2 CONVICTS DIE IN FIERCE FIGHT

INNOCENT YOUNG MAN ALSO SLAIN IN BATTLE WITH DESPERADOES

THIRD ESCAPED FELON SURRENDERS

Search For Men Who Assassinated
Warden and Two Deputies
Has End On Country
Road

OMAHA, Neb., March 18.—Two of the convicts, John Dowd and John Taylor, alias "Shorty" Gray, who escaped last Thursday from the state penitentiary at Lincoln, and Roy Blunt, an innocent victim of the murder attempt to secure liberty, are dead as a result of an exciting battle between the convicts and officers this afternoon.

Charles Morley, the third member of the trio which escaped from the state prison, after killing three officials of that institution, saved his life by surrendering after an exciting battle over two and a half miles of country.

The three convicts were within striking distance of the goal which they hoped might secure their safety when the final desperate struggle for liberty occurred. They had covered the stretch from Lincoln to within ten miles of the Omaha limits, where they had expected to receive the protection of friends.

Early in the day the telephone operator at Gretna, about 15 miles south of here, gave notice of the presence in that vicinity of the desperate men. This message brought out several posses, one from Omaha, composed of detectives and police officers, another composed of Sheriff McShane and deputies, of this county, a third made up of Sheriff Hyres and his deputies, from Lincoln.

Sheriff Chase, of Sarpy County, and his deputies also were within striking distance, and South Omaha sent two posses under Chief of Police Briggs. The Gretna company of militia was early on the scene.

TYPEWRITING BETRAYS SENDER OF BOMBS

NEW YORK, March 18.—Every available detective at police headquarters is searching today for the man who attempted to kill Judge Otto A. Rosalsky on Saturday night with an infernal machine, sent him through the mails.

Similarity of the typewriting on the package and the manufacture of the missile to that which caused the death on February 2 last of Helen Taylor at her home on Seventy-seventh street has led to the opinion that the same man sent both bombs.

32 ARE KILLED IN BOILER EXPLOSION

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 18.—At least thirty men were killed and parts of their bodies strewn for blocks when a big passenger locomotive in the Southern Pacific shops blew up here this morning.

The locomotive stood in a square formed by a cooper-house, blacksmith shop and roundhouse, all of which were wrecked. A part of the locomotive crashed into a house several blocks away and seriously hurt a woman.

Twenty of the bodies have been identified, but what is believed to be twelve more is little more than a tangled mass of fragments of human flesh and bones that probably never will be separated.

These fragments were found jammed into crevasses about the wrecked building in the streets, and entangled in the machinery of the shops.

Those eight "live wires" who are at the head of the list in the standings of the candidates in the big contest for the $75 Ford are going to put up a pretty struggle for first honors in the third special contest which started Saturday. It certainly will not be one of those "you first my dear Alphonso" affairs, but a royal battle from the start. The special contest prize of a $15 merchandise certificate on one of the principal stores of the city seems to the magnet which draws every entrant to work harder and each one is determined this time to be declared the winner. At the request of some of those in the race the length of this contest will be a little longer than the first, thus giving each entrant a little longer time in which to corral votes.

The prize goes to the one getting the most votes during the 16th and 17th of this month and the former standings of the candidates have no bearing whatever on the result of the race. Of course every vote cast in the special contest helps out in the grand total of the big black touring car, but the prize will go to the one having the largest increase in the 30th of this month and the former standings of the candidates have no bearing whatever on the result of the race. Of course every vote cast in the special contest helps out in the grand total of the big black touring car, but the prize will go to the one having the largest increase in the 30th of this month and the former standings of the candidates have no bearing whatever on the result of the race.

As the only restriction attached to the Enterprise contest is that the candidate must be a resident of this county, everyone living in Clackamas county is eligible to enter the race and win the auto. Right now is the opportune time to enter the game and start working for the 5-passenger car as the longer one delays, the harder they will have to work to catch up with the leaders. As every subscription to the Daily or Weekly Enterprise, whether it is a new subscription or a renewal, is worth its share of votes, it certainly is not hard to get a bunch of votes every day. Of course some days will be better than others but there are thousands of people in all parts of the county who want to subscribe for the county's leading paper and are waiting to give their names to the first one that asks him to subscribe for the paper.

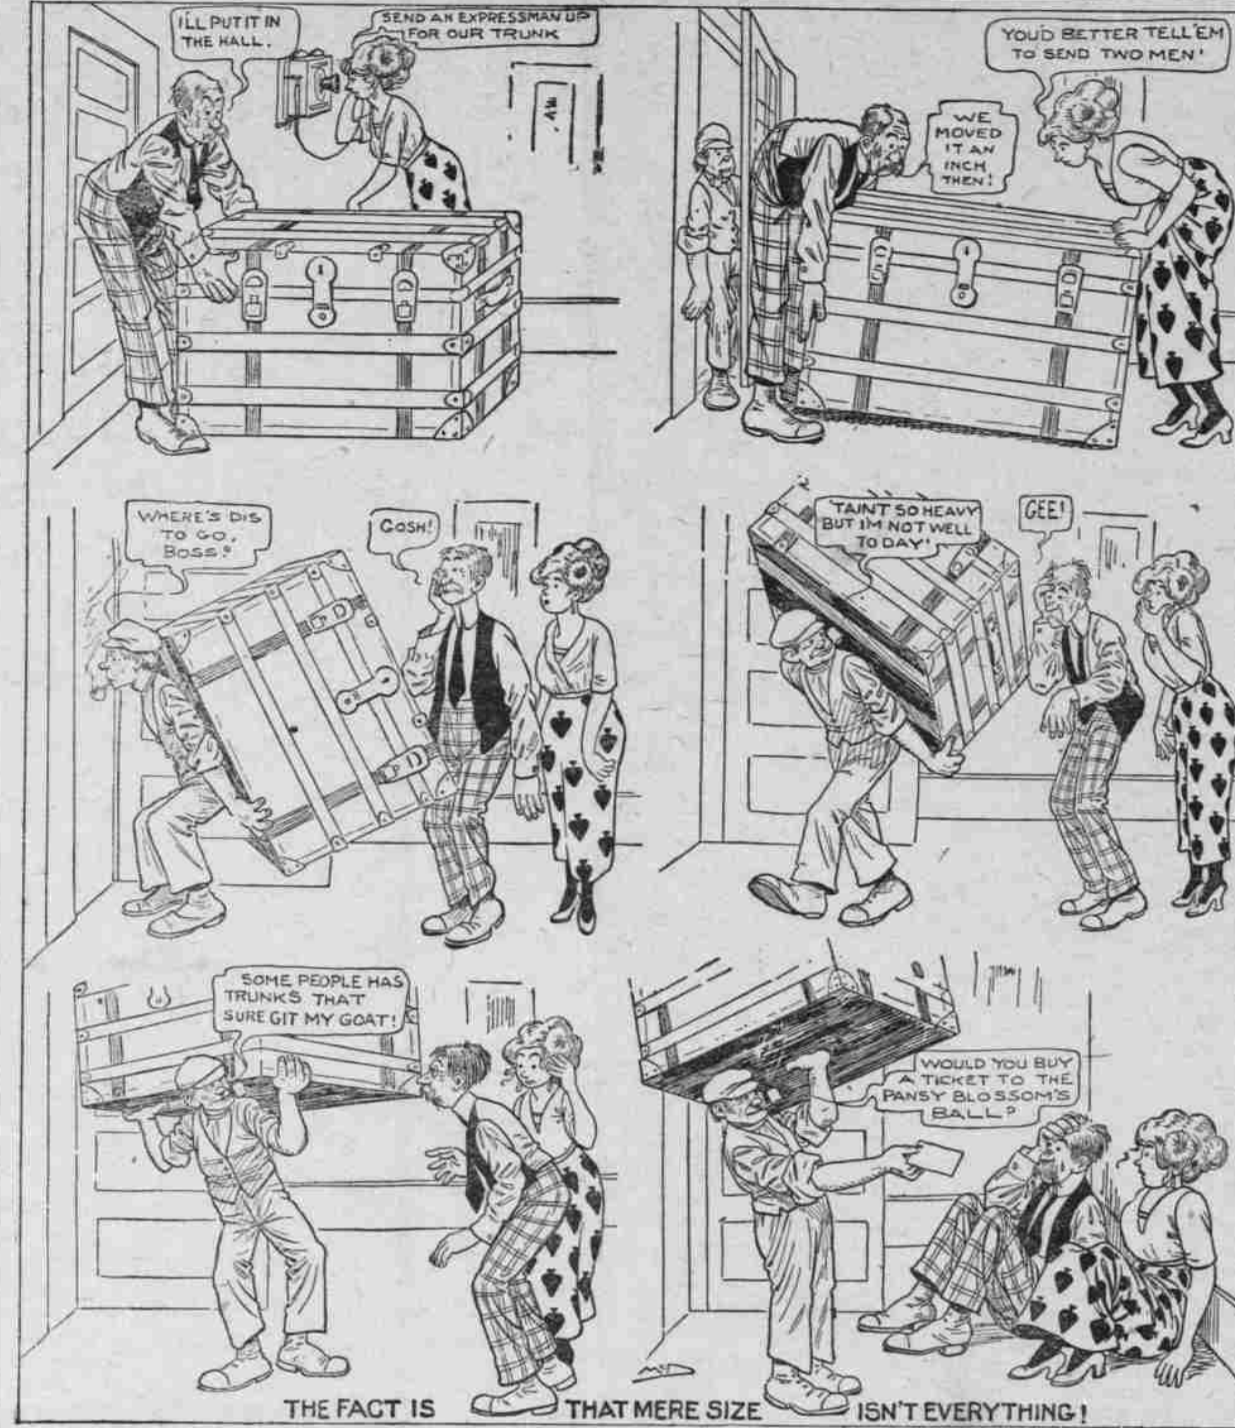

Now the contest editor wants to have a little talk with YOU. Lets eliminate all superlatives and get right down to the heart of this thing. To start out the editor will take for granted that you are an ordinary person, and that you would like to own a new, up-to-the-minute automobile, for where is the man or woman, boy or girl, who doesn't really and truly desire a car, one of which he will be proud. If you have read the Enterprise and purchased a new 1912 Ford automobile which will be given away June 5th, fully equipped with top, windshield, lamps and all, to some resident of this county. This person will be one who polls the largest number of votes by the 5th of June by getting subscriptions to the Enterprise. That is all there is to the story with the exception to the answer of the question—"Who will get the car?" Of course it is impossible to tell now who the winner will be, but if you want the car you can have it. You have the same chance as the other fellow, you have friends who will support you, you have the ability to out-argue and get results and further, you know all these things as well as your friends. But why do you hesitate and let some other person get in and take away from you what would be yours if you will only get in the game and hustle? No matter if this would be the first time you ever entered a contest. You might THINK that you couldn't do anything but you won't know all you can do until you at least try, and the longer you wait the harder it will be for you. If you don't know how to start in, write me a letter in care of the Enterprise, but better than that come in and have a talk with me. Perhaps there start in write me a letter in care of the Enterprise, but better than that come in to have a talk. Perhaps there is some little thing which you do not understand, and if such is the case the contest editor wants to help you out of your difficulty. But the most important thing to do is to make a start—you will never do anything or get any place unless you make a start. So the "one beat bet" is for you to get busy at once, work hard every day, never get discouraged, and you will be surprised at what you can really do.

GUY BOYLAN DIES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Guy Boylan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Winnie Boylan, of Cathlamet, died in the Oregon City Hospital Sunday morning of typhoid fever and complications. The young man was stricken at Cathlamet about nine weeks ago, and was taken to Portland for medical treatment, being at St. Vincent's Hospital for five weeks. About four weeks ago he was brought to Oregon City Hospital. He suffered a relapse Saturday. His parents were with him when he died. The remains were taken to Cathlamet Monday where the interment will take place today. Mrs. W. C. Green, an aunt of the deceased, and Mrs. Pauline Schwartz, grandmother, went to Cathlamet to attend the funeral services. Guy Boylan was born in Oregon City August 23, 1896, and with his parents moved to Cathlamet several months ago. He was a bright and ambitious boy, and had made many friends during his residence at Cathlamet. He is survived by his parents, two sisters and four brothers. He was a nephew of Mrs. W. C. Green and Mrs. Lloyd Williams of this city, and Mrs. Frank White of Portland, and a grandson of Mrs. Pauline Schwartz and Fred Metzner of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. George Boylan, of Seaside.

MORE THAN $500,000 TAXES ARE COLLECTED

More than $500,000 taxes have been paid for 1911, which breaks all previous records. In fact the amount paid exceeds that collected any year heretofore. The increase is due to the increase in state and special levies. Chief Deputy Sheriff Staats said Monday that $172,487.95 was received last Friday, the last day the discount of three per cent was allowed. Property owners who did not take advantage of the discount are availing themselves of the privilege of paying half now and the balance before October 1. They will not be allowed a discount, but will not have to pay a penalty.

HOUSE MOVED QUICKLY THROUGH MAIN STREET

The house which M. Justin bought from the Elks was moved from Fifth street to Eleventh and Main Monday, and traffic on the main thoroughfare will not be impeded today. F. S. Baker, the contractor employed by Mr. Justin, made a remarkable record Monday, and but little inconvenience was caused by the moving of the structure. Street car traffic was only slightly delayed. The house occupied the lot at Sixth and Water streets, which Mrs. Martha Forsberg sold to the Elks. It will be moved to a lot at the northwest corner of Eleventh and Center streets.

FACTS ABOUT PAVEMENTS

The Various Forms in Use and Comparison of their respective features.

COSTLY TO EXPERIMENT

From time to time we hear of other cheap forms of pavement coming on the market, but as with concrete, they should be proven before tried on large work such as planned at Corvallis. Nothing could be worse for the city than to experiment with pavements that have not stood the test of years, and which might result in the property owners paying every year for useless investment. When a balance is struck between these materials as to expense, durability, cleaning, repairing and length of time the streets are obstructed in laying, the result is clearly in favor of bitulithic pavement.—Corvallis Republican, Corvallis, Ore.

GARY AND TOOZE LAUD TEACHERS

FORMER SAYS THEY ARE TOO BUSY TO GO TO CHURCH
REGULARLY

EVANGELISTS DO NOT ATTRACT THEM

"Teachers Who Strive to Make Perfect Lives of Pupils Needn't Worry About Standing As Christians"

F. J. Tooze, superintendent of city schools and T. J. Gary, superintendent of county schools, were the speakers in the Open Forum of the Methodist church Sunday night, the subject being, "Christianity from the Standpoint of the Teacher."

Dr. Ford, the pastor, announced that George C. Brownell would be the speaker next Sunday evening.

Oscar Woodfin sang "Oh Loving Father," Miss Sadie Evelyn Ford accompanying him. Leon DesLarzes gave a violin obligato.

Mr. Gary spoke in part as follows: "Christ never tried to save his own soul. One reason, I take it is because he was too busy trying to save the world. Teachers look upon the Christian as the one strives to help others. The cynic definition of a Christian is a man whose great aim in life is a selfish desire to save his own soul, who in order to do this, goes regularly to church and whose supreme hope is to get to heaven when he dies, is not the teacher's definition.

"Teachers who are striving to make perfect lives out of the thirty or forty children trusted to their care, need not worry about their standing as Christians, for Christ's life was essentially a life of service.

"Teachers as a class do not attend church as often as people think they should. Because of this fact we sometimes hear the statement made that teachers are ungodly. This is not true. I do not know of any class of people who are leading more unselfish lives than those of the teachers.

The reason why they do not attend church more often is found in the fact that they spend most of their energy in the service of others and in mental work and therefore when the Sabbath day comes they want rest or recreation. Another reason is some times found in the quality of sermons they hear when they do attend. One thing noticeable is that the teachers are never seen flocking to church to see a vaudeville act or a circus and down the pulpit and juggle vulgar slang. It may be right for men to do these things but you want to know what teachers think of Christianity and I say that teachers as a class have the faith in most of the sensational, so-called evangelistic work of the church. I, many years ago, went to hear the great Dwight L. Moody preach. I have forgotten what he said but I remember distinctly the great overpowering spirituality of the man. His bearing, his language, his looks, and everything he said and did was so much like what I thought Christ to be that the influence he left was holy. I went to hear another great evangelist and try as I would to dispel the feeling, I came away thinking that it was a great show of the power of the professional hypnotist. I felt that I had seen a magnificent performance without having to pay the price usually charged at the theatre.

"Christ's life was a happy one. This is a statement that you will take exceptions to. You call him the man of sorrows and talk incessantly about his great suffering. His crown of thorns, and all the most bitter, of bitter persecutions. These things are true but where the mistake is made is in talking and thinking about his sorrows and sufferings and brooding over them. The teacher who taught the boys to be good and they would be happy taught a great truth but he failed in this that he did not teach the whole truth. He should have taught what happiness is. Webster says that happiness is the pleasurable experience that springs from the possession of good. Those boys believed the truth that the motto in the life of the teacher. But when they left the school and saw the long faces, the sanctimonious airs, heard the mournful talk of people who were reputed to be the best people in the neighborhood. When they went to church they heard the minister discuss the awfulness of Christ's cross and the suffering he bore from humanity, when they told with sour visage how Christ had been persecuted because he was good, is it any wonder that the boys learned to say to the boys to be good and you will be miserable."

"Be good and you will be miserable." The boys drifted away from the church, the Sunday school, and everything connected therewith. If these boys had been led to do good deeds and thereby experience the pleasurable experience that springs from the possession of good, if they could have been made to feel that the crown of glory overshadowed the cross of pain, if they could have learned that only those who are capable of great suffering can hope to experience great happiness it would, I think have been better for them.

"Do you believe that to be good is to be happy? The test then of your goodness is the happiness that you experience. Do you radiate sunshine wherever you go? Do people when they leave your presence look out and up and toward better things? When they leave your church do you go with a song in their hearts and a light in their eyes? Do the children when they leave your school have a consuming desire to be good and true and noble?"

The Enterprise automobile contest is the most popular thing ever pulled off in the Willamette Valley.

INTOXICATED MEN BATTLE ON CAR

ONE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN STRUGGLE WITH TRAINMEN
AND PASSENGERS

BACK CUT IN FALL THROUGH WINDOW

Boisterous Pair Put Off One Train For Using Obscene Language Board Another—Both Arrested

Two intoxicated men terrorized the passengers of two street cars coming to this city from Portland Monday night, and, during a free-for-all fight, one of the men was seriously wounded. He was brought to this city where he was attended by Dr. Meisner.

The men boarded the 6 o'clock car at the First and Alder street station. They conducted themselves in an orderly manner until they crossed the bridge when they began cursing in a tone so all the passengers could hear them. The conductor warned them to keep quiet, and they did so until just before the car reached Oak Grove when a large portion of the obscene language. When the conductor told them to keep quiet they cursed him, and finally he called the motorman to his assistance. The drunken men were ejected from the car.

They boarded the 6:30 o'clock car, and immediately began using obscene language and daring anyone in the car to engage them in a fight. The conductor warned them, but they paid no attention to him, and finally he, the motorman and several passengers grappled with the men. A desperate struggle resulted, and after the disturbers had been seriously injured by falling through one of the car windows, the men were overpowered. They were brought to this city and turned over to Policemen Green and Frost. The injured man said his name was John Gerhardt. The other man was in such a state of intoxication that he could not give his name. They were locked up and Dr. Meisner was called to attend the injured man. His back is badly cut.

The committee in charge of this work was instructed to appear before the city council at its meeting tonight and to offer an ordinance for the purchase of a proper site within the district mentioned and as the strength behind the committee is so great, proper results are naturally expected. All present resolved to boost for the library site.

MAIN STREET LIBRARY SITE RECOMMENDED

Committees of the Woman's Club and the Oregon City Library Association met in the parlors of the Commercial Club Monday evening. These committees represent more than 125 heads of families of Oregon City and through the efforts of the committees the entire population. After discussing a site for the Carnegie Free Library from every point of view it was decided that the proper location for the building was on Main street near the business section of the city where everyone would be a resident of the Hill section of the West side. Canemah or Gladstone, could readily reach it by car or otherwise and where the men of the city who have no homes could spend their evenings in comfort and in good company.

MAN, CALLED HORSE THIEF, IS ARRESTED

A man who gave his name as F. Nicklin was arrested Monday at Marquam on a charge of stealing a horse from Fred Henrich, of Beaver Creek. The horse was stolen Saturday night and Mr. Henrich notified Sheriff Mass Sunday. The Sheriff telephoned a description of the horse to various parts of the county, and was notified Monday that a horse answering the description of the missing one had been brought to Marquam. Deputy Sheriff Miles went to that place and arrested Nicklin.

CHARTER BOARD ASKS SPECIAL ELECTION

The city council will be urged by the charter board this evening to call a special election to have the revised charter voted on. It is believed that the election will be called. The board, which was appointed by Ex-Mayor Brownell and the city council, has made radical changes in the charter, but it is believed they will meet the approval of the tax-payers. The revised instrument reduces the number of councilmen from nine to five, one from each ward and two from the city at large. It provides that the council shall appoint a business manager of the city and a mayor, the latter to be appointed from one of its members.

HEALTH COMMITTEE TO MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

The committee on health and police of the city council will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening in the council chamber. Chairman Tooze requests all persons who have complaints or suggestions to make regarding health conditions to be present.
