polled 20,000 votes which is the record for the number of votes cast in one day. Of course he is a worker "from way back" but you can do just as much as he accomplished. Look at Sheahan—you certainly can come up to his record. And Miss McCord the only girl in the race who is making any kind of a showing. You can do as well or better than any of these workers if you will only get busy right away. Start this morning in "dead earnest, make up your mind that you WILL win, and you WILL win. All it takes is a little time and work on your part. Wouldn't you like to own the big $785 Ford, to say nothing of the special prizes? Here is your "golden opportunity"—make the most of your chance now—today.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYR

LET GO!

Forgetting the things that are behind.

Paul knew humanity. He knew how we cling to the things that are behind and how these things hamper us. They are like the ball and chain the convict drags about with him.

We cling to old clothes. The cast-off garments are of no use to us, but might be to others.

And old letters. Moth eaten, yellow, they should have been burned years ago.

And old furniture. Slippery old chairs and couches, grass cloth covered; lame, decrepit stuff that is stored away because it is old.

There may be some sentimental excuse for clinging to old clothes and letters and garments, but there is none for harboring old resentments and old prejudices, cherishing old hatreds and grievances, keeping alive old disputations, reviving old bickerings.

Let go! They are behind. Forget them.

Why drag such outworn, bygone trash along with you? Many of the ills of life can be cured merely by the method of forgetting them. Why fuss and fume? You sour your disposition and put premature lines in your face. Drop the curtain! You have plenty

"NEWLY WEDS" HAVE FINE ENTERTAINMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Logus entertained the "Newly Weds" Friday evening at whist. The green of Erin was the predominating color of the decorations, in honor of the patron saint of the emerald isle. Hugh Hendri and Miss Bess Daulton won first prizes and the consolation prize was won by A. A. Price. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames W. R. Logus, A. A. Price, Hugh Hendri, C. H. Meissner, M. D. Latourette, George Hankins, Misses Helen and Bess Daulton and Mrs. A. Warner. Delicious refreshments were served.

AVOID EXCESS.

Keep up your spirits by good thoughts, enjoy the pleasant company of your best friends, but in all enjoyments be temperate.

of present day problems to keep you busy.

Paul says, "Forgetting the things that are behind, let us press forward"—Forward! That's a great word. Cut loose from the old troubles. They are behind you and cannot be changed.

The past is turned from us and sleeps. Do not wake it. The future is his, with its thistles and flowers.

Let us drop the vain things of the past. Let us cover them over with the broad mantle of forgetfulness. Let them go—and cling fast to the eternal verities.

Face today with today. We can make it or mar it. The present is ours.

The present is ours. Let us not face today with yesterday. And not only is the present ours, but—

The future is ours! Give away the old clothes and the old chairs to those who need them. Make a bonfire of the stuff that is useless. And forget the old pains and sorrows and hatreds and misunderstandings.

Let go! And press forward.

Creates Kindly Feelings.

"Did you sell your vote?" "No, siree! I voted for that fellow 'cause I liked him." "But I understand he gave you $10." "Well, when a man gives you $10 'tain't no more'n natural to like him, is it?"—Washington Star.

Proverbs of St. Patrick.

Good men ought not to be voluble nor tell a lie, for a lie is a great crime.

Judges who do not judge rightly the judgments of the church are not judges, but falsifiers.

Officers of the church ought not to take gifts, because "gifts blind the eyes of the wise and change the words of the just."

Judges of the church ought not to have the fear of man, but the fear of God, because the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

Those in authority in the church ought not to have the wisdom of this world, for "the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God," but to have the wisdom of God.

It is better for us to admonish the negligent, that crimes may not abound, than to blame the things which have been done. Solomon says, "It is better to reprove than to be angry."

A Chinese Ruse.

Over 2,000 years ago there was a war between China and Mongolia, and China was invaded by a Mongolian army under Mao-tun. The Chinese emperor was besieged in the city of Ping, and when the situation seemed to be hopeless he ordered that a number of lay figures representing beautiful women be made and exposed on the city walls. He then caused a message to be sent to the wife of the Mongolian leader to the effect that these beautiful maidens were intended as a bribe to her husband. The ruse was entirely successful. The siege was raised forthwith and Mao-tun was removed out of the temptation zone by his apprehensive spouse.
